IN RELAXING MOOD

Fulton Hints Federal Okay on Sloan Probe

LAWYER STILL PLANS PROBE INJUNCTION

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lawyer Alfred Bull today was understood to be planning to proceed with his application for an injunction barring the Sloan Royal Commission from investigating charges of graft against former forests minister R. E. Sommers.

Mr. Bull said he may start the injunction proceedings in Supreme Court Thursday.

Mr. Bull had told the opening hearing that the commission has no right to investigate what he said would be a Criminal Code charge if proven.

FRANCE CAN COOL OFF

Agreement Reached On Arms to Tunisia

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and France have agreed to supply Tunisia with arms in such a way that French troops can cool and they can catch up the Atlantic Alliance.

The agreement was reached, diplomats said, between State Secretary Dulles and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau during a three-hour talk at the state department Tuesday.

Dulles and Pineau uncovered other topics, including France's two-year fight against Algerian rebels and President Eisenhower's proposals to breathe new life into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee in 1952 and 1956, sat in on the NATO part of the talks.

Stevenson arranged a morning conference today with Pineau.

Officials said Dulles and Pineau agreed that any Western arms shipments to Tunisia must be made foolproof against their falling into the hands of rebels in neighboring Algeria.

NATO Debates Arms

PARIS (AP)—The permanent council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization discussed the controversial Tunisian arms affair for the second time today without reaching any final conclusions.

Attack Needs Okay

LONDON (Reuters)—United States planes cannot launch an attack from bases in Britain without first obtaining British consent, Defence Minister Sandys said today.

France Faces Threat Of Strike Repetition

PARIS (Reuters)—The threat of a new, crippling strike hovered over France today as the country struggled to restore public services after a 24-hour walkout of civil servants.

Gas and electricity workers, who struck the country to a near standstill with a 24-hour strike last month, warned they will stage another walkout soon unless their demands for higher pay are met.

The cabinet today authorized Premier Felix Gaillard to conscript personnel needed to maintain public services.

Garbage littered the streets and stacks of mail jammed post offices today in the wake of Tuesday's strike by more than 1,000,000 government employees.

The strike also threatened government offices, prevented visits to hospital patients and jails and forced postponement of funerals.

Big Store Plan Revives Joint City Hall Scheme

USAF Knew Sputniks Due But Kept Mum

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A congressional investigator said today the United States Air Force got information of Russian satellite launching plans months ahead of time but "the American people were never forewarned."

Jodoin Asks Fast Action On Jobless

Fulton Blames Liberal Tight Money Policy

OTTAWA (CP)—President Claude Jodoin of the Canadian Labor Congress today urged the government to adopt emergency measures to combat unemployment which, he said, shows signs of being the worst since the Second World War.

The head of the 1,100,000-member labor body said the government labor survey showing 208,000 jobless in October—more than double the figure of last year 98,000—calls for steps to bring immediate relief.

Mr. Jodoin said the figures issued today "confirm our fears that unemployment this winter may be the worst since the war."

In Vancouver Tuesday Justice Minister Fulton blamed Canada's mounting unemployment largely on the tight money policies of the former Liberal government.

He told students at the University of British Columbia the Conservative government is relaxing the tight money restrictions to counter unemployment, but said it would be some months before effects of the move would be noticed.

It would be folly to minimize the employment situation, Mr. Fulton said, but he did not see things as "disastrous."

Multi-Million Order

LONDON (CP)—James C. Duncan of Toronto, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, sent the Canadian trade mission off to a flying start today by announcing his organization may spend £21,000,000 in Britain during the next four years.

Killings of 2 Women Admitted by Farmer

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Ed Gein, 51-year-old bachelor farmer, has admitted the killings of two women near his central Wisconsin farm home during the last three years, an official statement from the Wisconsin state crime laboratory said today.

The statement was issued jointly by the district attorneys of five Wisconsin counties with major unsolved disappearances during the last decade.

Read by Charles Wilson, director of the laboratory, the statement said:

"Mr. Gein now has admitted he is responsible for the death of Mary Hogan on Dec. 8, 1954, and the death of Bernice Worden, on Nov. 16, 1957. Their heads were found on his farm. Lie detector tests have been in progress since Tuesday afternoon.

Princess Margaret will join the party after dinner for a movie showing. Presents given by one member of the Royal Family to another are not normally made public. But Prince Philip's secret has been given away in recent years because he has given his wife a piece of jewelry designed by himself for her anniversaries. She usually wears it at her first public engagement afterward. Millions of Britons tonight will be able to join the royal couple in their anniversary when the BBC shows on television a film record of 10 years of royal marriage.

PRINCE PLANS UNPRECEDENTED PALACE PARLEY

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Herald says today Prince Philip will make history by holding a press conference in Buckingham Palace in February.

"Friends of his told me that he is quite determined about it and has overridden solid palace opposition," a columnist reports, adding, "His experiences with the Canadian and American reporters on his recent tour with the Queen have influenced him."

U.K. To Build Atom Plants For Italy

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain will construct a series of nuclear power stations in Italy, it was announced here today.

The Nuclear Power Company—a consortium of eight British firms—announced it has been awarded a contract to design an atomic power plant in northern Italy—the first such agreement between a British and foreign enterprise.

London newspapers hail the agreement with bold headlines declaring Britain has beaten the United States and Russia to the punch in a rich export field.

A spokesman for the firm estimated it would take two years to build the Italian plant. It will have the capacity to supply electricity to a community of 100,000.

Formal contract is to be signed next June.

He said the station will be roughly twice the size of Calder Hall, Britain's first nuclear power station which has been providing commercial electricity for the last year.

Asked about reports that Japan might also order a nuclear power station from Britain, the spokesman said: "Not at the moment, but several countries are interested."

Estimated cost for the first plant in Italy is $80,000,000. Reports from Rome said the power station probably will be situated near one of the lakes north of Milan.

However, in response to questions by reporters, McElroy said any program that size probably "could have been done better."

Mayor, Reeve Ash Urge New Study

By PETE LOUDON

Possibility of Victoria and Saanich uniting in construction of a joint city hall was revived today.

Leaders of both municipalities expressed new hope following the proposal Tuesday of Woodward Stores Ltd. to buy Victoria City Hall and adjoining property for a new department store.

Both Mayor Percy Scurrell and Reeve Arthur Ash called today for new talks on the joint hall proposal which was abandoned by Saanich last November.

Mayor Scurrell said there is reason to hope the deal with Woodward's will be completed "within two weeks."

Victoria will have to make an immediate start on a new city hall. Now is the time for Saanich to decide whether to pay.

Reeve Ash said the proposal should be re-investigated, whether or not an all-out amalgamation is studied. (See story, page 34.)

Mayor Scurrell said, "I am all for re-opening the joint city hall talks. I would like to see a definite investigation made, to find a plan fair to the taxpayers of both Saanich and Victoria."

He said he wants to learn what the effect of a joint hall would be on the individual tax payer.

ed. Topaz Park and the site of the B.C. Protestant Orphanage.

A joint hall committee, headed by former alderman W. F. Pinfold, voted against the Cathedral site recently favored by the Capital Region Planning Board.

The CRPB at that time favored the Topaz Park site as a second choice.

Mayor Scurrell said he is sold on the Cathedral site "as an imaginative and desirable development. The only reservation I would have would be the cost of the site."

$2 Million Cost Envisaged

Planning had proceeded to the point where a five-storey building was envisaged with each municipality having one wing. It was thought the cost would be about $2,000,000.

Saanich council voted to withdraw from the committee. There had been consideration at the time that as well as a joint hall the two municipalities should also pool public works equipment.

The Woodward proposal has also caused concern to Victoria Fire Wardens' Committee which is seeking a site for a new fire hall.

Greater Victoria School Board today advised the committee it is still opposed to use of any part of Central Junior High School grounds for the hall. The proposal by Woodward Stores Ltd. appears to rule out any thought the present site of the fire hall could be maintained.

The new store would envelope the fire hall, market building and about three adjoining blocks.

Use of a site at Pandora and Chambers, an old waterworks yard already owned by the city, now seems likely. Money is already earmarked for that project and the question is expected to be aired at council next week.

Victoria Chamber of Commerce president Hugh Stephen commented today on the impending vast shuffle of civic buildings, private stores and shops and the possible erection of a $5,000,000 department store.

"It would be a magnificent project for the city—one that would keep the downtown area busy and ensure its future stability and prosperity."

"It reflects great credit on Mayor Percy Scurrell. He has shown great foresight and wisdom in this matter."

Fast Action on Disorderly Juvenile Home Promised

Mayor Percy Scurrell today promised immediate action to correct disorderly conditions at the Cold Harbour Road Juvenile Detention Home.

The home was described Tuesday night by superintendent Col. W. S. Dingley as almost inoperative due to the increased number of "hoodlums" in the 16 to 18 years bracket, who are placed there by district police.

Unless the age limit for inmates is dropped to 16, the superintendent said he and his wife will resign.

For over two years, Col. Dingley told a meeting of the juvenile home board, young thugs of the brass knuckle set have made a joke of the institution.

"Why hasn't this been brought to our attention?" asked Mayor Percy Scurrell today. "If there is something wrong they should report it. We'll certainly go after the situation and correct it."

A check of city hall records this morning showed no report of conditions at the home has been made to city council for at least four years.

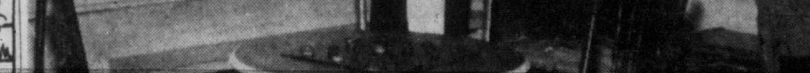

City representative on the board is former alderman, Mrs. Margaret Christie.

The home is operated jointly by Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt municipalities.

Esquimalt representative, Coun. J. E. Carey, said this morning he had reported the conditions to his council, "... at least a dozen times—but they leave it to me."

The board has arranged a meeting with district reeves and Mayor Scurrell Tuesday.

NO BARS—NO BOYS

Last week three youngsters forced this window to break out of the detention home. Superintendent, Col. W. S. Dingley, says he can no longer tolerate juvenile toughs. He wants admission age lowered from 18 to 16.

NEW FACES ASKED FOR ESQUIMALT

Coun. George Argyle said today he definitely will not run for re-election in Esquimalt Dec. 12.

"Let's just say I think it's time the council had some new faces," he said.

A councillor for six years, he said he hopes to launch a citizen's committee next year "to interest the electors in municipal politics."

Another member whose term expires this year, Coun. Arthur Fields said he is "pretty certain" he will not contest the election. He has served on council for three years.

Only definite outside candidate for a council seat is ex-councillor G. K. Sammon.

Coun. Walter Holder will run for re-election.

Two Die, Two Saved In Fire

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)—Two small children burned to death Tuesday in a house fire which broke out while their mother was hanging her wash on a neighbor's line.

Killed were Kenneth Klein, 2, and his 16-month-old brother Larry, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Klein. Jimmy Klein, 4, ran to safety, and an unidentified youth rescued a four-month-old girl.

4 Shipwreck Victims Found Safe on Island

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Four men, missing since Tuesday when their tugboat went aground in Lake Superior, were picked up today by the searching tug John C. and were en route to Nipigon, Ont., 65 miles northeast of here.

Search headquarters reported that the men were first sighted on Evelyn Rock, a small island nine miles southwest of Hawk Island, by an RCAF Dakota from Trenton, Ont.

'Anti-Missile' U.S. Army Plan

Project to Cost Millions,
New York Times Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times says today the administration is being urged by the army to make an all-out effort to produce an operational anti-missile by 1961 at a three-year cost of between $6,000,000,000 and $7,000,000,000.

B.C. Labor Protests Ship Transfer

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver District Labor Council has decided to protest to the federal government against the proposed transfer of vessels by Canadian National (West Indies) Steamships to Trinidad registry.

The CNS decision was taken after failure to settle a strike of Seafarers' International Union crew members, who walked out five months ago in Halifax and Montreal.

The Labor Council said in a resolution Tuesday that if the registry is transferred, the Conservative government will be guilty of strike-breaking because the steamship firm is a crown corporation.

Transfer of registry would allow the company to hire foreign crew members.

MONTREAL (CP)—Five ships of Canadian National Steamships, whose registry recently was transferred to Trinidad from Canada, have sailed from Montreal. Their destination was not disclosed.

The ships, strikebound here since last June, slipped down the St. Lawrence River Tuesday night.

Three other CNS ships are tied up at east coast ports.

A Washington dispatch calls it "a dramatic proposal for a defence against the Soviet trans-polar intercontinental ballistic missile."

The Times says the proposal has been made to the joint chiefs of staff and Defence Secretary Neil McElroy by army chief of staff Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

The story also says in part: On the basis of experiments with components of the army missile, Nike Zeus, Taylor is convinced that this weapon can be developed with nuclear and thermonuclear warheads to the point where it can track down and destroy the Soviet ICBM.

Taylor is supporting larger new expenditures for U.S. offensive missiles in all ranges. But he insists that the U.S. must immediately try for a major breakthrough in the anti-missile field. This is to keep pace with the development of Soviet missiles capable of reaching the United States across the north polar regions.

Col. Dingley has limited visitors to parents only and has asked permission to bar windows. Some parents are bringing boy friends and girl friends of inmates and "passing them off" as relatives.

District police juvenile officers say when they bring in a young tough, they know that before the night is over they will have to re-apprehend the youngster and take him to jail. But they are required to go through the routine first.

Victoria police commission is slated to discuss the home at its next meeting.

CUT AGE LIMIT
The juvenile home committee will tell the officials: "Either the age limit must be reduced or you have to scrap the whole thing and build a new $50,000 juvenile home."

Present at the Tuesday meeting were Mrs. Margaret Christie, representing Victoria; Coun. Fred Robinson, representing Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich were not represented, due to illness.

Also there were police juvenile officers V. W. Pratley of Oak Bay, Harry Adams of Saanich and Lyle D. Somers of Victoria.

Col. Dingley reported when the home was opened 11 years ago there was no idea juvenile delinquency would grow "at such an enormous rate." Its use has increased 400 per cent over 1947 and in the last two night when Col. Dingley's report will be aired.

Here are the highlights: There have been seven breakouts this year—three within the last week.

Eight youngsters have been transferred to city jail after attempted escapes. On several other occasions teenagers have been locked in the jail because the home was filled to overflowing.

Parents have aided youngsters in violating security regulations. In one case a visiting mother smuggled beer to her son.

Tough-mannered, foul-talking youths of 17 have had to be packed into the same dormitory with nine, 10 and 11-year-olds, sometimes for weeks on end.

FROM 34 TO 125

In the last 10 years admissions have grown from 34 annually to 125 so far in 1957.

There is no relief for Col. Dingley. The home must operate 24 hours daily. He has had no holiday this year and has no prospects.

Damage to the home and furnishings by inmates in the last year is greater than has been perpetrated in the last nine years.

Col. Dingley has limited visitors to parents only and has asked permission to bar windows. Some parents are bringing boy friends and girl friends of inmates and "passing them off" as relatives.

District police juvenile officers say when they bring in a young tough, they know that before the night is over they will have to re-apprehend the youngster and take him to jail. But they are required to go through the routine first.

years, 45 per cent of the boys and girls placed there are over 16 years of age.

"The damage to chairs, windows and the home is colossal." The attitude of some parents is "disgraceful."

"Some of the older boys . . . their language is simply awful."

Coun. Robinson, acting chairman, said the committee had decided last April to call a meeting of district civic heads. "And not a thing was done," said Col. Dingley. "If it goes any further, it leaves me no alternative but to resign and let the police take over."

Col. Dingley was outspoken against "a strong feeling in this area to mollycoddle these youngsters. If this is not checked now we'll be building more Brannan Lake Schools to accommodate them."

"We hear them brag, 'They can't do anything to you — you're a juvenile,'" he said.

WALL DEFACED

He showed the sleeping quarters. A bedroom with twin beds for girls—where the walls are always freshly painted to hide the obscenities scribbled on the walls.

He showed the one security room—a bare room with a ceiling skylight, bed, chair and linoleum floor covering. A 16-year-old girl tore even those sparse furnishings apart.

"Once a boy gets to be 16, he's good or he's bad — and you're not going to change him either," he said.

The home was originally intended as a "sort of foster home" but is used as the only place where juveniles can be kept while awaiting court decision on their cases. Sometimes the boys and girls are kept up to six weeks in the home.

He said there is no longer time for attempts at correction; while youngsters are at the home, although he admitted Tuesday was a rare occasion when there was not a single inmate.

The committee endorsed Col. Dingley's contention that unless there is a change and the over-16s are kept elsewhere, the home can no longer be operated.

The colonel said he would await a decision from the committee of mayor and reeves. And he will await the next session of the B.C. Legislature, where the juvenile age limit is due for reconsideration.

If nothing happens, he will quit.

6-Day Shopping by March 1 Asked by City Merchants

Changes in the Municipal Act to permit six-day shopping in Victoria by March 1 of B.C.'s centennial year were asked of the provincial cabinet Tuesday.

The suggestion contained in a brief presented by the Six-Day Shopping Week Committee of Victoria was one of several that would affect shop regulation sections of the act.

Others would:

Allow corner stores to sell all goods on their shelves after 6 p.m. instead of limiting sale to a few items;

Provide province-wide regulation of shops on statutory holidays and remove the Queen's birthday and Easter Sunday from the list of store holidays;

Regulate larger retail establishments and barber shop and shoeshine establishments without restricting neighborhood or corner stores or wholesale businesses;

Give shops the right to remain open one night each week if they wish, the night to be designated by municipal council if it wishes to do so.

Cabinet was told that half-day closing on Wednesday is "unsatisfactory."

"It is not liked by shopper, employee or employer," the brief said. "There is a large falling off in the number of shoppers who come to town on Wednesdays and the employees dislike the broken days. Under the six-day shopping week our employees worked five straight days. Their rights are fully protected."

Local stores should be open to meet the demands of tourists during centennial celebrations, the brief stressed.

"If you say 'ain't', dangle a participle and split an infinitive now and then — so what!" says authority Dr. Evans. "So did Shakespeare and Kipling!" Sputnik I 'Jammed' By Mystery Sender

ATLANTA (UP)—The story came out today how a mysterious sender "jammed" the first Russian Sputnik with a message that could only have been radioed into space from the U.S. or its environs.

Remember the evening of Oct. 8 when trackers across the world reported that the signal from Sputnik I was fading or had ceased entirely?

Sputnik eventually came back on loud and clear but not before some American had packed his transmitter with a wry grin and put the federal communications commission on his trail, not knowing exactly what action to take if it could find him.

HEAD UP UBC's 'MATCHING GRANT' DRIVE

University of British Columbia announced today names of five Victorians who will play key roles in the forthcoming Development Fund drive, in which friends of the university hope to raise $7.5 millions, to be matched "dollar for dollar" by the legislature. Left to right: Hon. R. W. Mayhew, chairman advance gifts and special names; Stuart Keate, area chairman for the canvass of 1,000 UBC alumni in Greater Victoria; Prof. Robert Wallace, class chairman for 1916-1940 grads; Lloyd G. McKenzie, class chairman, 1941-1949; Robert Hutchison, class chairman, 1950-1957.

GRAUER TO ADDRESS KICKOFF DINNER AT EMPRESS

January Drive Here for UBC Funds

Men and women in Greater Victoria who graduated from University of British Columbia and settled in the province will be asked to "remember their Alma Mater" in a capital-gifts drive in January, aimed at providing the provincial university with sorely-needed student dormitories and other equipment. The university's development fund headquarters announced today that 1,000 UBC alumni living in the area will be canvassed in a "matching grant" drive for capital funds, starting with a kick-off dinner at the Empress Hotel January 3. Chancellor A. E. (Dal) Grauer will come from Vancouver to address an estimated 200 alumni who will work as team captains and canvassers for the drive. The drive stems from Premier Bennett's recent pledge to match "dollar for dollar" any sums raised by friends of the university. It was announced last week that the premier had raised the ceiling on this pledge from $5 millions to $7.5 millions. Victoria area chairman for the drive, Stuart Keate, said today that the following had accepted appointments as "class chairmen" to cover three graduation groups: 1916-1940—Prof. R. T. Wallace; 1941-1949—Lloyd G. McKenzie; 1950-1957—Robert Hutchison. Team captains in the first group will be Mrs. Elza Mayhew, Miss Olive Heritage, Mrs. Rhona Wallis (UBC alumni president in Victoria), Roy Temple, Harold McWilliams and Jack Bowring. Mr. McKenzie's captains include Tom Cantell, Graham McCall, Connie Holmes, Mrs. D. O'Kiely, Graeme Scott, Charles Nash, Harry Bigsby and Bernard Gillie.

Working on the 1950-1957 list of graduates with Mr. Hutchison will be G. Main, Jack Cowan, Marnie Stevenson, David Ferne, Peter Forward, Maureen Bray. A total of 198 canvassers is being enrolled, with the aim that personal canvass will be limited to five apiece. Meanwhile, advance and special gifts, both personal and corporate, will be solicited in Victoria and the Vancouver Island district during the next few weeks by a committee headed by the Hon. Robert W. Mayhew. Assisting Mr. Mayhew in this category are G. F. Dunn, Dr. Frank Fahey and Dr. Harold Campbell.

Russ Want Foot in Oil Islands

KUWAIT, Persian Gulf (Reuters)—Reports that Russia is planning to send technicians to help start a new factory in Egypt with branches in the oil-rich islands of Bahrain and Kuwait received partial confirmation here today. The Kuwait government planning office admitted the existence of the plan for a factory but declined to give details or state what it would produce. Kuwait and Bahrain, both big oil producers, are British-protected sheikdoms. The British political agency here said today it would not grant visas to Communist-bloc nations for entry into either state. Nikolai Bulganin announced the Soviet Union has agreed to help Egypt bolster its national economy.

Is This Helping Britain?

MR. DIEFENBAKER'S GOVERNMENT began this week to make its first overt move toward the imposition of higher tariffs on British goods. The Canadian Tariff Board has been instructed by the Government to consider the existing tariff on British woollens. There can be only one purpose in the inquiry which opened in Ottawa a few days ago—to reduce our textile imports from Britain.

This may seem a small matter to Canada. It is a very large matter to Britain, much larger than it appears to be. For Britain's exports of textiles to Canada are not only an important item of British trade but they provide a clear test of our overall trade policy, especially of our real attitude toward Commonwealth trade.

The British woollen industry understands exactly what is under way. In its brief to the Tariff Board it says that "any increase in the tariff on British woollen fabrics would be a denial of Canada's announced policy of expanding trade with the United Kingdom."

Assuredly it would be. The Diefenbaker Government was elected on the promise (one of many) to increase our trade with Britain. To this end it has arranged a Commonwealth trade conference for next year. Yet in the meantime it is evidently preparing to deliver a body blow to British business.

If this blow is actually delivered, if we begin by driving British textiles from our market what possible purpose can a Commonwealth trade conference serve? Only one purpose, of course. It will serve the Government's campaign for re-election before the conference is held.

Apart from the confusion, not to say the cynicism in the Government's thinking, the public must consider the intrinsic merits of our textile imports from Britain.

These imports bring us goods that we need and secure at the lowest available price. The dollars we pay for them are dollars that Britain needs to buy our goods. And we should never forget that at the moment Britain is buying from us in total far more than it sells to us. Should we further aggravate Britain's dollar shortage and hence damage our own British market?

By raising tariffs against Britain we not only damage a nation of which the Conservative Party pretends to be the only real Canadian friend and champion; we also damage the Canadian consumer by forcing up the price of clothing. We make every Canadian pay for clothing to benefit only the textile industry of central Canada. The whole public would be milked for the advantage of a regional interest which happens to be a strong pressure group in Conservative politics.

British Columbia has a special concern in this issue. We sell timber, fish, fruit and other things to Britain but Britain's ability to buy our products depends mainly on its ability to sell here.

If we reduce its sales here we shall inevitably reduce our sales to Britain. To add the central Canadian textile industry, a relatively small sector of the Canadian economy, we can do serious injury to our great basic industries, especially in British Columbia.

Victoria has a special local interest of its own in this business—small, of course, in relation to the nation's economy but important to us. Here we sell substantial quantities of high-class British woollens to American tourists with resulting benefits to the whole community. That business will be reduced or extinguished if we drive British woollens from our Canadian market.

In any case the Tariff Board has found, in a previous inquiry, that the problem of the Canadian textile industry is not British imports but the methods of manufacture here. But this problem has not prevented the industry from expanding its annual production greatly in recent years. Since 1954 its output has grown from 17.5 million to 24 million yards while Britain's share of the market has dropped from 37.8 per cent in 1954 to 37.4 per cent in 1956.

Why is the Diefenbaker Government so worried? Why is it beginning so soon to reverse the brave, patriotic pro-British slogans of the June election? Only because it is trying desperately to hold or increase its parliamentary seats in the textile region of Ontario and Quebec.

He Wants to Run and Eat

TOM ALSBURY, LABOR FIGURE and formerly unsuccessful aspirant for the mayor's chair in Vancouver, has given expression to a quandary that must face many men and women as municipal election time rolls around.

He wants to run for alderman. He also wants to eat. He is doubtful if he could discharge the responsibilities of council office and hold his job at the same time.

"The way things are now," says Mr. Alsbury, "only those who have retired or those with private means can afford to run for council."

To this he adds the opinion that "the retired are not as energetic as the job requires and those with private means are not representative of the population as a whole."

Mr. Alsbury has expressed a personal point of view. His concept of aldermanic duties and the desirable qualifications for an individual holding office may differ from that of others. The fact that his current political aspirations centre on Vancouver—a big city requiring extensive service from its municipal representatives—may also place him in a position different from that of most men in smaller towns.

But if the question presses heavily on Mr. Alsbury, the problem is not his alone. His suggestion is that working people wishing to try for public office should receive special consideration from their employers. In some cases, though not all, that is customary. Moreover, an alderman may lose pay for time away from work, but can frequently make it up out of his indemnity.

The complexities of modern municipal government are increasing. Even when a professional municipal manager takes the administrative load off a council, the demands of policy-making are exacting. Yet aldermanic office is usually far less than a full-time job and seldom—in most centres—justifies full-time pay.

Mr. Alsbury has still raised an important question, particularly as it affects the vigorous employed person who aspires to civic or municipal office but whose time throughout the day is not his own. It is a question which should arouse general concern and study if the public wants to encourage younger men or women to serve.

The Baffled Economists

A HUNDRED OF THE UNITED STATES' leading business and university economists met at Ann Arbor, Michigan, recently to consider the economic prospects. As The Christian Science Monitor reports, they succeeded only in proving that economics is not an exact science. For the economists could not seem to agree on anything.

The topic of their conference was the probable state of American business in 1958. Over half the experts foresaw an economic decline, though they disagreed on its severity. Most of this group thought business would bounce quickly out of this fall; some expected the economy merely to level out after the decline; and a few forecast a continuing decline.

On the other hand, a sizeable minority expects 1958 to be a year of high prosperity after the current readjustment.

But all the economists agree on one thing—business will become more competitive from now on after a long and easy sellers' market. That half-forgotten possibility, a reduction in price, has reappeared.

All the erudite argument of Ann Arbor doesn't help the layman much. If the most eminent economists are baffled, how can the ordinary man expect to see through the fog?

We can be sure, however, that the United States' business prospects, good or bad, are our prospects in Canada also. We cannot escape them. Nor can any nation in the free world, for the simple reason that the American productive apparatus and its consuming market are the dominant fact, the central economic engine, of our time.

Stand on Guard for What?

I note in Nov. 16 issue the item on the front page of your paper captioned: "All unions meet on strike plans" and further, "the objective to discuss strategy" etc., though they have not included many other organizations such as: railroad employees, teachers, etc.

All sensible citizens should recognize the time has arrived, in fact, it is long past due, when the general public have the right to protest in no uncertain terms to end this appeasing system we have tolerated, far too long.

Trying to satisfy selfish interests who will not be appeased is and has been abortive ever since 1938 when British P.M. Chamberlain and Premier Daladier of France failed in their efforts with Hitler and Mussolini.

Expecting our Federal Government to finance the opening of the Britannia copper mines to the tune of $37,500 per month, indefinitely, which could be increased if copper values sagged, opens the way for every other industrial concern to expect the same treatment, which is utter folly.

The strange incongruity is that the recent Armistice Day service indicated that we all could sing our national anthem "O Canada" which emphasized, "We stand on guard for Thee."

I would ask: "Do we actually?" — I wonder!

Don't Forget B.C. Police

It is noted that among many other attractions scheduled for the Centennial celebrations will be musical rides by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

This, of course, should prove a great attraction to tourists and citizens alike, but any pageantry marking the celebrations would be completely lacking if no recognition is made of the magnificent part played by the old British Columbia Provincial Police in the history of this province.

I believe, men like ex-Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons and Assistant Commissioner Bob Owens could usefully be consulted. Also such veteran members of the British Columbia Bar, as Mr. Arthur Crease, Q.C.

For Ash.

Your recent editorial regarding Reeve Ash's announcement that he will seek reelection to the reeveship in December was to the point.

The "Old Guard" have been trying to tag the reeve with the impression he is trying to ram amalgamation down the ratepayers' throats. Nothing could be further from the truth. As you state the reeve has consistently voiced his opinion on the question and he leaves no doubts where he stands. He has never altered in his fight to have the question thoroughly investigated so that all taxpayers may be able to vote on the question intelligently. He should receive the support of every fair-minded citizen in Saanich, not only on this issue but for his efforts in bringing about reorganization of our affairs in Saanich.

Now the ratepayers have a real chance to elect some young blood along with Reeve Ash who has shown considerable intestinal fortitude for the past two years trying to clean up the mess he inherited from the previous council, with nothing but deliberate and spiteful opposition from a disgruntled and antagonistic council.

Driving Under Suspension

We are informed that thousands of B.C. motor drivers have had their licenses suspended within the past 12 months.

It would be interesting to know how many of those still under suspension are driving cars. The Calgary Albertan points out the seriousness of this situation in which contempt of court is so often committed. Even in cases where the accused has violated the suspension three or four times they are still excused with only a nominal fine.

Under summary conviction the maximum penalty for a first offence of driving while under suspension is $500, or three months in jail or both.

It seems about time irresponsible drivers of all ages were not permitted to treat orders of our courts with contempt.

A Critic of the Press

Written for The Victoria Daily Times By Gerard Fay, London Editor of The Manchester Guardian

"The Sugar Pill," By T. S. Matthews
London, Victor Gollancz, 18s

"The biggest bit of clap-trap about the Press is that it deals almost exclusively, or even mainly, with news." If I can mix my metaphor without straining it too far this bit of clap-trap is an Aunt Sally set up by Tom Matthews himself so that he can show how clever he is at knocking it down.

Nobody in his senses would ever suggest that the Press deals "almost exclusively, or even mainly" with news and indeed the Matthews book contains a surprisingly compiled tables which prove the opposite.

The Press, or let me say a newspaper, deals for one thing in a certain proportion of advertising—no much less than 40 per cent, at its peril, in the present state of British newspaper economics.

Dr. Matthews chose to analyze the Daily Mirror and the Manchester Guardian for a Monday in February and his researches show that on that day the Mirror contained 32 per cent of advertising, the Manchester Guardian 46.7 per cent. The Guardian's "editorial text" was 48.7 per cent, the Mirror's 47 per cent.

The Mirror gave 21 per cent of pictures, the Guardian 4.6 per cent. But only a nincompoop would assume that the "editorial text," just under 50 per cent in each paper, consists entirely of news.

As well as advertisements a newspaper deals in features and various other entertainments, fiction and in some cases a form of writing about the arts which cannot be called "news."

Now Mr. Matthews used to be editor of Time, the newsmagazine which more than any other publication has proved that myriads of facts however carefully accumulated and checked, need not necessarily amount to even approximately the truth.

Facts are a mere raw material for an artist to work upon—glyptic a sculptor would say, in contrast to plastic—a solid mass which has to be chipped away to reveal not what the artist thinks the subject looks like to others but what it looks like to himself.

An artist in news need not be deterred by facts: anything can be done with them if they are treated glyptically enough, for in the chipping away all sorts of embarrassing contradictions between different sets of facts can be thrown on the studio floor.

When the sculptor's likeness is revealed, let the friends of the subject, his parents or children, the nurses of his infancy declare "But that is not like the man we know?" the artist will stand firm and say "But that is how I see him."

And the same argument arises every day between those who know about how events happened and those who report them: only those who work for Hansard and those who record every word at the Law Courts are immune from this argument.

'Unimmune'

Mr. Matthews is particularly unimmune on this occasion. To back up his thesis that newspapers offer a sugar-pill (i.e. that they try to brighten up the news by being entertaining as well) he chose to do a close study of only two papers in the great variety show of the British press, an odd decision to say the least of it.

FROM BELGRADE

By JOSEPH ALSOP

U.S. Bread for Yugoslavia

THIS is a moment of fairly desperate uncertainty about future Soviet policy. At home, Nikita S. Khrushchev may either drown his people in blood or choke them with butter. Abroad, by the same token, he may become dangerously venturesome or seek a period of real pacification.

Throughout the Eisenhower administration, American policy has essentially consisted of a series of belated and generally inadequate reactions to Soviet actions. We have a chance, now, to do a little better. We have a chance, in fact, to influence Khrushchev's eventual decision very greatly.

He is at least bound to be considerably sobered, if America responds with clarity, vigor and decisiveness to the ugly new world situation now confronting us. That must be the long range aim.

But it will still be a wait-and-see business until Khrushchev has actually made his choice. In this uncertain moment, only one thing is certain. Until Khrushchev shows his hand, the American policy-makers really desperately need to keep all possible options, to retain the utmost possible freedom of action, on Khrushchev's side of the line that divides the world.

As a practical matter, this means keeping our options here in Yugoslavia and in Poland. We have no real power to act anywhere else on this side of the world-dividing line. And keeping our options means, in turn, leaving the existing relationships largely unaltered.

More Aid Needed

Aid, even much more generous aid, needs to be given to Poland. The rapidly tapering program of aid to Yugoslavia must also be maintained, at least to the extent of continuing the relatively inexpensive surplus wheat deliveries which provide nearly 80 per cent of the bread for Yugoslavia's cities.

Of course, these and other matters will need to be coldly reconsidered if the Yugoslavs and Poles end by cheering Khrushchev on, while he renegeates Stalin's terror at home and embarks on a campaign of still bolder adventures abroad. But the point is that the Yugoslavs and Poles are not likely to cheer Khrushchev on. They are much more likely to do the opposite; in which case their relationships with the West will greatly gain in importance to them and to us.

Their likely reaction is illustrated by the Yugoslav response to Khrushchev's Stalinoid destruction of Marshal Zhukov. On this head, the combination of two sets of facts has placed the Yugoslav leaders in an embarrassing position.

On the one hand, it has long been the Yugoslav policy to support Nikita Khrushchev by all means possible in the inner struggle in the Kremlin. That is still frankly admitted here.

On the other hand, it was certainly Marshal Zhukov's long visit to Yugoslavia that gave Khrushchev the chance to arrange Zhukov's destruction.

The combination of these two sets of facts has naturally caused this reporter and many others to suspect that Marshal Tito was actually Khrushchev's accomplice in the plot against Zhukov. But after careful investigation on the spot, a rather different, more complex but less ugly conclusion seems unavoidable.

The Yugoslavs are not quite frank about their attitude to Zhukov, one suspects, because they dislike admitting they have had the wool a little pulled over their eyes, like so many others who have had dealings with Khrushchev.

But the displeasure and even alarm that one senses here also indicate that the Yugoslavs certainly did not expect Zhukov to be utterly destroyed by a Stalinoid plot. They hoped that his overweening powers would be reduced, perhaps by his promotion from the defence ministry to the Soviet premiership, where the final levers of power would not be in his hands.

Expected Decencies

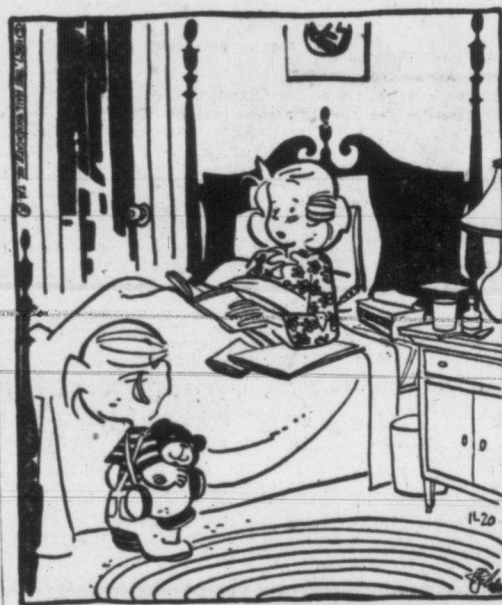

But they also thought well of Zhukov as an individual Soviet leader. They expected the decencies to be preserved. They wanted the Khrushchev-Zhukov partnership to continue, although on a more equal basis. And they certainly did not expect to be made to seem the willing catspaws of Nikita Khrushchev in his brilliant, Byzantine intrigue. This has made them downright angry.

But what then was the Yugoslav motive for supporting Khrushchev in the first instance? The motive was the now dubious belief that Khrushchev promised "liberalization" as they like to call it, or in more honest words, that Khrushchev stood for the evolution of Soviet society in a more human direction. The Yugoslavs have been trying to increase their influence in the Kremlin, in order to increase their ability to encourage this Soviet evolution. Hence they have thought it worthwhile to take several controversial steps, such as their recognition of East Germany.

One may question their judgment in these matters, but one must give their good intentions the benefit of the doubt for the present. They now want Khrushchev today to make humane and peaceable choices, just as much as we do. If he makes the other kind of choice, which they now fear, they will suffer more immediately than we shall. And these are the reasons why it is urgent to keep our Yugoslav option, even if this requires the Eisenhower administration to stand up to Congress for once.

DENNIS THE MENACE

"I SURE WISH MRS. WILSON WOULD BRING YOU SOME MORE SOUP. I'M GETTIN' PRETTY SICK OF DADS COOKIN'!"

From Our Files

Nov. 20, 1897—New York: When Jules Verne wrote about going around the world in 80 days it was thought quick, but with the completion of the Trans-Siberian Railway a month has been chipped off this, and perhaps more.

Nov. 20, 1917—The Duke of Devonshire, Governor-General of Canada, in the Legislature here today praised the magnificence and nobility and sacrifices which Canada has already made to the cause of civilization.

Nov. 20, 1937—Detroit: Jimmy Adamek, young Michigan slugger, evened things with Maxie Rosenbloom last night by a second round knock-out of "Slapsie Maxie" in Olympic Stadium.

It would be wearisome to the non-professionals to go too deeply into why I find it such a disappointing volume. It is, however, like so much of Time, immensely readable and entertaining and if some of the conclusions are blunt some of the observation is sharp indeed.

His pen portraits, or snapshots are amusing and kind—though in one or two cases a bit patronizing—but who on earth is interested in the men who run newspapers—except themselves and other such men (and, of course their sweethearts and wives)?

As to his blind spots there is no accounting for them. How could any craftsman spend so many hours on the Daily Mirror without noticing the crucial position of Sidney Jacobson, the political editor, or in the Guardian—where wither stumbling across the fact that W. P. Crozier (whose editorship was the link between the Guardian and C. P. Scott and that of A. P. Wadsworth) was the man who put the Guardian right—or perhaps left would be more accurate—on the Spanish war, the national government the growth of fascism in Italy and Germany and the need (when some other papers, including the Daily Mirror, were flirting with it) to crush the same political disease by legislative action in Britain.

Not Quite Accurate

He also took the Manchester Guardian through the great second war up to just before the hour of victory and of this man all Matthews can bring himself to say is, "In the 13 years of Crozier's editorship the Guardian's tone of voice remained as level as its circulation." The voice was raised at regular intervals to attack what Crozier saw as evil: the circulation rose, though slowly

Dying Swan Act

NEW YORK—The annual collapse of Mr. V. K. Krishna Menon of India has taken place, but it was not much of a display and it served as a reminder of how few men of color and originality there are at this Assembly Session.

We do not mean color in the skin sense—of that there is an abundance, so much so that it would be quite proper to speak of the white minority in these halls and corridors.

What we mean is the lack of men who in their speech, their manners and their actions are able to create interest and command attention. To some degree, it was possible to tell the story of the last Assembly Session in terms of the men who were here: This Session, there are no standouts.

Lynch

The dying swan act of Mr. Menon took place, as it did at the previous session, in the Security Council. The subject, as before, was Kashmir. But there the similarity ended. Last time, he brought his doctor into the council chamber and did his stuff before a capacity audience. This time, there was little suspense in the performance—he gradually ran out of steam, his voice became lower and lower, his head descended until it was resting on the table. When the President offered a recess, Mr. Menon croaked: "I do not ask for mercy," but he did not insist on going on from a prone position.

RASH OF JOKES

The incident was followed by the usual rash of Krishna Menon jokes, giving delegates a brief respite from the constant round of spunk humor. Somebody recalled the story told at a previous session—a colleague, upon being asked where Mr. Menon might be found, replied: "Oh, he's probably brooding in some public place."

Many of the men who made news at the last assembly are here for this one—but they have been keeping very quiet. The efforts of the secretary-general, Mr. Dag Hammarskjöld, to dodge the spotlight have been most successful. The president of this assembly, Sir Leslie Munro, presents a stern visage in contrast to the smiling one of his predecessor, Prince Wan Wataikon of Thailand.

Ambassador Mahmoud Fawzi of Egypt has spoken scarcely at all.

Ambassador Farid Zeineddine of Syria went up like a skyrocket during the Turkish-Syrian crisis, but he returned to earth in a charred condition.

The delegation of the United States, led by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, is drab; that of the United Kingdom, led by Commander Allan Noble, seems to have been sent here only to hold the franchise and no more. The Soviets possess nobody of distinction; frozen-faced Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko has returned to Russia, leaving the delegation in the hands of Vasily Kuznetsov, a former Detroit steel worker with a ready turn of humor in his private moments. In public, Mr. Kuznetsov just sits and scowls. Among the newcomers, Mr. Alii Sastramidjolo has a fine set of whiskers to go with his splendid name, but to date he has not chosen to add zest to the assembly's proceedings.

LIGHT MOMENTS

Of light moments there have been few, and the only memorable event of the assembly to this writing has been the brief visit paid to this headquarters by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II.

About the only chuckle the business sessions have produced followed upon a complaint by the United Kingdom delegation that the UN was using too much paper—that delegates were buried in a mass of documents, releases, statements and the like. Nobody quarrelled with the British attitude, but it lost some of its point when it was revealed that the U.K. has a standing order for 85 copies of everything that is put out here.

Ah, well, this place does not exist to provide humor, nor is the general assembly rostrum a place for thespians. We shall have to be satisfied with Mr. Menon's bit in the security council, and we rejoice in his swift recovery.

We rejoice, too, that while the delegates are uninteresting, the girls of the United Nations seem prettier than ever; that while the brownies in the restaurant have become inedible, the pumpkin pie is the world's best; that if the agenda is dull, perhaps it means the world is in better shape than we feared.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

No Time to Stay Static

LONDON—The sprucing up of London goes on apace.

The latest batch of buildings to be pulled down for new development are those in the ramshackle three blocks that adjoin the west side of Paddington Station. The street is called Eastbourne Terrace and this quarter-mile of it is going to be razed and replaced with blocks of offices, one block of which will be one of the tallest in London—200 ft.

They will be set back 40 ft. from the roadway, making Eastbourne Terrace a gracious broad thoroughfare laid out with trees, lawns and sculpture.

The buildings will be finished before the end of next year and it will be an ideal thing for commuters. Arrive from the suburbs at Paddington Station and just cross the street to your work, instead of an additional journey into the city.

Now if only something were done about Paddington Station itself—or for that matter any of London's railway stations.

It seems strange that although London has not been slow to erect modern new public buildings of other types, no thought has been given to the matter of railway stations.

The London County Council has a big up-to-date set of buildings on the south bank of the Thames, the Festival Hall is a model for modern concert hall architecture, the new London airport will be second to none in the world . . . from local post offices to lending libraries, there is every evidence of London's public buildings moving with the times. But as regards railway stations the situation is absolutely static.

London has 11 main-line stations—Paddington, Waterloo, Victoria, Euston, St. Pancras, King's Cross, Charing Cross, Cannon Street, Liverpool Street, London Bridge and Marylebone.

All of them are old and dirty. None of them can be pointed to with pride or even with a reverence for antiquity because a railway station doesn't mellow with age, it merely gets older and dirtier.

Oldest of the London stations is Euston, opened in 1838. The "baby" is Marylebone, born 1899. That is quite a thing to ponder on—London has done nothing about the building of main-line railway stations in the twentieth century!

I do my best to put forward arguments against visitors who say England doesn't move with the times but what can one say in defence of this literal example of "what was good enough for my grandfather is good enough for me?"

Do Plants Reflect One's Character?

By JACK BEASTALL

For many years I have wondered if plants actually respond to the character of the one who tends them.

My first thoughts along this line came after visiting a range of greenhouses devoted to carnations, azaleas, cyclamen, indoor rose bushes and potted house plants.

The foreman loved every plant under his care and each plant seemed to stand a little straighter and sparkle a little more as he drew attention to it.

A year later I visited the same greenhouses and saw the same assortment of plants, but with a new foreman.

Somehow the plants lacked their former sparkle and the foreman had no special favorites. When you remarked about an especially good bloom he dismissed it lightly, saying all were good quality and would be ready for market on time.

As I reflected the different appearance of those greenhouses, I wondered if the plants did respond to the loving care of the first foreman, or did his character and enthusiasm cause the visitor to see the plants in a different way?

But I find the same condition in our greenhouse, which is normally Hilda's domain.

On the rare occasion when I find time to be shown around by Hilda, each plant seems to stand upright and smile as she points it out.

Hilda is now taking a long-overdue rest. Not a holiday, but an enforced rest, the kind which comes at the most inopportune time and when one is too miserable to find pleasure in it.

As I tend her plants, paying strict heed to diet, moisture, temperature and ventilation, I note the sparkle is missing. They look woebegone and dragged.

When Hilda returns to take charge (and it cannot be too soon as far as I am concerned), I am going to pay a special visit to the greenhouse and note how the plants respond as she shows them to me.

While nothing will be proven for the benefit of horticulture, the results may be worthy of more thought.

Oman Revolt Cost Britain $756,000

LONDON (AP)—Defence Minister Sandys said today it cost Britain about £270,000 ($756,000) to help the Sultan of Muscat and Oman put down a rebellion in his Arabian Peninsula kingdom earlier this year.

British troops were requested by the sultan, with whom Britain has a treaty, and were used to put down the rebellion by followers of the Imam of Oman, Sandys told the House of Commons.

"I do not think that is a large sum to pay for establishing confidence in Britain's word through Arabia and the Persian Gulf."

U.S.-Russ Parley Favored

OTTAWA (CP)—A few officials here say privately they believe the United States and Russia now should try to arrange bilateral disarmament negotiations.

They say this is an unofficial view which is not necessarily backed by the government.

They add that the U.S. and Russia are the two major nuclear powers and that if any disarmament agreement is ever reached it will be arrived at by these two countries on their terms.

Canada won support from the UN Assembly Tuesday for its resolution to enlarge the disarmament commission by 14 members to 25. But it was a hollow victory because Russia said it could not accept this compromise. It still held out for 82 members—that is, all countries represented at the UN. Authorities here say an 82-member commission could not function effectively and that the Russians obviously know this.

SYNOPSIS

A strong, high pressure area now lies over B.C. and will be the dominating factor in the weather for the next two days. Skies will be mostly clear but with patches of low cloud in some mountain valleys. The disturbance that had been expected to move through the province today has been deflected northward toward Alaska by the high pressure ridge. Because of the clear skies nighttime temperatures were considerably lower Tuesday night and will again drop below the freezing point nearly everywhere except along the outer coast.

Hospital Insurance At Early Date Hinted

Hospital insurance may come one step closer next week.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker Tuesday hinted in the Commons of federal moves which may put the hospital insurance plan into effect "at a far earlier date than has been anticipated."

That date is generally considered to be Jan. 1, 1959, when the Ontario plan is scheduled to go into operation.

The prime minister referred to the federal-provincial fiscal conference here Nov. 25 and 26. He said he plans to discuss the hospital plan with premiers of provinces which have indicated approval of the scheme. If there were "reasonably unanimous" agreement among them, the plan would start "at a far earlier date than has been anticipated."

Mr. Diefenbaker was speaking on a CCF non-confidence motion which was beaten by a vote of 142 to 32. The Liberals sided with the Progressive Conservatives to defeat the motion which was supported by the Social Credit group as well as the CCF.

The motion urged immediate federal payments under the hospital insurance plan to provinces with hospital care plans now in force.

Mr. Diefenbaker referred to hospital insurance only in passing. Most of his 30-minute address was given over to a sarcastic but good-humored attack on the Liberals and CCF which the opposition parties apparently took in good part.

Of the Liberals, the prime minister said: "They criticize. They sneer. They scoff. And later tonight they'll be voting confidence in us."

"Why do they follow this strange and tortuous course? Is it frustration? Is it mere opportunism at a low level? Everyone knows the answer. They're afraid to vote against us. They whistle in their own graveyard."

The CCF non-confidence motion was "the worst kind of red herring and political opportunism."

The CCF was "courageous" in presenting the motion because Liberal Leader St. Laurent had already said his party wouldn't try to defeat the government.

"They can speak valorously because they know there's no risk."

Hazen Argue (CCF-Assiniboia) said there is growing evidence that the government is retreating from its previous position favoring inclusion of patients in mental and tuberculosis institutions under the hospital care plan.

Fruit, Vegetable Prices May Be Affected

Prices that Canadians now pay for fruits and vegetables may be affected by recommendations placed before the government by the tariff board.

Finance Minister Donald Fleming tabled Tuesday the board's report on Canada's fruit and vegetable tariff structure.

It suggested changes involving slightly higher duties for some fruits and vegetables imported from other countries, and extended periods for some seasonal tariffs and trimming of others.

Mr. Fleming said the government has not yet had a chance to consider the recommendations. But he added:

"If we decide to take action along the lines of these recommendations, we would expect to take the necessary steps in conformity with the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade."

Members from two widely-separated parts of Canada put in renewed pleas for CBC radio and television coverage in the remote areas they represent.

Charles Noel Barbes (Liberal, Chapleau) said there are 125,000 persons in the eastern Abitibi region, 90 per cent of them French-speaking, who are demanding TV coverage in their language.

H. W. Herridge (CCF, Kootenay West) protested "the continued denial" of radio coverage to a large section of his constituency in the southeastern British Columbia interior.

He said that for seven years he has been demanding the installation of five CBC radio relays in the area, but after two were put up the CBC ran out of money because it was spending more on television developments.

He protested that 30 years after the beginnings of radio broadcasting a large segment of his area was without coverage, while Canada was spending millions on TV.

Thieves Eat, Drink At Eaton's Warehouse

Upstairs apartment of Hugh Donnelly, 355 Richmond, was ransacked while the occupants were away Tuesday afternoon, but nothing was stolen.

Police were told clothing and other belongings were scattered around the bedroom and living room as if someone were playing a practical joke.

For the second time since Nov. 9 Eaton's warehouse at 522 Yates was entered by prowlers, who ate cheese, drank pop and stole some canned chicken, a wrench and set of plastic-handled screwdrivers.

Second entry was reported as having been made overnight Monday.

INSURANCE PLAN STUDIED

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal agricultural economists are studying the possibilities of a national crop insurance plan. Agriculture Minister Harkness said Tuesday in the Commons.

Replying to Fred S. Zaplitny (CCF, Dauphin), he said the subject was discussed at a meeting here early this fall with provincial agriculture ministers. The meeting made no decisions and the subsequent study undertaken by his department had produced no final report.

Airline Talk With U.S. Urged by MP

OTTAWA (CP)—The government was asked Tuesday night to open negotiations with the United States leading to north-south airline service between Western Canada and the U.S.

Art Smith (PC-Calgary South) said in the Commons that between Winnipeg and Vancouver there is only one air "milk route" between Canadian and American western centres. It was faster to travel by car—"or mule."

Standing of Judge Unharmful—PM

(See Other Story Page 32) Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre), said that having regard to what transpired in the court, Mr. Justice Diefenbaker declined Tuesday to comment on the withdrawal of Mr. Justice C. H. Locke from an appeal in the Supreme Court of Canada. He said it is traditional that cabinet ministers do not comment on the conduct of judicial proceedings.

However, Mr. Diefenbaker, replying in the Commons to Mr. Justice Locke withdrew on his own Monday after the court as a whole rejected Toronto lawyer Lewis Duncan's request that the judge withdraw from the case.

Mr. Duncan was acting for Mrs. Kathleen Lahay who is involved in a $39,000 will case. He gave no reason for his motion.

FLOAT CAMP used for three years in clearing Buttle Lake shoreline is being towed to north end of lake to be dismantled. Logging of giant B.C. Power Commission water reservoir produced 125,000,000 feet of merchantable timber, now being auctioned. Huge logs under float camp, one-quarter of which is seen above, will be recovered and sold for additional $100,000. Fully developed Campbell River hydro system, scheduled for completion early in 1958, will develop about 400,000 horsepower.

CIL Workers to Get Award For Long Record of Safety

DEER HUNTING INQUEST SET

DUNCAN—An inquest will be held here tonight at 7 into the death Sunday of Helmo O. Toljander, 50, resident killed in a deer hunting accident Sunday west of Shawigan Lake.

Funeral service will be conducted Thursday at 2 at the First Funeral Chapel by Pastor G. W. Scholz, and interment will be in Mountain View Cemetery.

Water Supply Widened

DUNCAN—Application by Duncan city to supply water to residents beyond a two-mile radius from Duncan post office has been approved by the Public Utilities Commission.

The approval will permit provision of water to new subdivisions in the North Cowichan residential area bordering the city.

Fire Destroys Hay At Woodward Farm

SAANICHTON—An undetermined quantity of hay went up in flames Tuesday night in a fire that destroyed the second story of an old barn on the Woodwynn Farm, West Saanich Road.

Fire Chief Victor Heal of Central Saanich volunteer fire department said the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion in the hay. The barn, on Mount Newton Cross Road, measures 30 by 100 feet, and was used solely for hay storage. More than 40 volunteer firemen poured 25,000 gallons of water on the blaze between 5.30 and 10.30 p.m., and were hampered by having to haul water in tank trucks from Brentwood water works, three miles from the fire.

Mrs. M. Filby Buried Here

Burial at Royal Oak Cemetery followed a funeral service in Vancouver Saturday for Mrs. M. H. Filby, who practised chiropody here for many years under her maiden name of Coupe.

Mrs. Filby died Nov. 12 at the age of 69.

Born in England, she came to Victoria in 1913, then went to Chicago to study chiropody and beauty culture.

She returned here in 1918 as one of B.C.'s first woman chiropodists. Mrs. Filby also operated beauty salons and the B.C. School of Hairdressing in Victoria prior to 1933.

Surviving are a son, David Filby, Victoria; three sisters, Mrs. Lucy Malden and Mrs. Edith Jones, both of Victoria, and Mrs. Elsie Peirce, Nanaimo; three brothers, Alfred in Vancouver, Thomas in England, and Frederick Hetherington, Victoria.

JAMES ISLAND—Employees of the Canadian Industries Limited explosive plant here will be honored this week for achieving a record of 1,000,000 consecutive man-hours of work without a lost-time accident.

An award of merit will be presented to the organization by the B.C. Safety Council at the annual B.C. Safety conference Thursday and Friday in Vancouver.

The record, compiled over a period of three years and four months, covers the work of 170 employees engaged in the plant operation. The total includes maintenance and other auxiliary crews as well as actual production workers.

"It is expected that workers who are actually handling explosives will be safety conscious," said Harry Hamper, executive director of the safety council, "but the important aspect is that all other workers avoided sprains, falls, serious cuts and other lost-time accidents during that period."

Only other concerns to win the award of merit are Vancouver division of B.C. Forest Products Ltd., composing room chapel of the Vancouver Sun Publishing Co., and the British Columbia Manufacturing Co., a division of the Powell River Co.

All Indian Schools Under Same Order

CHEMAINUS—The Oblate missionaries have replaced the Montfort Fathers at the federal government residential school for Indian children at Kuper Island near here.

New principal is Rev. Herbert F. Dunlop, O.M.I., who has had 17 years experience in Oblate mission fields throughout Canada.

With the taking over of the Kuper Island school, the Oblates now direct all seven such federal government schools in British Columbia. The others are at Kamloops, Mission, Sechart, Cranbrook, Williams Lake and Lejac.

Kuper Island school was built by the federal government in 1890. The Montfort Fathers took over in 1903 and have operated the school until now.

Legion Women Plan Party at Chemainus

CHEMAINUS—The Canadian Legion Auxiliary will hold a card party in the Legion Hall, Saturday, where all proceeds will be used to retire one of the bonds on the Legion building. Nomination of officers will be held at the next meeting and a joint installation with Branch 191 will be held December 14.

Eskies Choice Tonight

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Eskimos and Winnipeg Blue Bombers meet tonight in the second game of the Western Interprovincial Football Union final and if pre-game indications mean anything, the sound of crackling leather will shatter the crisp night air.

Bombers, big in spirit and heart, showed in the first game they are big and tough in body as well. They will hit hard.

Eskimos, keyed to a victory pitch, are determined to hit back just as hard, maybe harder.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. (PST). The game will be aired on CKWX. A crowd of 19,000 or more is expected at Clarke Stadium. The weather will be cool—temperatures between 15 and 20 degrees—with partly cloudy skies and northerly winds of about 10 degrees. The field will be frozen.

BACKS TO WALL

Bombers can enter the Grey Cup final by winning tonight since they took a 1-0 lead in the best-of-three series with an upset 19-7 victory at Winnipeg last Saturday night. Eskimos must win to force a third game, Saturday.

The betting odds favor Eskimos on the game by about 15 points.

Many stories of injury have come from both camps, but neither coach has seriously believed what the other was reported to be saying.

Tuesday night, the word battle ended. Bombers flew to Edmonton, ate and bedded down for a quiet night of rest. They worked out for a final time just before the plane took off from Winnipeg.

"We've got a lot of spirit," said Bomber coach Bud Grant when he stepped off the plane, "but not much else. We're down to nine imports and we can't go much farther if we get any more injuries."

WILL MISS GRAY

He said guard Herb Gray, in Texas for his father's funeral, will be missed tonight. Import fullback Charlie Shepard and end Frank Gilliam, suffering leg and shoulder miseries, respectively, will be dressed, but Grant said they likely won't see much action. Nor will Ron Latour, a Canadian halfback, who suffered a charleyhorse.

Eskimos worked out for a little more than an hour Tuesday evening, then studied films for a while.

"We'll be trying real hard," said Esks' Frank Ivy, "but that doesn't always mean you'll win. If you're trying real hard and things go right for you, then you'll win. That's the difference."

Ivy's injury list was as long as Grant's. Defensive end Frank Anderson and fullback Mike Lashuk both will miss the game with knee and ankle injuries, respectively. Rolfe Miles and Jackie Parker are still having knee problems, Ken Hall has a broken nose, and Reed Henderson a sore leg. There is an assortment of lesser hurts, but Ivy insists each takes its toll.

Outside the training camps, football interest reached its highest point of the season here.

Earl Can't Find Foe for Archie

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fight promoter Earl Kalani of Vancouver has announced he has light-heavyweight boxing champion Archie Moore signed to top a boxing card at Exhibition Gardens Dec. 5. But he says he is having difficulty lining up a suitable opponent.

Kalani has been in touch with Canadian heavyweight champion George Chuvalo of Toronto and Seattle's Eddie Cotton, who held Moore to a 10-round decision earlier this month. He said Chuvalo turned down the match but Cotton is still considering it.

THAT'S ARMY VS. NAVY

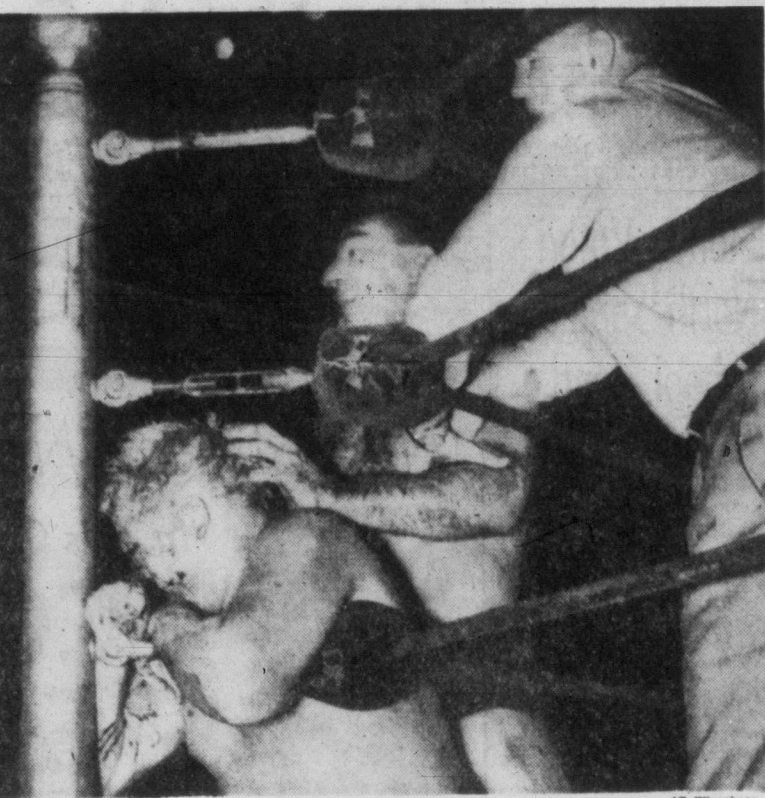

There's Really Only One Big Game

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK (UP)—They sat there together, the picture soldier and the navy sea-dog, and as they looked back into the past you knew what the Army-Navy game means to those in army posts around the world and aboard all the fighting ships at sea.

"The one that sticks in my mind," said Lt. Gen. Gar Davidson, superintendent of the U.S. Military Academy, "was a dark one, any way you look at it."

Rear Admiral Bill Smedberg, the Naval Academy superintendent, nodded silently.

"We were on the big retreat from North Korea," continued the handsome, white-haired Davidson, the

Martin, Tuttle Figure In 13-Man Trade Deal

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A 13-player trade between the Detroit Tigers and Kansas City Athletics with outfielder Bill Tuttle of the Tigers and infielder Billy Martin of the Athletics as key figures was announced today.

Going from the Athletics in the trade, besides Martin, was pitcher Tom Morgan and Mickey McDermott, outfielders Gus Zernial and Lou Skizas and catcher Tim Thompson.

For these they will receive, besides Tuttle, outfielder Jim Small, pitchers Duane Maas and John Taitouris, catcher Frank House and two players to be selected later.

The announcements were made here and at Detroit.

The deal was completed Tuesday night between Arnold Johnson, president of the Kansas City club, and John McHale, general manager of the Detroit club.

The two players to be named later will come out of the Detroit farm system and the Athletics are to get their choice.

It was the biggest deal in Detroit's history. The Tigers' biggest previous player transaction was an eight-player swap with Cleveland Indians in 1963.

Martin, who came to the A's from the Yankees last June in a similar package deal, unquestionably is the key man in this trade. Although his batting average slipped to .251 in 118 games this year, he was sought by every club in the league except the Yankees.

Famed as a hustling, holler-type ball player, Martin appeared in five world series for the Yankees before he fell from their good graces last May as a result of a night club brawl that marked the celebration of his birthday.

Martin, one of Casey Stengel's favorites while he was with the Yankees, is still considered one of the better second basemen in the American League although he can play third and shortstop also.

RUGBY PRACTICE

First practice of the season will be held by JBAA senior English rugby players tonight at Macdonald Park at 6:45. All players and any others interested are asked to be on time.

KENNEDY RETURNED

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bill Kennedy, veteran southpaw pitcher, was sold outright to Seattle, of the Pacific Coast League, by Cincinnati Redlegs Tuesday. Kennedy was brought up from Seattle late last season.

COUGARS ALSO KNOW HOW YOU FEEL, KENNY!

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Kenny MacKenzie, manager of Kamloops Chiefs of the Okanagan Senior Hockey League, says he'll swim the Thompson River if someone gives him a defenceman.

"And I'm not a good swimmer," he added.

MacKenzie lost Gerry Lernaghan Friday night when the burly defenceman suffered a shoulder separation in a collision with Vernon's Ted Lebodia. Lernaghan is expected to be out of action for at least two weeks.

CANUCK KICKER

Steve Puts 'Foot Back in Football

HAMILTON (CP)—Hamilton Tiger-Cats, who have been helped through many a tight spot by one talented toe, are discovering a second in their drive towards the Big Four Football Union crown.

The possessor of the second toe is stocky Steve Oneschuk, whose dramatic field goals are making the fans in this football-mad city forget the towering punts of Cam Fraser.

In their last two games—the first game they first place, the second—a seven-point margin over Montreal Alouettes in the opener of the total-point series for the Big Four title—Tcats scored only 30 points; Oneschuk made 15 of them.

Hamilton meets Alouettes Saturday in the second and final game for the title and if the game follows last week's pattern the St. Catharines, Ont., boy will once again be called on to keep the Tiger-Cats out in front.

THREE FIELD GOALS

Last Saturday in Montreal he booted three field goals for nine of his team's 17 points and added another on the conversion of their only touchdown as they won 17-10.

When he arrived in the Tiger-Cat camp in 1955, Tim Logan, a superlative convert man, was handling the placements, but former coach Carl Voyles quickly saw Oneschuk's ability on the long ones and coach Jim Trimble rapidly became an Oneschuk man on his arrival last year.

Trimble was heartened Tuesday by the news that tackle Dave Suminski, who broke his hand in Saturday's game, will play this week in spite of the injury.

TURNOUT SINKING

Flyers Step Past Saskatoon Squad

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Flyers beat Saskatoon-St. Paul Regals 6-1 in a Western Hockey League game Tuesday night before 2,600 fans, the smallest crowd of the season.

The score resulted in Flyers and Regals switching places in the Prairie Division. Edmonton now is half a game behind the idle Winnipeg Warriors and Saskatoon-St. Paul is a half game further back in third.

Edmonton's goals were scored by Len Lundie, Chuck Holmes, Metro Prystai, Frank Roggeveen, Billy McNeill and Jerry Melnyk.

BREAKS RIGGIN'S SHUTOUT
Saskatoon-St. Paul's lone counter, fired by defenceman Bob Chrystal, ended 105 minutes and 49 seconds of shutout hockey by goalie Dennis Riggins, of the Flyers. Riggins got a shutout in his last game, went 37 minutes and 35 seconds in this game and the previous shot that beat him was two games ago at 11:46 of the third period.

Lundie opened the scoring after five minutes of the first period when his foot-high shot from just inside the blue line beat goalie Lucien Dechene of Regals. Holmes, after carrying down the ice alone, caught an outside corner with a 25-foot shot inches off the ice.

Bob Kabel of Regals was in the penalty box when Flyers scored their third and fourth goals. Kabel was off for elbowing when Prystai backhanded his own rebound from the crease. It was the sixth straight game in which Prystai had scored.

Kabel was again off for elbowing when Roggeveen counted from 10 feet out after taking a pass from Prystai. Chrystal tallied from 20 feet out when he caught Riggins on the far side of the net as Regals sent five men on an attack.

After six minutes of the third period, McNeill, at the crease, flicked the puck under Dechene. Thirteen minutes later Dechene blocked a shot but was turned around facing the crowd when Melnyk scored from close in.

Fort William In Top Shape

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—Fort William Redskins left by train for Montreal today on the first part of a trip that will take them to Halifax to meet Shearwater Flyers next Saturday in the Canadian intermediate football championship. They will fly to Halifax from Montreal.

Redskins, in excellent condition except for a few minor injuries, are undefeated in league and playoff play so far this year and a win at Halifax would give them their first Canadian championship and an undefeated season.

Undefeated and untied, the Redskins this year captured the three-team Lakeside Rugby Football Union title for the eighth straight season, swept the three-game league playoffs in straight games and convincingly knocked over the Manitoba champion St. Vital Bulldogs and British Columbia champion Oak Bay Drakes.

In that 10-game stretch they piled up 315 points while limiting the opposition to just 65. In the four playoff games the totals were 124 for and only 24 against.

D and D will be going against defending Western Canada junior champions, Victoria College Vikings, in an 8 o'clock session while Meteors take on Victoria Polyettes in Women's Senior "B" action in the 7 p.m. opener.

WHEREVER THEY SERVE

ging sea fight off Savo and now men like Smedberg, on his own in a gallant little destroyer, defied the enemy in one-ship sorties aimed at cutting the Japanese supply lifeline to island-entranced troops.

"I had just tuned in for the kickoff," Smedberg reflected, "and while the reception was very faint, at least I could hear most of it."

But just as the kickoff soared through the air back in Annapolis, where the game was played—that year, the sonar man turned on the submarine alarm.

"We went after him, dropping aschams all over the place," Smedberg said. "Then as the action ended, my mind went back to the game. But it was over or, at least, I couldn't get anything anymore."

They stayed out on that lonesome patrol another full week and, Smedberg recalls, "I almost went crazy wondering who won."

Finally one of our cruisers loomed on the horizon and Smedberg dashed to the blinker light.

"Who won the Army game?" he blinked.

The answer flickered back: "Army."

"My heart sank," Smedberg grinned. "But they were pulling my leg."

For the message, finished, was: "Army 0, Navy 14."

Which makes it clear why, for the fighting men, this one is "the game."

Front-Running Canucks Paste Americans 7-3

Victoria Cougar coach Pat Egan will be playing a hunch tonight when the Cats face second-place New Westminster Royals at Memorial Arena in their Western Hockey League contest.

"I've been thinking about making some changes in the team for the past week," he said Tuesday at practice. "But every time I go to do it, something just doesn't seem right to me."

"We've got good combinations working and I sure don't want to do anything to break them up now."

TIED FOR SECOND

Royals are tied with Seattle Americans, five points behind division-leading Vancouver Canucks.

Seattle lost out in its bid for second spot Monday night when they dropped a 7-3 decision to Canucks in Vancouver.

Don Hamilton turned in his first performance for the Americans since taking over for Hank Bassen, and acquitted himself well.

Americans lost, but it was through no lack on Donnie's part as he turned aside 33 shots to Marcel Pelletier's 23 during the contest.

Royals will be going without the services of hard-checking Bob Bergeron, who is sidelined a week or so with a broken cheek bone.

Egan will go on one defensive line with Warren Back while Nels Bullock and Carl Kaiser will team up on the other.

ALL DRESS

He won't be benched, though, and Egan will dress his full team, holding Kilburn in reserve as a utility player.

Other than that, all lines will be intact, with Ed Dorohoy centering Colin Kilburn and Doug Macauley, Gordy Wilson leading Larry Leach and Freddie Brown, and Gordon Howarth leading Blinky Boyce and Frank Milne.

Royals have lost three fewer games than the Cougars but Victoria has three games in hand.

With this combination, the distance from fourth to third place in the league standing diminishes greatly, and tonight would be as good a night as any for the Cougars to start their move.

Game time tonight is 8:30. Tickets will be on sale right up to game time at the arena ticket office.

Canucks compiled their highest scoring game in a home stand this year in defeating the Americans.

Phil Maloney and Orland Kurtenbach, Canucks' top point-getters, fattened their totals with three points apiece. Maloney got two goals and an assist, while Kurtenbach scored a goal and set up two others.

Other scorers for Canucks were Ron Hutchinson, Elliot Chorley, Red Johansen and Jackie McLeod. Seattle scorers were Ray Kinasevich, who put two in the net, and Guyle Fielder.

Riot Breaks Out At Rasslin' Show

NEW YORK (UP)—Professional wrestlers fought "for real" and several hundred fans joined in Tuesday night in an after-the-match riot at Madison Square Garden.

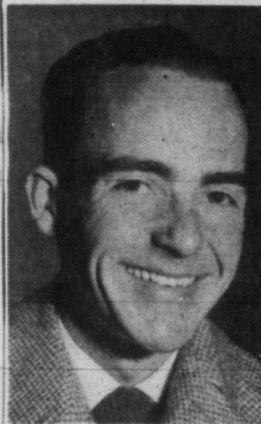

Two wrestlers and two policemen were injured and several hundred chairs were broken, along with bottles—one on a policeman's head—and a glass case for a fire hose. The ring-side area was left in a shambles.

Details of 33 policemen had to be called to aid the regular Garden force of 30 specials in quieting the rioters. Three men were arrested. The police then had difficulty getting the 13,000 spectators to leave the arena.

When wrestlers Antonio Rocca and Eduardo Carpentier won the evening's featured tag-team match by default, their opponents, Dr. Jerry Graham and Dick Afflis, showed a desire to continue the match.

Other Royal scorers were Warren Lowe, with three, and Grant Ody, with two, while Larry Johnston and Paul Blon each scored twice for Capitals, while Wayne Anderson picked up a single.

In early morning action, Maroons scored the league's first shutout, a 3-0 decision over Senators. Larry Riggs tallied twice and Bob Robinson once for Maroons.

GOLF HOST at international golf match and clinic Sunday at the Gorge Vale Club is Victoria pro Bob Fleming (above), who will team up with Joe Pryke in foursome battle against Ken Still and Gene Counter, Washington State sharpshooters. Clinic gets under way at 12 noon.

Als' Boss Says He's Stepping Out

MONTREAL (CP)—Leo Dandurand, one of Montreal's most widely known sportsmen, said Tuesday he will retire as president of Montreal Alouettes Football Club next March.

Dandurand, 68, said he thinks younger shoulders should take over the load.

He said he will still retain some connection with the club but at present doesn't know just what it will be.

Dandurand has twice headed the Alouettes. He was president when the present Big Four League club was formed in Montreal in 1946 and he had a hand in giving the club its new name—Alouettes. The club immediately preceding it was known as the Hornets.

Dandurand reorganized the set-up and remained as president until 1951, when Montreal businessman took over. Dandurand was back again in 1954, when another reorganization came about and Ted Workman, young Montreal businessman, bought controlling interest and became vice-president. Dandurand was named president.

In his earlier days Dandurand was a prominent figure in the National Hockey League as owner of Montreal Canadiens. With Joe Cattarachi, Dandurand bought Canadiens in 1921 for $11,000. They sold out in 1935 to the Canadian Arena Company, present owners, for $165,000.

Dandurand said there is no disagreement between him and his Alouette associates. He recalled that last June in Toronto he told newspaper men he would be stepping out as Alouette president next March, when the club's fiscal year ends.

OUTDOOR REPORT BY Doug Peden

MEMO TO B.C. HUNTERS:

Those of us who enjoy the time we can spend with a rifle or gun in British Columbia's forests, fields or marshes are faced with a continual struggle.

Many of our neighbors believe all hunters are cruel and careless creatures. We realize they usually feel that way because they don't understand. But we know that we cannot relax in our battle to convince them that only a small portion of our fraternity is responsible for the bad reports they hear. And the best way we can do it is by building a better reputation through greater use of consideration and caution.

Some claim it is wrong to shoot animals. We believe hunting is a natural instinct and that only those who are strict vegetarians have any excuse to criticize our form of recreation. But we have no rebuttal for the strongest opposition against hunting because we sometimes kill ourselves.

Considering the number of hours we spend hunting, we think ours is a reasonably safe recreation. Many of us feel safer in the woods during hunting season than driving in Sunday traffic. But more people understand about cars and, although both result from carelessness, a shooting fatality causes more furor than a highway death.

We know we're not as bad as some would paint us.

Licensed to Kill—But Not Each Other

But let's face it: we have a shameful record.

Here we are, only a little more than half way through the 1957-58 hunting season and we are already three above our former all-time high in hunting fatalities. At the rate we're going, we could double the shocking total of eight deaths recorded in B.C. last season.

There are more than 90,000 of us in the province holding firearms licences. We are licensed to kill—but not each other.

We feel that three of the deaths could have happened to hikers, campers or fishermen and shouldn't be blamed on hunting. One was lost and given up for dead, two died of fumes from a stove while sleeping in a cabin.

That leaves us with eight shooting fatalities and a larger number of wounding. It works out at one shooting death among about 12,000 hunters. We could say that is a small percentage, if we didn't know there should be no such thing as a shooting accident.

And we have to admit the number of fatalities is climbing at a faster rate than our ranks are increasing.

Statistics show that we lost six men through hunting accidents of all kinds during the 1954-55 season, when there were 81,709 firearms licences sold. We did better the following year, losing only five of 83,459.

A Little Thinking May Save a Life

We thought we had our blackest season last year, when eight fatalities were chalked up among almost 90,000 licensed hunters. But so far this season, we have had 11. And each one has been a retreat in the battle against public opinion.

All of the deaths could have been avoided.

We all know that a gun properly carried can't kill its handler or his companions, even if it discharges accidentally. It should never be aimed at anything that has not been identified as an animal or bird we intend to kill.

Unloaded and placed out of the way when not in use, a gun can't kill a man. We know a gun is not dangerous. It's the man behind it.

We know that loss of life through being lost in the woods can be avoided if we take the trouble to learn how to travel in the woods and to carry adequate equipment. Preparation and knowledge defeat panic, the main cause of death among lost hunters.

Most of us are sure we won't get in a position where we can be overpowered by fumes or find ourselves out in deep water in an overloaded or leaky boat.

Accidents can happen to the other fellow, but not to us. Yet they have happened too often and we're losing the struggle to have non-hunters recognize hunting as a safe and healthy recreation.

Perhaps you're not as careful as you believe. It may be time to take stock of your habits. A little thinking now may save a life—and it may be your own.

Okanagan Tilts Tough, But Warriors in Romp

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Kamloops Chiefs defeated Penticton V's 5-4 and Kelowna Packers beat Vernon Canadians 4-2 in overtime in two hard-fought Okanagan Senior Hockey League contests Tuesday night.

In the Western International League, Rossland Warriors defeated Nelson Maple Leafs 12-1 in the worst shellacking of the season.

More than 1,400 fans saw Penticton score two goals and pull goalie George Wood in the dying minute in an effort to close up after Kamloops entered the third period with a 4-2 edge. Chiefs' Bill Hryciuk was awarded a penalty shot after his goal attempt was blocked by defenceman Kevin Conway.

Kamloops marksmen were rookie Ron Leopold, who scored twice; Bill and Dick Warwick and Gerry Prince. Penticton scorers were Dave Wall, Bob Harper, Lowell Dykstra and Al Lloyd.

Kelowna and Vernon were even all the way until the overtime frame. Odie Lowe scored on his third shot at Kelowna goalie Dave Gathrum. Packers tied with a shot by Greg Jablonski.

Vernon's Frank King scored on a deceptive play in the second minute of overtime, but Jim Middleton came back two minutes later, letting a shot go over Vernon goalie Hal Gordon's shoulder. Brian Roche pulled Gordon out of the net to sink the winning goal and Al Shaefer added the insurance marker in the final minute.

In WIHL play, Rossland were leading 3-0 at the end of the first period and kept piling them on. Nelson scored their lone marker in the second period, but Rossland had added six more by the end of the frame.

Leftwinger Leo Lucchini led the Warriors with three goals and two assists, the remaining markers being scored by Alex Birukow, Norm Lenardon, McIntyre, Gil Desrosiers, Frank Turk, George Ferguson and Yogi Kraiger.

League-leading scorer Lee Hyslop saved the Maple Leafs from a complete washout.

Vic High Juniors Pad Win Streak

In Inter-High School Junior Rugby League action recently, Oak Bay Whites fought to a 0-0 draw at Esquimalt and the Vic High squad scored its third consecutive win, downing Oak Bay Greens, 6-0.

At Esquimalt, action saw-sawed back and forth as the teams played to the first tie in league competition this season.

David Reese went across for Vic High in the first half, but the Vics, who lack a proficient kicker, missed the convert and had to be content with a 3-0 lead. Keith Gray picked up the other try late in the second half.

The Vics have now downed each team in the league.

Oak Bay's Defending Task Won't be Easy

Lansdowne are the present holders of the Canadian Legion Junior Boys Relay Trophy and showed well in the B.C. championships in all but the diving events. There is no diving in this competition.

Friday is the closing date for entries. It is expected that there will be other entries from Colquitz, Belmont and Royal Oak.

Indoor Rinks Not New To Russian Pucksters

TORONTO (CP)—Indoor arenas and artificial ice won't bother the Russian hockey team in its seven-game swing through Ontario and Quebec, team officials said on arrival here early today. These conditions aren't new to them.

Moscow has had a 14,000-seat arena complete with artificial ice since 1956. So the Russians, who topped Canada from its Olympic perch in Italy last year, aren't looking for any excuses against junior and senior teams.

"It won't be difficult to play under these conditions in this country," said Col. Pavel Korotkov, chairman of the Soviet Ice Hockey Federation, in an interview. The players might find it a little bothersome to adjust themselves to atmospheric conditions, but they are quietly confident they can hold their own on the ice.

Wearily after more than two days in the air, the Russians headed for their downtown hotel and sleep shortly after their arrival by plane at 5 a.m.

PRACTICE IN GANDER

They left Moscow Monday morning, arrived at Gander, Nfld., early Tuesday and took advantage of a stopover to practice. They took a milk-run journey to Montreal, stopping off at Sydney, N.S., and Halifax en route and their plane landed at suburban Malton airport nearly two hours late.

Col. Korotkov, who heads the 26-man party, readily admitted through an interpreter that this wasn't Russia's strongest team, nor is it the team that will play in the world amateur championships at Oslo next Feb. 28-March 9.

"Some of this team will play in Oslo," he said. But personnel of the club for the world championships won't be decided until after the European tournament at Stockholm early in December.

The Russians open their tour Friday night here against Whitby Dunlops, Canada's representatives in the world championships. Then they play in Windsor, Kitchener, Sudbury, Montreal, Kingston, and Ottawa before heading for Stockholm Dec. 8.

The team is a composite all-star club from the Dynamos, Soviet Wings and Central Sports Club of the ministry of defence in Moscow.

A busy schedule has been lined up for the Russians.

They will practice at Maple Leaf Gardens this afternoon, attend a press reception and tonight will watch the Chicago Toronto National Hockey League game.

FOREIGN COMPETITION HITS U.S. STEEL MART

The chief reason is what The Observer describes as the apparent unwillingness of all but a minority of British manufacturers "to divert business away from domestic and European buyers and to take the long-term capital risk of setting up an efficient after-sales service across the Atlantic."

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP)—Trade was quiet and prices somewhat irregular today on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

Outside reports said four cargoes of Canadian wheat and one cargo of Canadian barley were sold overnight to Japan.

None of the barley business, however, was reflected in the trade. Oats and barley had mostly domestic orders, although some American selling appeared in oats.

Flax dealings were less active, with international interests on both sides of the market. Hedges and other offerings were light. Prices showed a fairly steady undertone.

There was no feature to the rice trade.

Overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat included: Japan 44,000 bushels, Soviet Russia 34,000, United Kingdom 250,000, West Germany 170,000, Belgium 105,000 and Portuguese East Africa.

Lakehead prices for class two, IWA and domestic wheat were unchanged from Tuesday.

LONG WAY THERE, LONG WAY BACK

London Paper Offers Reward For First Visitor to Moon

NEW YORK (UP)—A London newspaper is offering a big pile of money for the first man to reach the moon and return in the next 10 years, regardless of nationality.

The prize is 50,000 British pounds, which works out, at the present exchange rates, to about $140,000—or, I hasten to add, 560,000 rubles.

Or, for that matter, 56,000,000 yen; 58,800,000 francs, or 700,000 rupees, in case the Japanese, French or Indians are listening.

The paramount thing to remember, in case you plan on entering the contest, is that in order to enjoy the money you ought to try to come back alive. After all, it's a long journey, and while you're shooting for the moon it would be well to remember that as soon as you get there you will automatically become the first man ever to be shooting for the earth and a sure shot in both directions is indicated.

Another London newspaper recently offered to give away a man as the prize in a circulation contest. It did, too.

There is at hand today still a third London newspaper, last Wednesday's edition of the tabloid Daily Mirror.

In the letters department, a lady signing herself "Flossie" from Aberavon, Glamorgan, complained that "my husband, who is crazy on darts, can always 'lose' himself if there is a game anywhere." She said she gave him a rolling pin for his birthday, and every darts night she leaves it on the table near the door for him to see when he comes home from the pub.

On the rolling pin she has engraved this verse: "Your supper is on the hearth, dear—a pipe and a book that's new. Your slippers are by the fire, dear. But where the hell are you?"

You can't tell anything about a town unless you live there, but from what filters to us across the sea we get the impression that the state of the press in London town is, as a Britisher might say, not unvigorous.

Army Shifts Appointments For Generals

OTTAWA (CP)—Retirement of one general and new appointments for three others were announced Monday by Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes.

Maj.-Gen. Michael Leo Brennan, 53, adjutant-general, will retire from the army March 31 after more than 36 years' service.

Gen. Brennan will be succeeded as adjutant-general by Maj.-Gen. George Klitching, 47, now vice-chief of the general staff.

Maj.-Gen. Chris Vokes, 53, chief of western command, will come to Ottawa as vice-chief of the general staff.

He will be succeeded at Edmonton by Brig. Jean Victor Allard, 44, who will be promoted to major-general April 1. Brig. Allard now is commander of eastern Quebec area.

NEW ENVOY — Escott M. Reid, 51, a member of the Canadian delegation to the General Assembly of the United Nations, has been appointed Canadian ambassador to West Germany and head of the Canadian military mission in Berlin. He previously was Canadian high commissioner to India. (CP Photo).

Three Full-Time Dentists For Schools Recommended

Greater Victoria school board will recommend to the department of public health that three dentists and assistants be employed on a full-time basis to take care of school dental problems and check-ups in the district.

At present there are two full-time and one half-time dentists employed, and with increased enrolments the time available for each examination is limited.

Recommendation would be to take effect Jan. 1, 1958.

About four members of Greater Victoria school board will attend the day-long seventh conference of B.C. Adult Education Council in Vancouver, Nov. 27.

Turbo-Thrust V8 WITH TURBOGLIDE

The Impala Sport Coupe—one of two new super models!

Newest, quickest combination on the road!

Chevrolet's radical new Turbo-Thrust V8 and honey-smooth Turboglide* automatic drive form a performance team that spells action. At all speeds, under all driving conditions, they give you the quickest, smoothest response of anything going.

Try Chevy's new power pair — just for the pure pleasure of seeing how quickly a car can respond to your touch. Just to see how this new breed of V8 and this super-smooth automatic drive team up for action. There's never been an engine-drive combination like this one! Chevrolet's Turbo-Thrust V8* introduces a radical new slant on engine efficiency. The combustion chambers are located in the block rather than in the head, and chamber surfaces are precision machined. The result is a wonderfully smooth and even flow of power.

Turboglide — the other half of the team — is the first and only triple-turbine automatic drive in Chevy's field. It takes you from a standstill through cruising in one continuous sweep of motion, without even a hint of a shift or lag. Harness these triple-turbines to a 250-h.p. Turbo-Thrust V8 — or the 280-h.p. Super Turbo-Thrust*—and you step out instantly in any speed range. Nothing else on the roads turns your touch into action so quickly, so smoothly.

Your Chevrolet dealer offers an assortment of engine-drive teams for '58. A famous Blue-Flame 6, and five vigorous V8's. Five different transmissions, including Powerglide and Turboglide, both optional at extra cost. But before you name your favorite pair, by all means try Turbo-Thrust with Turboglide — the quickest, smoothest combination on the road!

*Optional at extra cost.

MONTE ROBERTS

Maclean's Magazine has come out in favor of having Christmas always fall on a Monday.

As a man whose birthday is May 24, and who has seen May 24 fall on May 21, 22, 23, 25 and 26, I am congenitally opposed to any such fooling around with the calendar.

But before proceeding further, it is necessary to admit that Maclean's makes a strong case for Christmas on a Monday—instead of, for instance, a Wednesday, as it is this year. Maclean's suggests that a week fractured by a holiday in the middle is practically a lost week.

To quote: "We all go to our jobs half-heartedly on Monday and Tuesday, with our thoughts on Christmas, and we return to our jobs Thursday and Friday wishing we were home in bed."

Maclean's claims there should be no religious objections. "While the day celebrates the birth of the Saviour, no one knows for sure what day or even what year He was born."

To avoid a theological argument, let us consider the point of view expressed by Maclean's which interests me most:

"...most people, if it were put to a vote, would probably favor a law that would provide that Christmas would always come on a Monday."

This idea of taking a popular vote to change the calendar is intriguing, to say the least, and in a democracy is worthy of earnest consideration.

Why not vote on what day should come on which day? (Or is it which day should come on what day?)

Old Vic's Uncle Zeke, for instance, would no doubt vote for Monday coming on Tuesday, at the earliest, and preferably Wednesday.

And his vote would be supported by many another week-end.

To carry this a bit further, a plebiscite on a law reducing the week before pay day to three days—possibly two—would receive universal support.

And a law making the first two weeks in July at least 14 days long apiece would be strongly supported by all those whose holidays fall during the first two weeks of July.

There is another matter which Maclean's should take into consideration when suggesting laws which affect the calendar.

This is the difference between years.

Our present system of having 365 days for three out of every four years could well be improved.

Some years are good years, some years are bad years. For instance, the year when you are 19 and have your first job, and a dollar in your pocket and a girl on your arm—

THAT year should certainly last more than 365 days.

Give the 19-year-olds a vote, and THAT year would last forever.

On the contrary, there are other years—1914 and 1939, to name only two—which should have been voted out of existence entirely.

The more I talk this over with myself, the more I begin to believe Maclean's has something.

Let us run the calendar on the basis of the popular vote. Is this, or is this not, a democracy?

"Make sure it's meat..."

'Faked Up' Fowl Have Phony Fat

B.C. housewives today were warned against buying turkeys that are "faked up" to look fatter than they are.

Vancouver Island Poultry Co. Op. Association complained that a high percentage of turkeys are being sold as Grade A although they lack the necessary amount of fat for this grade.

H. D. Arnold, Duncan poultry farmer, told the B.C. Federation of Agriculture at its 24th annual convention of a process by which turkeys are given a "bleached out" look to deceive poultry graders.

"This is known as the hard scald process," Mr. Arnold said. "Turkeys are first plunged into boiling water and then into freezing cold water."

"This gives them a bleached-out look and creates a layer of air under the skin which makes them look fatter than they are."

"It is high time the housewife was protected against these deceptions."

The B.C. federation gave unanimous support to a resolution aimed at "de-grading" the turkey with the phony fat.

It urged the federal government to instruct inspectors to adhere strictly to the grade standards for turkeys, particularly in their interpretation of the fat factor.

Egg Competition Claimed 'Unfair'

The federal government was today asked to remove 180,000 cases of surplus eggs from the Canadian market.

The B.C. Federation of Agriculture, at its 24th annual convention, complained that the government's storage eggs are competing unfairly with farmers producing fresh eggs.

The federation passed a resolution asking the government to "dispose of this surplus in such a manner that it will be removed from the Canadian market."

"There is at present no way by which the housewife can distinguish these 'storage' eggs from Grade A fresh eggs," said producer Eric Flowerdew of Aldergrove, B.C.

"They are making it difficult for the producer to sell Grade A eggs even at the reduced price of 32 cents a dozen."

"We don't care what the government does with these eggs so long as they get them off the market," Mr. Flowerdew added.

"They can send them to China for all we care."

A spokesman for the B.C. Federation suggested that the storage eggs could either be powdered and sold to bakeries, or they could be sold at slightly reduced prices to charitable institutions.

The federation recommended that all storage eggs should be placed in containers marked "storage eggs."

It further suggested that, during periods of heavy storing, at least a portion of storage eggs should be placed on the export market—if necessary below the floor price.

Another resolution still before the convention asks the provincial government to revise the Eggs Mark Act to make it compulsory for the container as well as the eggs to be stamped as to their country of origin.

Under discussion this afternoon was a resolution to prevent U.S. exporters from downgrading top-grade vegetables in order to undercut Canadian prices.

Seamen Fined For Attacking Cafe Manager

Two naval seamen who beat up a downtown cafe manager early last Friday were fined in city police court today.

Wallace Adamson was fined $100 and Russell S. Poag $75 for assault causing bodily harm to Glenn Foster.

Adamson was considered to have been more responsible than Poag because he kicked Foster after the man slumped to the floor with arm, head and eye injuries.

UNCALLED FOR

"This was an entirely uncalled for assault," Magistrate H. C. Hall told the pair.

"It seems clear that if you hadn't been drinking it would not have happened. I note that neither of you have any record and both of your superior officers speak very highly of you."

Trouble started when the men refused to behave and Foster went to telephone for police.

New Peace River Bridge Assured

Ottawa to Build Span At No Cost to B.C.

The federal government has definite plans to build another Alaska Highway Bridge over the Peace River at Fort St. John.

This was made clear today by Justice Minister Davie Fulton, who said he would meet with B.C. Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi to discuss the matter. Ottawa does not expect B.C. to bear any of the cost of rebuilding the bridge that collapsed last month, Mr. Fulton said.

There has been a proposal that the provincial highways department take over at least the first 50 miles of the Alaska Highway, which would include the span at Taylor.

The federal government has been responsible for maintenance of the highway since it was turned over to Ottawa by the U.S. Army at the end of the war.

NO DETAILS

Mr. Fulton said he would not disclose details of the federal plan for a new bridge until after meeting with Mr. Gagliardi.

The justice minister was also to meet with provincial government officials late this afternoon to discuss ways of averting a shutdown of the Britannia copper mine.

The discussions were to be with Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan and Labor Minister Lyle Wilks.

Mr. Fulton said he was "gratified" that the mine owners had decided at a meeting in New York Tuesday to defer the closure to see if anything can be done. The jobs of 800 miners are at stake.

The justice minister met with company officials in Vancouver Tuesday and after his discussions today will make recommendations to the federal cabinet.

SUBSIDIES

Among the proposals under consideration are federal subsidies to keep the mine going, and stockpiling of the copper by the government as a defence measure.

"A number of possibilities are being considered," Mr. Fulton said.

The minister said the government was aware it may be faced by similar requests from other mining concerns if it moves to help Britannia, but felt this should not prevent it from investigating the problem.

BUSY DAY

Mr. Fulton arrived this morning aboard the CPR overnight boat from Vancouver and leaves by air this evening.

He began his busy day by making a brief "non-political" speech at a breakfast sponsored jointly by local Conservatives and the Victoria Bar Association.

About 100 persons attended.

Later in the morning he spoke before the B.C. Federation of Agriculture convention.

Mr. Fulton gave an outline of the Conservative government's agricultural program for the present session of Parliament, and said much remained to be done.

The minister said he was confident the disposal problems faced by Canadian farmers resulting from U.S. dumping policies will be "modified" by discussions between the two countries.

At the same time, he warned B.C. farmers they must face competition of "an extremely intense type" from other countries, particularly the U.S.

POTATO KING of B.C. is John Pendray, 4160 Blenkinsop, who won trophy at 14th annual B.C. potato conference in Burnaby. A dairy farmer, he grows potatoes as rotation crop to improve pasture, averaged 25.5 tons per acre on his seven-acre planting. His 48-acre farm is on south side of Blenkinsop Lake. (Times photo.)

Cool Cold Colder

Temperatures in sheltered areas of Greater Victoria will drop to an estimated 25 degrees overnight, or well below freezing point of 32 degrees, weatherman William Mackie predicted today.

"Skies will be clear for the next two days, with plenty of sunshine Thursday and most of Friday," he said. "But clear skies usually mean cold nights, and it will be really chilly in areas where the wind can't keep the air stirred up."

Stone Plaque, Fence For Old Cherry Tree

A cherry tree planted in 1850 by James Douglas, founder of Victoria and father of British Columbia, will be marked with a stone plaque next spring by Victoria section, B.C. Historical Association.

When Douglas built his house on the edge of the mud flats of James Bay, he planted Victoria's first orchard, and the tree to be marked is the last of that orchard.

It stands today close to Elliott Street, in the government employees' parking lot.

The historical association's local section is giving the plaque with part of a donation from its patron, Lieut.-Gov. Frank M. Ross.

The department of recreation and conservation will build a granite and iron fence around the historic tree.

The Victoria section of the Historical Association also has voted $25 each to the Songhees Reserve recreation hall for Indian youth, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Sam Josephs, and ship of Mrs. Sam Josephs, and to the restoration of the old stone church at Cowichan, which is the centennial project of the Cowichan Band of Indians and the Native Sons Lodge of Duncan.

Next meeting of the historical association's Victoria section will be Wednesday, Nov. 27, in the Douglas Building cafeteria, when Mrs. T. Harry Johns will speak on early missionary history of Victoria and British Columbia.

Move to Expand Safety Group Due Next Week

A move to expand the recently-formed Greater Victoria District Chapter—B.C. Safety Council, will be made at an open meeting in the B.C. Electric building next Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The chapter hopes to broaden membership in its traffic, industrial and community sections by enlisting the co-operation of all official agencies involved in public safety and other groups interested in accident prevention.

General questions on the Safety Council will be answered at the meeting.

Duncan motorist Sodhi Ram Jaswal, 23, was treated for a minor knee injury and discharged from St. Joseph's Hospital Tuesday after he was involved in a three-car collision at 1:20 p.m.

Police said his auto was in collision with another at Caledonia and Blanshard, driver of which was identified as Robert J. Tate, 4211 Cedar Glen.

Jaswal's car swerved over the intersection and was in collision with an auto driven by Alfred B. Carter, 4901 Cordova Bay, which was at a stop sign.

The spare tire, and wheel from Jaswal's car broke loose and rolled across a parking lot, striking a fourth auto, but causing no damage. There was heavy damage to Jaswal's car.

City Group to Present Gold Medal to Princess

Victoria Numismatic Society will present a solid gold centennial medal to Princess Margaret when she visits B.C. next year.

Announcement was made today by president Al Klenman, who estimated the cost would be about $150.

The medal will be identical to bronze and silver ones being struck for the society at the Royal Mint in England.

They feature a bust of Sir James Douglas, first governor of B.C., on the front, and a picture of the Legislative Building with the inscription 1858-1958 on the reverse side.

Some bronze medals still are available, Mr. Klenman said.

An official presentation of a bronze and a silver medal will be made to Princess Margaret.

Local Liberals Name Officers

Forrest L. Shaw was re-elected Tuesday night as president of the Victoria Liberal Association at the annual meeting.

Other officers named include: Hugh D. Ramsay, first vice-president; Mrs. J. L. Gates, second vice-president; Arthur H. Cox, secretary, and John A. McLellan, treasurer.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. What's the most thickly populated state in the United States?

A. As the song says about Rhode Island, it's the smallest of the states and heaviest on people. Its population density is nearly 750 per square mile.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

BLANKET FOR BRUSSELS

Last craftsman with the skill to make Chilkat blankets, originally won by ruling families of Kwakwaka'wakw tribe, is Mrs. Mungo Martin, wife of Victoria's famed totem carver. Mrs. Martin has started work on blanket which will be part of Canadian arts craft display at the Universal and International Exhibition at Brussels in 1958. Inset shows blanket hand-woven by Mrs. Martin and presented to Queen Elizabeth at the time of her coronation.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Miss Dorothy Collier, president of the B.C. Pre-School Association and nursery school director at the Greater Vancouver Cerebral Palsy Clinic, will address a general meeting of the Cerebral Palsy Association at the Royal Jubilee Hospital Monday at 8 p.m. Her talk on "The Basic Principles of Pre-School Education" will be illustrated with a short film. Plans for the expansion of the clinic will be discussed. The meeting will be open to the public.

Victoria city parks committee Tuesday turned down a proposal for restricting the freedom of dogs on Beacon Hill Park waterfront. Parks administrator W. H. Warren asked dogs be required to be leashed in all park areas. The park area south of Dallas Road has in the past been reserved for "running" dogs, although they are required to be on a leash in the park proper. The committee said it would not impose further restrictions unless there were complaints.

Canadian Legion, Esquimalt branch 172, will meet at the Esquimalt Legion Hall, Admirals Road, tonight at 8.

A joint recital in aid of St. Mary's Anglican Church building fund, will be given Nov. 29 by John Dunbar, baritone, and Margaret Abbott, soprano.

The two well-known Victoria singers will be accompanied by Richard Prossman at the piano. A fine program of oratorio excerpts, French and German folk songs, is planned.

St. Mary's Parish Hall, Yale Street, will be the setting, and the time, 8 p.m.

Community Chest collections reached $202,328 today and officials feel the goal of $251,717 is in sight. Residential canvass has not yet been completed, executive secretary A. G. Gilmore said. Several canvassers were forced to delay calls when they were struck down by flu. Persons missed by the campaign may phone Chest headquarters, 2-5121, and a canvasser will call for donations.

Because he saw a car ahead of him do it, Kenneth Hindson, 2509 Estevan, drove his car over the firehose on Yates.

The other car got away but Hindson was stopped by police and today was fined $10 in city police court.

Ten parking meters were broken open overnight Tuesday, bringing to 44 the number tampered with since last Thursday.

The meters were on Pandora between Douglas and Blanshard, where three were opened; five on Blanshard and two on View.

They contained probably no more than 30-40 cents each, police say, and meter costs $5 to repair.

A note from a 15-year-old boy's mother giving him permission to buy fireworks was not enough to keep storekeeper Jackie Chow, 1400 Hillside, from being fined in city police court for selling to a person under 16.

Magistrate H. C. Hall said in court today there is no provision in the by-law prohibiting sale of fireworks to juveniles for written permission from a parent.

Chow pleaded not guilty. He was fined $10.

On a second charge, for remaining open after noon Wednesday, Chow pleaded guilty and was fined $15.

Robert Hunter, an employee of Court and Ward contractors, 3207 Browning, is in good condition at Jubilee Hospital with a back injury received when he fell from a scaffold at about 1:40 p.m. Tuesday.

TRAFFIC FINES

In-city police court today: Eddy Kop, 3169 Rutledge, $25 for driving without plates and $10 for leaving keys in unattended car.

Clarence O. Davis, Fort Street, $10 for driving against a red traffic signal.

Drinks Stay Piping Hot In Amazing Thermo Glass

By PENNY SAVER

Your drink stays hot! Yes, with this thermos glass, anything such as soup, cocoa, coffee and tea will stay just as warm as the moment you poured it in! The heat stays in for hours on end too because of the two layers of heavy plastic that form the glass itself. These attractive glasses come in a variety of colors in sets of four. Perfect for round the television set. You know how cold your drink can get when you're watching an exciting movie or football game. A practical set for $4.50.

If you've been looking for coasters that won't slip around or disappear just when you need them, stop! I went looking, too, and I've found one that's made of wool. Just slip it over the bottom of the glass and it stays put until you remove it. It has a rough surface, so it can't possibly slip, and comes in bright colors. Nice price of $1.50 a set.

Here's something that is not only amusing, but a good ice breaker for your parties. The amusing napkins that are suitable for cocktails and small evening gatherings. They have priceless little quips written on them. You comic strip readers will be glad to know that Dennis the Menace has made his debut on the outside of a few! A box costs 45 cents.

I mentioned stoneware casseroles several days ago, and what should I find as I inspected the shops today but a whole set of the same ware in teapots, bowls, gravy boats (big, too), and large mugs for coffee. The prices were fantastically low, ranging from 50 cents for the mugs, $2.50 for the gravy boats and teapots from $1.75 to $3.

Giftwise, there were pyrex casseroles with designs so pretty that you'll buy several for your women friends. The more elaborate were perched on wrought-iron stands with candles underneath for keeping the food hot! Casseroles without stand are $4.95, and with $8.95.

It's been drawn to my attention that I flubbed last Wednesday when I told you that an "official" centennial tartan is on sale in one of the stores.

Actually there is no such thing as an official tartan. The B.C. Centennial Committee would not give its approval to any design.

However, a tartan called a centennial design is being sold as I mentioned.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

'Tis Sad But True—Women Are Fatter Than Men!

Lucky men! Doctor Stanley M. Garn, anthropologist of the Fels Research Institute, Antioch College reports that women carry more of their fat outside of their frames than men do. Why couldn't it be the other way around?

Studies have shown that the fat rolls are larger on women than on men even though the weight of body fat in proportion to total body weight is much the same.

It always seemed to me sort of mean of Nature in not allowing us to hide a few extra pounds under our insteps or under our busts; or if they must show, why can't we carry them on our collar bones? But no! There they are for all to see, bunched together, like the members of a convention, on waists and abdomens and hips. Anyway that is how it is and we might as well face up to it. Extra pounds always appear where we least want them.

This differs in women in that some are more prone to the spare tire, some to the protruding abdomen and some to the large hips. A letter before me says, "Is there anything women can do to correct a square figure? Clothes look awful on a figure like this."

I am sure I know what this reader means. She is speaking of the pads of fat on the hips in the back, just under the waistline. These do give a square appearance. The following exercises will help. If this is a question of weight distribution, only, you will not need to diet. If you are overweight generally, count your calories as well as exercise.

Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor, extending out from the armpits. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Keep the knees bent as you roll from side to side, touching the thighs to the floor at the end of each roll.

Your palms should face the floor. In fact, you cling to the floor with your finger tips.

If you would like to have my hip-slimming routines, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Rich, Soicy Plum Pudding

The traditional Christmas dinner simply would not be complete without steaming hot plum pudding. Here's a recipe you'll want to save for future years, once you find out just how succulent and spicy it is.

PLUM PUDDING

Ten ozs. raisins, seedless; 12 ozs. currants, 10 ozs. sultanas, 8 ozs. mixed peel, 4 ozs. almonds, 4 ozs. walnuts, 8 ozs. chopped apples, 1/2 lemon, grated, and juice; 1/2 orange, grated, and juice; 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract, 3/4 teaspoon almond extract, 3/4 oz. rum, 4 ozs. stout, 4 eggs, 8 ozs. brown sugar, 8 ozs. flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 10 ozs. bread crumbs, 10 ozs. beef suet, chopped; 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon ginger, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon allspice, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Wash raisins, sultanas and currants. Steam raisins and sultanas for few minutes to soften; add rum, stout, orange and lemon juice and extract. Soak for 12 hours. Chop apples very fine. Mince lemon and orange peel. Whip eggs, add peel, then add to the above and mix well. Mix dry ingredients with chopped nuts and suet, add the above and stir well. Put in a bowl or mould (1/4 full), cover with a well-floured cloth and tie securely around container. Plunge in hot water and boil from four to five hours. Makes 5-lb. pudding.

A Holiday Hit: Apple Nut Loaf

A full-flavored nut loaf is always good and this one will make a hit with everyone. That wonderful combination of apple and cheese bakes to perfection in this easy-to-prepare loaf.

Half cup butter or shortening, 2 eggs, unbeat; 1/2 cup grated sharp cheese, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1 cup grated raw apple, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt.

Cream butter, gradually add sugar, cream together until light. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add apple, cheese and nuts, mixing well. Add sifted dry ingredients, stirring just until moistened. Spread the thick batter in greased loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven, 350 F., about one hour.

St. Peter's Auxiliary Holds Holiday Bazaar

Evergreen boughs and sprigs of holly decorated the hall of St. Peter's Church, Reynolds Road, when the Ladies' Guild held a bazaar. A sum of $200 was realized.

Guild president Mrs. V. R. Porter and the general convener, Mrs. J. A. Churchill welcomed guests. Mrs. Porter introduced Dr. Kenneth King, who opened the affair.

Mrs. W. D. Brandreth was at the door; home cooking was in charge of Mrs. C. H. Borden and Mrs. H. P. McKee; fishpond, J. Adkins; button guessing, Mrs. Adkins; fancywork, Mrs. C. A. Ridout, Mrs. F. Marshall and Mrs. J. F. Hallier.

Afternoon tea was served by Mrs. A. Hawkes, assisted by Mrs. J. T. Burwood, Mrs. V. E. Coppins, Mrs. O. M. Elliott, Mrs. J. E. McCormick and Mrs. R. B. Lyndberry. A what-not stall was in charge of Mrs. H. V. Green, and a white elephant stall, Mrs. J. Furnston.

Friendly informal "help yourself" meals are easy on the hostess and fun for her guests. A holiday buffet supper like above, consisting of moulded salads, cheese-frosted sandwich loaf and crisp relishes, can be prepared well ahead of time and tucked away in the refrigerator until serving time.

Holiday Buffet Meal Practical Approach to Yule Entertaining

When entertaining during the busy holidays, buffet-style is undoubtedly the simplest, most practical way of serving food. It gives the guests an opportunity to mingle and chat with all their friends and, of course, it's a real break for the hostess.

However, to make up for the practicality of the serving, concentrate on a really good entree, such as this meal-in-one chicken and celery casserole. It is well seasoned, superbly flavored, and with its crisp topping of buttered crushed corn flakes, has a definitely festive air.

CHICKEN AND CELERY— BUFFET STYLE

Two cups finely cut celery; 1/2 cup chicken fat or butter; 1/2 cup flour; 1 1/2 teaspoons salt; dash pepper; 1 cup chicken stock; 1/2 cup milk; 1/2 cup water drained from celery; 2 cups diced cooked chicken; 1 cup corn flakes; 1 tablespoon butter or margarine melted.

Cook celery in water to cover until tender; drain, saving water. Melt chicken fat; stir in flour, salt and pepper. Gradually add chicken stock, milk and water drained from celery, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, stirring occasionally. Alternate layers of chicken and celery in greased 1 1/2-quart casserole or baking dish; cover with sauce. Crush corn flakes slightly; mix with melted butter. Sprinkle over sauce. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.)

about 10 minutes or until thoroughly heated.
Yield: 6 servings.
TOMATO-HAM BUFFET SALAD
Two tablespoons unflavored gelatin; 1 1/4 cups water; 1 can (1 1/2 cups) condensed tomato soup; 1 four-ounce package cream cheese (or 1/2 cup cottage cheese); 2 tablespoons lemon juice; 1 tablespoon grated onion; 1/2 cup mayonnaise; 2 tablespoons prepared mustard; 2 cups ground cooked ham.

Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup water; set aside. Heat 1/4-can soup; add gelatin and dissolve. Stir dissolved gelatin into 1 cup water and remaining soup. Add cheese and mix until smooth. Chill until slightly thick; add lemon juice, onion, mayonnaise and ham. Rinse a six-cup mold with cold water; pour in mixture and chill until firm. Unmold and serve on crisp salad greens. Six to eight servings.

Another molded salad that has a particularly festive look is MOLDED CRANBERRY AND APPLE SALAD.

One lb. cranberries, grated rind of 1 orange, 1/2 cup orange juice, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 tablespoon gelatin, 3 tablespoons cold water, 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin, 1 cup boiling water, 3 tart apples.

Put cranberries through a food grinder. Add grated rind, juice and sugar. Let stand overnight. Soak gelatin in water. Dissolve lemon gelatin in 1 cup boiling water. Add the soaked gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Combine these ingredients with the cranberry mixture. Pare, chop and add apples. Place the salad in a greased mold. When firm, unmold and serve on watercress with cream mayonnaise.

Combine all ingredients in kettle. Place over low heat, simmer gently until heated through. Pack in sterilized jars, seal. Store in cool, dry place. Makes about 3 1/2 quarts.

Cranberry Pie, Sherbets Make Refreshing, Light Desserts for Christmas Party Time

You can do exciting things for Christmas with cranberries! No more are these versatile little fruits considered simply as sauce for the Christmas turkey.

Some of your most delicious and festive-looking desserts for Christmas (and any other season, for that matter) should be made of cranberries. Try these recipes, and you'll soon know why.

CRANBERRY FROSTY PIE

One 8" baked pie shell, cooled; 1 1/2 cups cranberry orange relish; 1 pint softened vanilla ice cream.

Fold cranberry orange relish into softened ice cream. Pour into pie shell and freeze until firm. Decorate with whipped cream and fresh cranberries.

CRANBERRY ORANGE RELISH

Put through coarse blade of food chopper 4 cups (1 lb.) fresh cranberries and 2 oranges (seeds removed) including rind. Stir in two cups sugar and chill. Makes about 2 pints. Serve remaining relish with meat or poultry or with cottage cheese for a delightful salad.

CRIMSON CRANBERRY SHERBET

One (1-lb.) can jellied cranberry sauce, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 cup orange juice, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 2 egg whites, beaten stiff.

Crush cranberry sauce with a fork. Add juices and rinds. Pour into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator and freeze with control at coldest setting, until sherbet is mushy. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and continue freezing mixture until stiff. Makes about 6 servings.

CRANBERRY LEMON FREEZE

One (1-lb.) can whole cranberry sauce, 1 pint lemon sherbet, softened.

Fold cranberry sauce into softened sherbet. Place in 1 quart freezing tray and freeze until firm. Serve as a refreshing dessert, fruit cup.

CRANBERRY PINEAPPLE SHERBET

One cup jellied cranberry sauce, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1/2 cup crushed pineapple (with juice), 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Crush cranberry sauce with fork, then beat till smooth with rotary beater. Stir in lemon rind and juice and crushed pineapple. Set refrigerator to coldest position. Put mixture in freezer tray and freeze until partially frozen. Beat egg whites stiff but not dry. Remove partially frozen mixture from tray and beat until smooth with rotary beater or electric mixer. Fold in egg whites. Return to tray in freezing compartment to freeze completely. Serve as sherbet with fresh fruit cup or as a frozen relish.

For an appetizer which receives immediate acclaim, blend instant minced onion and Worcestershire sauce into cream cheese, form bite-size balls and roll in chopped roasted almonds.

Tasty Almond Crunch Bars Have Chewy Sugar Topping

Here's a delectable two-layered cookie for the holiday season. "Almond Crunch Bars" combine a crust of ground toasted almonds with a chewy topping containing brown sugar and prunes. Serve them with fresh fruit and coffee for an afternoon or evening snack.

ALMOND CRUNCH BARS

1/2 cup uncooked prunes.

Almond Crust: 1/2 cup unblanched almonds, 1/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1/2 cup sifted powdered sugar, 1/2 cup butter or margarine.

Top Layer: 2 eggs, 1 cup brown sugar (packed), 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.

Cover prunes with water and boil 10 minutes. Cool and cut from pits into pieces.

Almond Crust: Put almonds through food chopper using fine knife. Add flour, powdered sugar and butter, and blend together as for pastry. Pack in even layer in bottom of 9-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 minutes.

Top Layer: Beat eggs well and beat in brown sugar, adding it in about 4 portions. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Stir into egg-sugar mixture. Blend in prepared prunes and vanilla. Spread over hot baked almond crust. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes longer. Cool and cut into bars.

Makes 32 small bars (about 1 x 2 1/4 inches).

Dainty tart shells filled with spiced apple slices and topped with a crumbly crust are perfect fare for an occasion. They

APPLE CRISP TARTS

2 or 3 apples, 1/2 cup flour, 1/4 cup butter, 3 tablespoons cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg.

Line tart pans with pastry, fill about half full with tiny apple slices sweetened to taste with a little sugar and cinnamon. For the topping, combine flour, brown sugar, butter and spices to make a crumbly mixture. Sprinkle a little over each tart. HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Brush this tasty wine and butter sauce over fish before broiling. Combine 2 tablespoons each white table wine and melted butter with 1 teaspoon each instant minced onion, Worcestershire sauce and lemon juice. Let stand 5 minutes before broasting fish.

Keep a supply of raisins on hand for between-meal snacks for both young and grown-ups. Light and dark raisins with their high content of natural sugar provide you with quick energy almost immediately.

For a never-fail sundae sauce combine ½ cup hot milk with ½ pound caramels and heat over hot water until caramels melt. Place a golden canned cling peach half in each dish, top with a scoop of vanilla ice cream and some of the hot caramel sauce.

Upside-down apple-raisin is a yummy dessert. Arrange sliced apples, chopped walnuts and raisins in the usual butter-brown sugar upside-down cake pan coating. Sprinkle with a couple of tablespoons Sherry wine and top with batter. Bake as usual.

Prunes are a rich source of minerals and vitamins. You'll find them packaged in thrifty cartons and bags. If you prefer them ready-cooked, look for them in jars and cans. Use prunes often to perk up meals.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

The hostess makes the plans: My husband's spinster sister who lives in another city has accepted our invitation to spend a few days at Christmas with us as she has done many times in the past. In a letter we received today she said that she is looking forward to the trip but stipulated "no parties, no visiting around . . . I just want to be with you both." We have already accepted invitations to a couple of small dinner parties that were to include her. We have also invited a few to dinner and asked friends whom she met here on previous visits. Furthermore, we are planning on about 20 for a family Christmas dinner. What do you think we should do? As far as we know, the sister isn't ill health mentally or physically, and we don't like to be told how we are to entertain.

Louise Davis answers:

The sister is inconsiderate, to say the least. I don't see why your Christmas holidays should be so restricted by such an order. I suggest that you write her immediately and tell her what the plans are. I see no need for making any apologies for she has no right to curtail your social life. If she comes, she takes what you have to offer and she should be pleased that your friends want to include her. Surely she would have plenty of time to be alone with you both. Should you succumb to her request, do you realize that you would be establishing a precedent for the future? She might as well know that you are living your own lives as you see fit. After she receives your (or your husband's) letter, she can beg out if she wishes. A guest, not even a sister, should not tell her host and hostess what she wants and expects. If she isn't well, she should have told you. In which case you could have suggested that she come some other time when you would be planning a quiet weekend.

Stubborn Child More Difficult To Reform Than Aggressive One

OTTAWA (CP)—The naughty child may be less of a problem in the long run than the quiet, stubborn type, say Canadian correction school experts.

Training school directors—32 from all provinces except Saskatchewan—met here recently to exchange professional views on putting wayward children on the road to reform.

Another meeting of the group, sponsored by the Canadian Corrections Association of the Canadian Welfare Council, is to be held next year in Winnipeg.

The consensus was that the child who shows aggression may cause more disturbance, but that it is relatively easier to get to know and direct him than the passive, unresponsive child.

W. T. McGrath, executive secretary of the association, said in an interview that the idea of training schools has changed.

The time is past when such schools merely held children either to discipline them or give them good physical care, he said. School staffs now must be qualified and able to understand child behavior.

Mr. McGrath said 1,938 boys and 926 girls were in correction schools at the end of last year, and these figures remain fairly constant.

Basically, correction schools are institutions for treatment, not punishment, delegates said. But they found that determining the degree of emotional adjustment a child made in the schools was one of the most difficult tasks.

Rev. Andrew Masse, director of Boscoville Training Schools in Montreal, felt the child's degree of inner self-control, ability to build good relationships with people around him, an indication of his potential productiveness measured in terms of his ability to do sustained work, and his sense of ethical values should be the measures used to chart progress.

B.C. Industry Must Become 'World-Minded'

Integration of Canadian industry with that of Great Britain and the northern European states was forecast Tuesday by Robert Bonner, B.C. attorney-general and minister of industrial development, trade and commerce.

He spoke on "British Columbia and World Trade" at National Office Management Association's top management night at Pacific Club.

Mr. Bonner recently returned from a six-week trade mission to the United Kingdom and Europe.

Impressed by Big Recovery

His trip overseas convinced him of Western and Northern Europe's tremendous recovery as an efficient industrial area where existing markets will become less accessible and competition with Canada will become greater.

He said there is a strong feeling on the continent for a common market where long-standing tariffs may be torn down over a period of 10 or 12 years and a common tariff may be drawn around the entire market area.

As a counter-proposal, Britain, because of her ties with the Commonwealth and colonies, has in mind a free trade area to ensure the flow of trade for the future.

But it is the inclination toward a "united states of Europe," desirable for both political and economic reasons to the free states of the continent, which offers the challenge to business in this country, the attorney-general said.

Canadian business must "steep itself in this challenge for the next generation if it is to maintain or improve its position."

"... Then we will adjust to the challenge of the new Europe which is certainly arising," Mr. Bonner said.

Commenting on the British industrial scene, the speaker said:

"The British genius for invention and adaptability is by no means diminished... Britain is likely to maintain its position of pre-eminence in the world of industry for many years to come."

Germany, too, was praised by Mr. Bonner.

He was impressed by the reconstruction of Essen, Dusseldorf, Frankfurt and Cologne.

which suffered near-total destruction at the hands of Allied bombers.

"It is reassuring to know they are at one with us in military and political integrity," he said.

He said the people of Europe are anxious to pool their markets and look favorably upon the west.

"The intentions of Russia, be they peaceful, are not yet understood by the rest of Europe," the minister said.

17 YEARS APART

Eagle-Eyed Mom Sights Lost' Son

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Nellie Thomas, 58, glanced from her apartment and noticed a sailor hobbie across the street on crutches.

"Hey, Vern, come here," she shouted.

The sailor swung around.

"The you, Mother?"

Vern Baker, 43, a son by a previous marriage, hadn't seen his mother in 17 years but he said he would know that voice anywhere, anytime.

They last saw each other in Coos Bay, Ore., where Mrs. Thomas was working as a waitress and her son was a logger.

"I left town and joined the navy—I've been in and out ever since," Baker said.

Nigeria Student Wins $32,000

NEW YORK (AP)—A University of Chicago medical student from Oyo, Nigeria, correctly answered a $32,000 question on the Bible Tuesday night on CBS-TV's The $64,000 Question.

The Nigerian, Adepoju Aderonu, returns to the program next week to tell whether he wishes to try for the $64,000 jackpot question.

A 20 dollar cheque and a nudge from his editor sent a Star reporter in search of the story which shocked the nation. For fourteen days he lived the life of old age pensioners in Toronto's "hot-plate" jungle. Wm. SAANICH POLICE JUVENILE DETAIL became a team Monday with the appointment of Constable George Walton, right, as assistant to juvenile officer Constable Harry Adams. Constable Walton has acted in the capacity unofficially from time to time as the need arose, but a steady increase in youth problems necessitated the permanent appointment. By the end of 1957 it is expected the year's total number of juvenile cases will be three times the 1956 record. (Times Photo.)

Take Forest Industry Out Of Politics, Says Laing

B.C.'s forest industry should be "out of politics altogether," provincial Liberal leader Arthur Laing said here Tuesday night.

Mr. Laing favored establishment of a three-man commission to control the industry, as recommended in Chief Justice Sloan's 1945 report.

"There has been a debasement of the handling of the people's resources in the province," he told a joint meeting of Victoria Liberal Association

Canada-Wide Works Project Urged By MP

OTTAWA (CP) — Frank Christian (S.Okanagan-Boundary) Tuesday night in the Commons urged initiation of an "all-Canada works project" to alleviate unemployment.

He suggested that plans for this might be laid at the dominion-provincial conference here next week.

Unemployed could be given an opportunity to work on roads, parks and similar jobs at wages higher than unemployment insurance benefits.

James Byrne (L.Kootenay East) said the unemployed in British Columbia are urging action by the federal government instead of "sweeping the problem under the rug."

and the Esquimalt-Saanich Federal Liberal Association.

The task of restoring the industry's confidence in government management of resources will fall on the government replacing Social Credit in B.C., he said.

MORE LOANS

The Liberal leader also stated the government had borrowed $261,000,000 in the past five years while at the same time talking of reducing the debt "at a fantastic rate."

He said in the last 10 days the government attempted to borrow $20,000,000 on the New York market but withdrew "because they were only offered $92 for the bonds of this province."

Death Sentence For Merchants

VIENNA (AP)—A Communist court in Sofia, Bulgaria, has sentenced two former merchants to death for the illegal private production and sale of dye materials. A Sofia newspaper says. Seventeen others received prison terms of from three to 15 years.

MILK CANS YIELD CACHE OF ARMS

BELFAST (Reuters) — Police using mine detectors found a large cache of arms and ammunition today buried in creamery cans in a ditch near Coal Island on the northern Ireland border.

The arms consisted of sub-machine guns, pistols, revolvers, hundreds of rounds of ammunition, detonators and fuses.

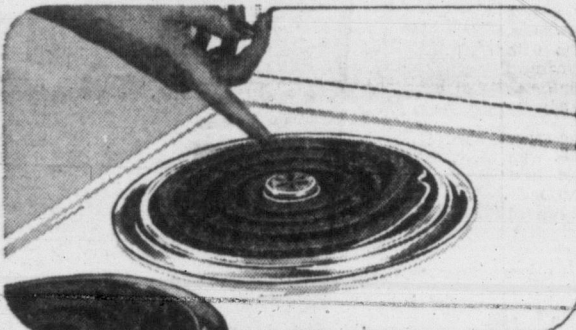

A similar haul, believed to have been hidden by the underground Irish Republican Army organization, was found in a dugout in the same district a few weeks ago.

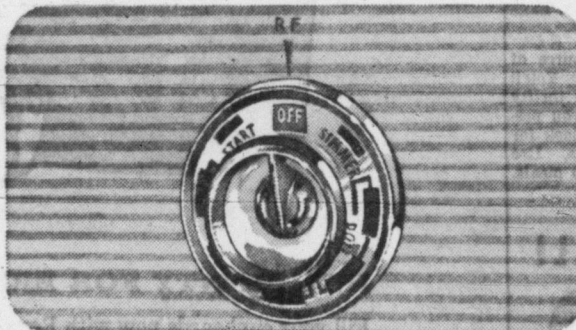

6 ways Moffat makes your kitchen a happier place to work...

① Ups-a-daisy! Turn this little Hi-Lo-Matic control and the oven rack glides up... or down. Imagine what a help this is in broiling—you simply change the rack height when you want to broil faster or slower.

DE SOTO FOR 1958

Here's a brand-new kind of motoring magic to excite your imagination—De Soto for 1958! Just look at this new beauty . . . every sleek, trim line of this long, low, challenging De Soto invites you to try it!

This new De Soto is the last word in quality craftsmanship and advanced engineering! For 1958, the biggest V-8 engines in De Soto history team up with the modern convenience of advanced push-button Torque-Flite automatic drive. You "tune in" the power with a finger tip, gently nudge the throttle, and smooth, silent Torque-

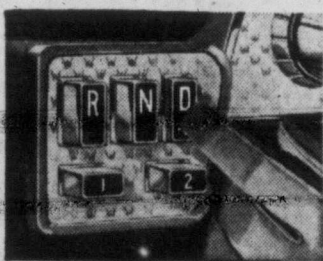

Flite instantly answers your command! You're all set to enjoy the easiest kind of driving there is!

You'll find De Soto's ride just as spectacular as its response, too! It's a satin-smooth, sure-footed, road-holding ride, thanks to Torsion-AIRE suspension, the most revolutionary springing system of all. You've always got sports-car control and "feel" of the road in a new De Soto!

Come try a new De Soto Freedom or Fireflite—two great new series for 1958 in your choice of ten models!

Torsion-AIRE Ride. The finest ride you can enjoy on any road! De Soto's revolutionary suspension system takes the bounce out of bumps, brings you around turns without sideway, lets you stop without "nose-dive". Only Torsion-AIRE does all three!

Push-button driving. Modern, all-mechanical push-button controls make lever-shifting obsolete! Just press a button with your finger tip and Torque-Flite automatic drive does the rest! Trouble-free, proved in use and standard equipment with every De Soto!

See the 1958 De Soto and drive it! De Soto is designed to stay new, to keep its new-car style and spirit!

- Smart, aerodynamic tail fins increase stability at highway speeds
- New dual headlights spread more light over more road area for safer night driving
- Quiet, smooth V-8 power with a mighty punch

- New optional Sure-Grip differential prevents spinning the rear wheels in sand, mud, snow, or on ice
- New, luxurious interiors are roomier, have more comfortable seating than ever, new fabrics in modern fashion-keyed patterns, textures and colours.

Queen, Primate Erred at Crowning

LONDON (Reuters) — The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, admitted Tuesday both he and Queen Elizabeth made a mistake during the coronation service in Westminster Abbey in June, 1953. He said:

"It is true that after the coronation, before we left the abbey, Her Majesty said to me, 'Archbishop, you made one mistake.'"

"I said to Her Majesty 'You made one too.' We each owned

Lost-Found Rocket File Spurs Probe

LONDON (Reuters) — Security officials in the supply ministry Tuesday ordered a full investigation into the case of the lost-and-found secret rocket documents, picked up by a passerby in a London street Monday night.

The papers were found by 25-year-old Clifford Beck, who spotted a brown leather briefcase in the street as he was riding his motorcycle home. He reported his find and police called at his suburban home to collect the briefcase.

"One of the papers," he said today, "was marked 'Secret'—to be circulated under double closed cover."

A supply ministry spokesman said: "The time between the papers being lost and their recovery was very short indeed."

"The circumstances are to be fully investigated," Beck also told reporters the papers dealt with "a secret rocket motor" for which a code-name was given.

It was understood the briefcase fell from the trunk of an auto.

Day Behind Bars Lets Driver Off With Fine of $75

George C. Gendre, RCN, who pleaded guilty in city police court Monday to criminally negligent driving, was fined $75 when he appeared Tuesday.

"You've had a day in jail to think it over," Magistrate H. C. Hall told him. "I hope that will be a warning to you."

Police said Gendre drove at 50 miles an hour past a motorcycle patrolman who was already in pursuit of another speeder. Gendre's car then mounted a traffic island and careened through heavy traffic before being brought to a stop.

15-Day Term for Driver Who Flew Two Accidents

Failing to remain at the scene of two accidents on a single day brought a 15-day jail term to Ronald W. Todd, 3138 Cook, in city police court Monday.

He was charged by city and Saanich police in connection with separate accidents Sunday. There was no serious damage incurred.

Magistrate H. C. Hall said the offences were too serious for ordinary fines, and heard Todd's traffic record. He will make a recommendation for driver's licence suspension.

The same sentence, concurrent will be given in a special Saanich police court Tuesday, the magistrate said.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngsters who also the first question answered each day receive a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Anna McIntyre, aged 14, of Winslow-Salem, N.C., for her question:

What is a Road Runner?

This bold and sassy little creature among the proudly claims to be the state cactus plant. For larger sites, bird of New Mexico. He is a he devours lizards, mice and native of our southwestern deserts. His favorite food, however, is snakes—rattlesnakes. When it comes to catching rattlers, the road runner is the bold hero of the southwestern deserts. He can outwit and outstride the largest of these poisonous vipers. Since the road runner likes an audience, this deadly contest has been observed by many people.

The bold bird annoys the snake, prodding with his sharp beak. The snake strikes and strikes, but his tormentor always hops out of reach. At last the snake is worn out and the victorious bird moves in for the kill. He bites the snake in the back of the neck, smashing the head on the ground. Finally, the road runner swallows the snake head first, venom and all.

The road runner is also known as the war bird, the snake-eater and the lizard bird. And, because he is such a character, no one disputes his own favorite title, which is cock-of-the-desert.

Andy sends a Hammond's International World Globe to Dennis E. Edginger, age nine, of Williamsport, Penna., for his question:

Is the sun closer than the moon?

The sun gives a great deal of light and heat. The moon gives a ghostly light and no heat at all. It is natural to think that the moon must be much, much further away than the sun. But actually, the very opposite is true.

The sun is about 93,000,000 miles from the earth. The moon is only about 238,000 miles from us. The sun is 400 times as wide. That is why the moon and the sun look to be about the same size.

There is another reason why the sun, and not the moon, bathes us in light and heat. The sun is a blazing hot furnace. The moon is a ball of cold, bare rock. It gives no heat or light of its own. Moonlight comes indirectly from the sun. The sun shines on the moon, and the moon reflects earth.

U.K. PAPER SAYS

Nikita Plays On U.S. Fears

LONDON (UP) — The Times of London said Tuesday that Soviet Communist party leader Nikita Khrushchev's statement that Russian submarines could fire missiles into the United States was playing on U.S. Navy fears.

"The fear that Russian submarines might be able to fire missiles into the interior from the coast has worried the U.S. Navy for several years," the Times said in an editorial. "Mr. Khrushchev was doubtless playing on this fear, though his remarks imply that there is a significant difference between the distance weapons that can be fired from submarines and the range of land-based rockets."

The Times said Russia's "impressive investment in submarines—she has 500 operational submarines today against America's 110—has for long puzzled the West's military leaders."

Khrushchev's statement that "our submarines can block American ports and shoot at the interior while our rockets can reach any target" would "surely be academic," the newspaper said.

Recognition of Chiang By Reds 'Possible'

MUNICH, West Germany (Reuters)—Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai said in an interview published here Tuesday that his government might recognize Nationalist Chinese leader Chiang Kai-shek as head of Formosa.

The interview was given to Ulrich Kempeki of the Sueddeutsche Zeitung.

Kempeki recalled that a year ago the Chinese Communists offered Chiang a high ministerial job provided he brought his island bastion of Formosa under the authority of the Peiping government.

Asked whether Chiang might be offered another job, Chou said:

"We could be ready to recognize his position as director of Formosa."

"We hope that Formosa will attack us because we could then solve the problem of Formosa more quickly."

"It is obvious that without United States occupation of the island we should have solved the Formosa question very speedily."

The report said Chou conceded the United States is unwilling to start a war for Formosa. "It wants to retain control of the island and will seek to create 'two Chinas.'"

Son of British Tory Chief Hurt

LONDON (AP) — The 12-year-old son of Conservative party chairman Viscount Hailsham suffered a skull fracture Tuesday in a 15-foot fall from a wall at Eton, where he attends school.

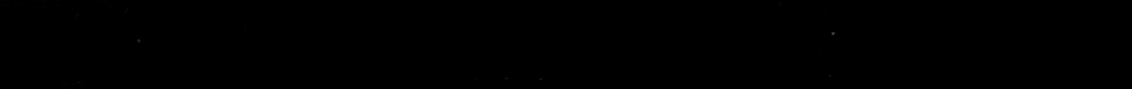

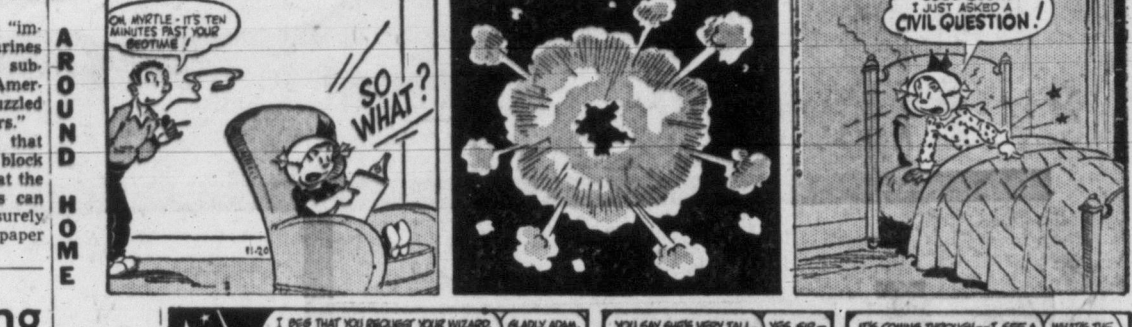

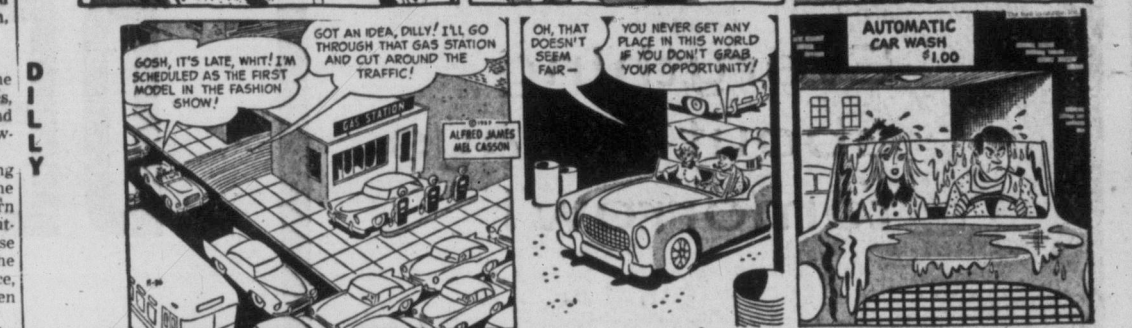

His condition was described by doctors as serious. The boy was watching a school game when he slipped and plunged head-first to the ground.

Annual conference of the B.C. Safety Council will be held Thursday and Friday in Vancouver.

N. H. Dearborn, of Chicago, president of the National Safety Council, will address delegates at a wind-up banquet Friday night.

Roy Lund, president of the Victoria chapter, will head local delegates to the conference.

The meeting will break up into three sections to discuss traffic, industrial and community safety. Speakers will include Evan Jones, deputy highways minister, and George Lindsay, superintendent of the motor vehicles branch.

LOCAL NEWS BRIEFS

Winner of the Col. Donald McGugan Cup for public speaking this year was Mrs. Eileen Jubb, 1258 Esquimalt Road.

Mrs. Jubb's talk on "Faith" was judged best over thirty years in the annual Dale Carnegie International Club sponsored Impromptu Speech Contest.

Runners-up in the speech trials were Mack Lyle, Miss Ivy Humberstone and Harry Kelly.

Major W. B. Monteith, 2144 Granite, was installed as new president at the annual election of officers of the Red Chevrons Association held recently in the Army, Navy and Air Force clubrooms.

Also elected were Col. H. C. Greer, 1st vice-president; C. W. Clare, 2nd vice-president; Joseph Leatham, secretary-treasurer. Executive members are C. E. Sherwin, W. J. Simpson, D. S. Stuart, Percy Foreman, J. A. Dugdale, John Jenkins, A. M. Gossnell and S. M. Oliver.

Leaflets demanding federal subsidization of a merchant fleet building program to maintain full employment at shipyards were distributed outside the National Employment Service office here Tuesday by the Victoria Labor Progressive Party Club.

City school teacher Douglas V. Parker was authorized by Greater Victoria school board Monday to visit Seattle school system to compare work in conversational French.

Recently Education Minister Leslie Peterson and members of the department of education expressed satisfaction after seeing one of Mr. Parker's conversational French classes in progress at Willows School.

'WHERE TO, MA'AM?'

Taxi Trip Took 4 Days

HAMILTON (CP)—"Where to, ma'am?" asked cabbie Don Oakes as a middle-aged woman got into his cab outside the Royal Connaught Hotel the other day.

"Moncton, New Brunswick," she replied.

Four days and 2,100 miles later Oakes is back from the trip with a $300 fare in his pocket and the status of a celebrity among local cab drivers.

"I'm tired but richer," he said today.

He doesn't know the name of his passenger—she was French-Canadian and he had trouble understanding her.

"All I know is she was born in Moncton and won a beauty contest when she was 18. She had a lot of money with her."

She changed her mind twice about her destination. Before leaving Hamilton she said she wanted to go to Edmonton, N.B., instead.

"I thought she said Edmonton and I bought a couple of snow tires before we got it straight," Oakes said.

(A) "THE SCEPTRE AND THE MACE" (Capitol—opening Thursday) — There are some, doubtless, who will see the National Film Board's half-hour documentary, "The Sceptre and the Mace," and want to compare it with the CBC's magnificent live television coverage of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth's recent visit to Canada and her opening of Parliament and, therefore, be disappointed.

Such a comparison would be in error, surely, for the film's purpose is to instruct Canadians in the Queen's historical place in our Parliament and our adoption of Britain's form of government as our own. This, rather, than a mere recording of Her Majesty's visit to Canada.

The historical is neatly done, in the manner of NFB documentaries which have U.S. and international awards to their credit as being among the best produced anywhere in the world. As the color cameras roam the Senate and the all-important House of Commons a narrator covers one thousand years of British history to show how our present form of government came into being. Stills of paintings depicting the fight of the people for the right to self-government beyond the powers of monarchs and peers are worked in for interest and explanation to good effect.

UNFORTUNATELY, however, "The Sceptre and the Mace" falls somewhat short of other NFB documentaries. The commentary, for instance, allows—especially at the beginning—pauses to develop which might well have been spent in giving the names of some of Prime Minister Diefenbaker's new ministers. It is too much to expect that the average theatre-goer would recognize more than two or three of them at most. There was opportunity wasted during the ceremonies in the Senate as well, when, for instance, a sentence or two might have been devoted to Major Charles Lamoureux, the dignified Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, and to at least naming the august members of the Supreme Court.

However, for all its several technical faults, "The Sceptre and the Mace" is alive with color that is peculiar to the great central provinces and Ottawa in the Autumn, so sadly missed on TV. It is triumphant in other facets, too, such as when the Queen enters Parliament, radiant in mien and apparel, her gown and her jewels trying to outshine each other in brilliant rivalry.

There is, also, the stirring sight of the Royal carriage being conducted from Rideau Hall to Parliament by a mounted escort of Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Yet, peculiarly, it is a quiet moment which registers best of all.

Far away from the pomp and pageantry the Queen is seen strolling informally with her husband, Prince Philip, and Governor-General Vincent Massey in the gardens of Rideau Hall, a large dog unconcernedly carrying the Queen's handbag in his gentle mouth.

This scene has not been shown before and it is quite easily the highlight of "The Sceptre and the Mace."

25 City Musicians Set for Jazzorama

Twenty-five of Victoria's top jazz musicians are lined up for the city's first jazz concert in two years slated for Dec. 3 in Club Sirocco.

Sponsor of the "Jazzorama," or history of jazz from Dixie to the big bands and the moderns, Victoria Jazz Society hopes to prove the current awakening to this oft-neglected medium will be demonstrated here as well as over the rest of the continent.

Its degree of success may decide whether a Vancouver inter-city will proceed with plans to establish a nocturnal jazz-cellar in Victoria, now in the talking stage with jazz society executives.

For its Jazzorama the society plans to present arrangements of the most significant trends in jazz from Dixieland through the prewar bands of Miller, Goodman, Ellington, and so on, with the postwar bop and progressive styles which have emanated from these.

Thrown in will be some arrangements by society president, pianist Buddy Glover, who collaborated with radio jazz jockey Jim Carney on commentary for the show. Carney will narrate the script.

Participating will be sax men Bill Heybroeck, George MacDowell, Bob McDonald, Larry Crawford, Gordon Dickie and Bonny Sprinkle; trumpeters Roy Derry, Don Clark, Hugh Sangrett and Dave Dunnett; trombonist Ian McDougall, clarinetist Bobby Hurst, bass men Doug Parker and Jim McKay, Bunk McEwen and Buddy Glover on piano; drummers Mike Pretty, Bill Smith and George Heller, and Jack Beresford on guitar.

Arrangements are still in progress for the balance. Tickets will be available this week from Frank G. Ward Music, Watson's Men's Wear and members of the society.

BRITONS LAUD CANADIAN FILM

LONDON (Reuters) — British movie critics today praise a movie produced by the National Film Board of Canada on the royal visit to Ottawa.

"Brilliant," "handsome," and "seldom equalled" are some of the adjectives used to describe The Sceptre and the Mace, a 30-minute color documentary by John Howe.

But some critics note with a hint of envy that the movie provides the first good record of the Queen opening Parliament — Canada's, not Britain's, where movie-making is barred.

Singer Needs Good Writer To Survive

NEW YORK (AP)—The guy who started it all has some advice for the 16 other singers who have TV shows this season. Says Perry Como: Get yourself some good writing.

There can be no doubt that Perry triggered the age of the singer in television. Last season, he got an assist from Dinah Shore, but hers was not a weekly show. It was Perry who stood up against the giant, Jackie Gleason, two years ago and in his own easy manner eventually pushed him over. The age of the comics was finished.

"I don't see how all of us singers can survive," Perry observed during a rehearsal break. "Seventeen singer shows on the air! Something's got to give."

"I can see what's going to happen: Next year we'll all be off the air and the comics will take over again."

Not likely. But it's certain that some of the singers will be casualties. If they follow the advice of the master, they will take the money for lavish sets and costumes and put in into writing.

with Ronald Squire and Mandy Miller. Here are a few of the British Press comments: "The Sunday Times: A hilarious British comedy... acting is good throughout." "Sunday Chronicle: Abounds with happiness and warmth... Kenneth More is superb." "The People: Bracing as a dose of sunshine."

News of the World: Frolicsome romp... Here are laughs galore Mr. More is certainly our brightest practitioner in light comedy.

Daily Mirror: What a success... really entertaining... raises a riot of laughter.

News Chronicle: Brilliant comedy. It is for All the family, so be sure to take advantage of it. The Evening News says: Here's joy for the harassed housewife... they will whoop for joy.

Also on this program: "The Queen in New York," the whole 8 minutes of news is devoted to this memorable visit.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

Crash Blamed
On Climb Rate

(From CP Dispatches)

TRAIL—The results of a Department of Transport investigation into the crash Nov. 10 were released at an inquest into the mishap.

Killed in the crash of the 65-horsepower Luscombe at the Columbia Gardens airport were Don Lund of Trail, and Dale Coops, of Kelowna. The pair were heading for Kelowna when the plane crashed soon after takeoff.

W. R. Lavery of the transport department said in a report prepared for the inquest, that the crash occurred because the airplane was made to climb "at an excessive rate," and that when it was turned, plunged to the ground.

A coroner's jury verdict said no blame can be attached to any person or persons.

MAN KILLED

PORT MOODY — A Port Moody man, Z. E. Johnson, 61, was killed Tuesday afternoon when the car he was driving was hit by a west-bound CPR train at a city crossing.

Force of impact carried the car 50 feet from the Electronics Avenue crossing where the accident occurred. The dead man, an employee of Chisholm Industries Ltd., was accompanied in the car only by his dog, which survived the crash, but had to be destroyed.

SPORT PLEBISCITE

VANCOUVER — City council will decide Friday whether to hold a new plebiscite on the Sunday sport question.

This was the outcome of vigorous debate Tuesday, as Ald. Earle Adams fought for an immediate decision to stage a repeat performance of the 1955 plebiscite.

He said this would "give the attorney-general a majority he cannot very well afford to ignore" and effectively answer government statements that the 1955 plebiscite was too close to indicate clear public opinion. The debate also featured a move by Ald. Halford Wilson to have any new plebiscite "widened" to take in "Sunday activities" instead of just the sports issue.

GAS BLAST CAUSE

TRAIL—Fire Marshal Basil Nixon said Tuesday an explosion which destroyed a grocery store at Castlegar last Thursday was caused by natural gas.

A report filed by Nixon said investigation indicates that the failure of a fitting in the natural gas main allowed gas to escape. The explosion levelled Pete's Grocery and destroyed about 75 per cent of the stock.

LAYOFF POLL

KITIMAT—The Community Action Committee is conducting a poll to find out how many laid-off workers will stay in Kitimat, whether they have enough money to live during the winter, and whether they have any other place to go.

About 700 Sagueneay-Kitimat workers have been laid off and another 800 are expected to be out of work within two months.

FRIENDS NOT FRIENDS OR FRIENDLY

OAKLAND, Md. (AP)—They're Friends, but they're not really friends at all.

Game warden Leo Friend brought charges of illegal possession of wildlife against Carlos Woodrow Friend and Magistrate Earl C. Friend heard the case. None of the three men is related.

Carlos Friend was free in $1,750 bail on 23 separate charges.

HIS EYE IS ON THE HEAVENS—Pope Pius XII, standing on a specially-built platform, looks at the sky through the newly-installed giant telescope at the Vatican Observatory. The telescope is located on the grounds of the Papal villa at Castelgandolfo, Italy. (NEA.)

Recreation Reserve
Put on Sidney Spit

SIDNEY—A reserve has been placed by the provincial government on Sidney Spit and the brickyard property on Sidney Island for recreation development, Recreation Minister Earle Westwood told Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night.

He said that information gained from a questionnaire sent to more than 1,000 yachtmen resulted in the government noting the most desirable locations for yachting facilities on the east coast of Vancouver Island.

EARLY FERRY

The government hopes to extend facilities at John Dean Park, Mr. Westwood said.

An earlier ferry service between Salt Spring Island and Crofton, that would make commuting possible for workers, will be discussed Tuesday by Highway Minister P. A. Gallagher and Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Westwood said.

90% OF FULL WAGE

Cabinet Asked
To Increase Compensation

Provincial cabinet was asked Tuesday to amend the B.C. Workmen's Compensation Act to allow increased benefits for workmen.

The present act "compares unfavorably" with similar legislation in other provinces, the cabinet was told by a delegation representing the B.C. Legislative committee of the International Railway Brotherhood.

Recommendations included: An increase in percentage of earnings payable to a compensation recipient from 75 to 90 per cent of the full wage;

Increase of burial expenses from $250 to $350 with an additional $50 available for purchase of a burial plot;

Increase in monthly payment to widows from $75 to $100 and allowance for dependent children from $25 to $35 a month.

TOO RIGID

The "rigid legal approach" to determine whether or not an injury was caused by an accident should be discontinued, the delegation urged, and the examining physician for an industrial disease should be selected by the Workmen's Compensation Board rather than the employer.

The government also was asked to eliminate level crossings through the construction of overpasses or underpasses, or relocation of highways in an effort to prevent accidents.

FINE FRUIT

One good tree planted by John McIntosh, at Dundas, Ont., an investigation that lasted nearly two years and put his name in the headlines.

Free Trade With U.S.
Proposed By Senators

OTTAWA (CP)—A couple of Liberal senators Tuesday night suggested that Canada not only consider Britain's free-trade offer but seek to extend it to include the United States as well.

The proposal was made in the senate by Senator Wishart Robertson (L. Nova Scotia). It drew enthusiastic support from Senator Arthur Roebuck (L. Ontario).

Senator Robertson said he can see "nothing but advantage" accruing to Canadian primary producers from such an arrangement, worked out carefully over the next 10 to 15 years.

Senator Roebuck said: "If Canada took some lead in this respect it would set an example to the whole world."

Senator Roebuck said even if the U.S. would not agree to such a proposal, Canada should gradually move toward wide-open trade. If it did, soon "we'd sell their Americans heads off in world markets."

He added: The time "must come" if the West is to compete successfully with Russia's growing industrial might when "we must abolish these foolish restrictions and tariffs that hamper trade."

Senator Robertson said a Canada-U.S.-U.K. free-trade area would give Canadian farmers, fishermen, miners and lumbermen "preferred markets, free from day-to-day threats and worries—a definite advantage."

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE WORMS

1 OUT OF 3 DOES!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of these ugly pests they must be killed in the intestine where they live and multiply. And that's exactly what JAYNE'S Vermifuge does... kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily. Then they are expelled from the system in a normal manner and you are free of them.

For your own sake and the health of your children and loved ones, don't put off treatment. Get started with JAYNE'S at the very first sign of Pin-Worms. For once established these parasites are highly contagious and often spread through entire families.

So be sure to ask your druggist for JAYNE'S, famous for worm remedies for over one hundred years.

Jews, Arabs
'Break Bread'
To End Feud

KAFR KASSEM, Israel (Reuters)—Jews and Arabs today "broke bread" together in this small border village to end in Arab style a blood feud started by the killing of 49 Arab villagers by Israeli border police last year.

Some 400 persons gathered in a huge tent pitched at the village entrance and sat before tables laden with food, listening to "peacemakers" announce the end of the feud.

But unlike the ancient Arab traditional sulha—peacemaking ceremony—the gathering did not bring the culprits in chains and with halters round their necks before the kin and clan of those slain.

Two officers and nine men of the Israeli Border Police Regiment, accused of machine-gunning the Arab villagers Oct. 29, 1956, are awaiting the verdict in their long trial before a military court.

Among those under the tent were blood relatives of the victims and many who had been injured and crippled during the incident.

East Indians
Free on Bail

DUNCAN—Three East Indians from Victoria were released on bail totalling $500 in police court here Monday.

Bunt Haines was released on $300 bail after pleading not guilty to a charge of impaired driving. His two companions, Charlie Bacatoor and Bunta Singh, pleaded not guilty to charges of being intoxicated in a public place. They were released from jail on bail of $100 each.

Token Picket
Lines to Hit
Gas Stations

VANCOUVER (CP)—Workers will picket 25 to 30 Esso service stations in the Greater Vancouver area this weekend in support of strikers at Imperial Oil's Ioco refinery near here.

A spokesman for the striking Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union told the Vancouver Labor Council Tuesday that the union intends to set up pickets Friday, 6 to 9 p.m., and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

He said it would be impossible to picket all the 140 Imperial Oil stations in the Vancouver area so the union had picked out about 25 or 30 of the larger ones.

About 250 workers at the Ioco refinery have been on strike two months to back up demands for three contract changes recommended by a conciliation board.

British names most frequently mentioned for the post are Admiral Earl Mountbatten, the first sea lord, and Field Marshal Gerald Templer, the present chief of the general staff.

Others include Gen. Sir Robert Mansergh, at present commanding United Kingdom land forces, who was an outstanding success as NATO commander-in-chief, northern Europe, who recently retired as governor of Cyprus.

There is some speculation that Lt-Gen. Guy Simonds, who was chief-of-staff of the Canadian Army until his retirement in 1955, may be asked to fill the post. Montgomery is known to have a high regard for Simonds, who is regarded as one of the outstanding military thinkers of the day.

No Warning To Slow Down Death Train

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — A fireman and injured 23 others including three Canadians. The railroad said all crew members on trains using that line had been warned that temporary track were in use and speed was to be reduced to 15 miles an hour.

W. Paul Duggan, general chairman of the Boston and Maine Railroad local of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, said he saw the speed tape and agreed the train was going 70 miles an hour, but asserted there was no slow speed warning signs where they should have been along the tracks.

He said the signs were there the day before but had been removed "by persons unknown." Three investigations were under way today in the wake of the fatal wreck.

KIWANIS HEAR OFFICIAL

Canadians Second In Hungarian Aid

The second largest individual contribution of money, personnel and materials to the International Red Cross Fund for Hungarian Relief was made by Canadians.

The Kiwanis Club learned this Tuesday from Colonel M. D. Robertson, former chief of a Red Cross team at a relief camp in Austria.

He praised the Hungarians, saying "they have skills and arts that we can use. They will all make good citizens if given an opportunity."

MINORITY

"However," he said, "there are some who have come out who have not made a very favorable impression, but these are in the minority."

He went on to discuss the volatile personality of the average Hungarian, his swift transition from elation to depression and back, and above all his instant emotional response to each new situation which makes him react in, sometimes, undesirable ways against an insult, person, society or unfamiliar country.

"If you took 171,000 Canadians," he said, "transplanted them in a similar fashion and set them down you'd find some second-class citizens."

He went on to say "that it was our responsibility to see that they make the best of their opportunity."

EAGER TO LEARN

Colonel Robertson outlined the work involved in organizing the distribution of goods, setting up of camps and the disposal of refugees.

He told of the people in the camps, of their eagerness to learn English and their reluctance to engage in any camp project which they thought might conceivably keep them from leaving as soon as their turn came.

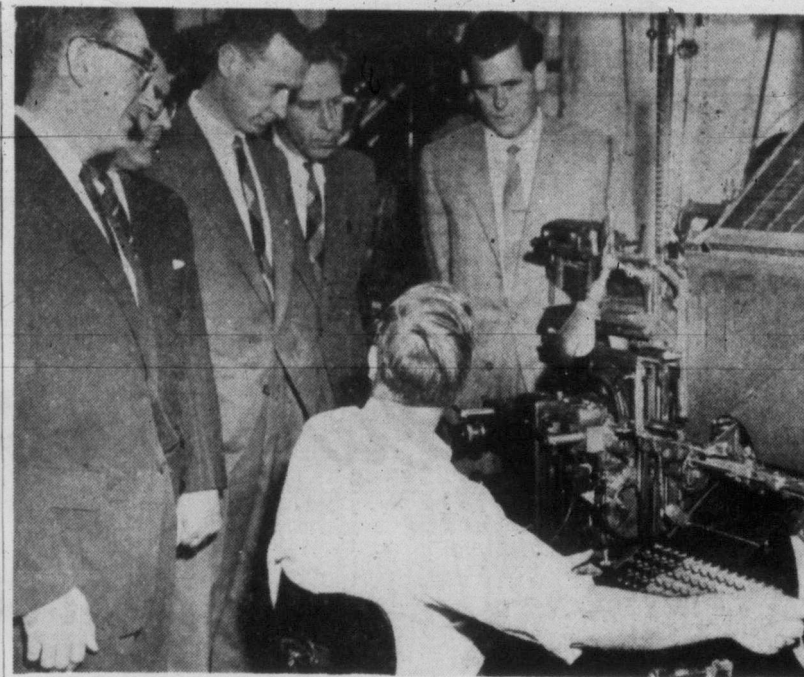

"Canadian can well be proud of their Red Cross," he concluded, "it has played a major part in a relief operation of a scope never done before and has proved that people widely differing in language and customs can work together for a common cause . . . humanity."

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTTEETH at any drug counter.

Council Expected to Relax Store Hours for Christmas

Mayor Percy Scurreh indicated today city council would act to relax shopping hour restrictions between Dec. 16 and Christmas.

DECISION SOON

BCE Ponders Tree Removal Cost Split

The B.C. Electric Company is expected to tell city council within two weeks whether it will pay all or part of costs of tree removal where required to accommodate new high voltage wires.

Company representative R. J. Ward was told by parks committee Tuesday 175 trees on Moss Street must be removed. They have been pruned until they are disfigured.

Lines throughout the city are being increased in capacity to 12,000 volts and branches must be kept clear to avoid accidents.

"This seriously affects our whole boulevard program," said city electrical engineer Kenneth Reid.

Parks chairman, Ald. G. E. Edgelow said the city would look after planting of smaller trees. But he felt the BCE should share the costs involved in removing the older trees where they interfere with the wiring.

Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs, J. Everett Brown advised by letter this week the government would permit waiving of new Municipal Act regulations.

He said council could permit evening and Wednesday afternoon shopping by passage of a resolution and forwarding a copy of the resolution to his department.

"It is understood that no prosecutions will be undertaken in the municipality in respect of shops remaining open, in accordance with the provisions of the resolution," Mr. Brown's letter said.

SENSIBLE

The mayor said the action by the department " . . . is the sensible thing to do. It was an oversight and will be corrected at the next session of the legislature."

"It has caused a great deal of concern to merchants," he said. Under the old act, municipalities had power to regulate shopping hours at Christmas time. The new act makes no exemptions and makes prosecution possible for violations of the 6 p.m. closing law.

Victoria Liberal MLA George Gregory said he was "shocked" that the cabinet would authorize "something expressly forbidden by the legislature."

He pointed out, a single complaint filed by a private citizen, in event stores are permitted to open in violation of the act, could possibly force the department to withdraw its proposal. Other city legal authorities felt the city would be compelled to prosecute under the act, if requested to do so.

"I don't know what the legal position is," said Mayor Scurreh.

BOY HOSTAGE FREED BY DAD; SUSPECT HELD

Held hostage by burglars in a raid of his Vancouver home Tuesday but freed by his father, and uncle was Bobby Myren, 11, whose grandmother, Mrs. Brenda Myren, lives in Victoria at 3124 Glasgow.

In the ensuing melee, the burglar, holding Bobby as hostage until his already-nabbed accomplice's release, was badly mauled by the father and the uncle wielding a potato masher.

He escaped, however, and is now being hunted by Vancouver police.

Ash Wants More Talks On Joint Hall

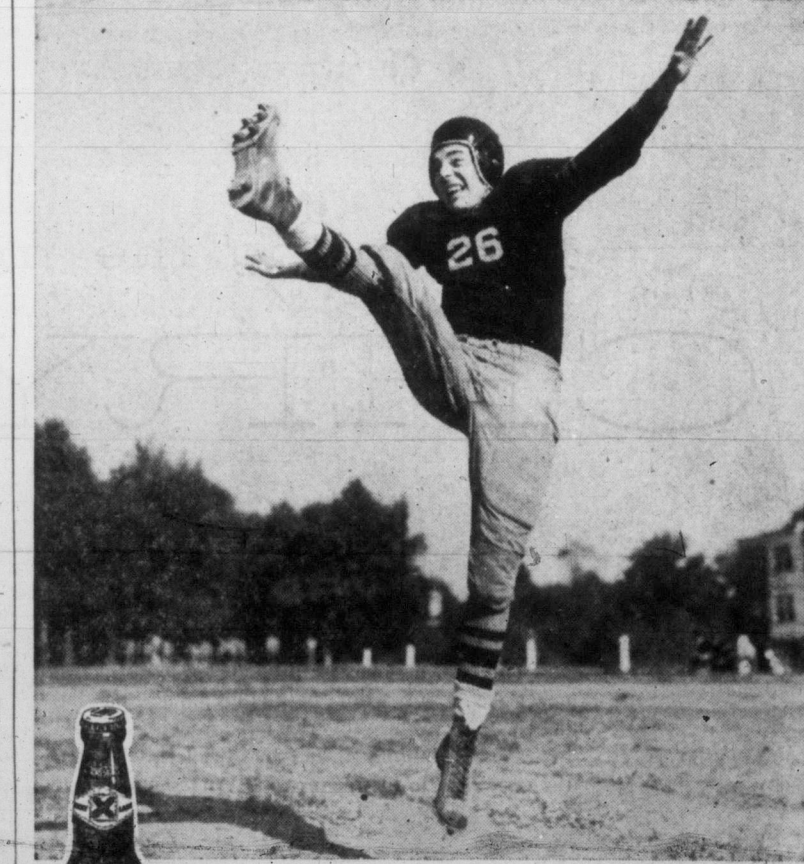

Resumption of joint municipal hall talks with Victoria was urged Tuesday by Reeve Arthur Ash.

Whether or not voters approve an investigation of amalgamation, Saanich should look into the possibility of a joint hall, he said.

The city may soon require a new hall as a result of a proposed $5,000,000 development by Woodward, Ltd., in the downtown area.

Meanwhile the Saanich committee for a temporary hall will recommend to council that a prefabricated building of steel or wood be erected on the present hall site to cut overcrowding.

Cost would be from $20,000 to $30,000.

Teamsters Raise Funds for Hoffa

CHICAGO (AP)—The Tribune says today that a legal defence fund which may reach $2,000,000 is being raised by officials of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters for the use of James R. Hoffa, the union's president-elect and other teamster officers.

The Tribune says this was disclosed by Harold J. Gibbons of St. Louis, a vice-president.

Gibbons, not available to confirm the Tribune story, is quoted as saying he hoped to receive $1,000 contributions from 2,000 union officers in 800 teamster locals throughout the United States and in Canada.

"This money could be used by Hoffa and any other teamster who finds himself in trouble with the federal government and the Senate investigating committee," the Tribune quotes Gibbons.

"We decided to set up this little pool because all of us are being investigated and none of us has enough money to finance a legal defence."

He said the defence fund will be raised through promissory notes for $1,000 and a $40 interest payment that will be "made available" to all teamster officers.

War Criminal Paroled by U.S.

TOKYO (Reuters)—The Japanese foreign ministry said today the United States has granted parole to a former Japanese army lieutenant jailed for 30 years in 1949 for beheading an American prisoner of war in 1945.

The Japanese, Norimi Otusu, became eligible for parole when a review board reduced his sentence to 26 years.

WINNIE LEAVES EARLY FROM WEDDING PARTY

LONDON (AP)—The younger members of the Churchill clan danced until after dawn today to celebrate the marriage of 22-year-old Sally Churchill to 34-year-old Colin Crewe, an insurance broker.

But the greatest of the family—Sir Winston—confessed that he didn't have the stamina for such a marathon party anymore. The elder statesman, 83 on Nov. 30, retired after seeing the fun was started.

17 Die in Scottish Mine Disaster

MUIRKIRK, Scotland (Reuters)—Rescuers fought their way today through blocked tunnels and deadly gas to reach the bodies of 15 to 17 miners killed Tuesday night in an explosion at a coal mine here.

It was the worst pit disaster in Britain in six years. Cause of the explosion still is unknown.

Two bodies have been recovered and 17 others injured men brought to the surface.

When rescuers reached the surface, women of this little coal town asked them anxiously: "Is my man down there?"

Some 200 men were underground when the explosion occurred in a six-foot seam where about 30 men were working.

All the others were immediately ordered to the surface but desperate attempts to reach trapped fellow-workers before rescue teams, ambulances and police arrived. Some of the rescuers collapsed later and had to be brought to the surface.

The mine employs 600 men and produces 150,000 tons of coal a year.

LAWYER STILL PLANS PROBE INJUNCTION

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lawyer Alfred Bull today was understood to be planning to proceed with his application for an injunction barring the Sloan Royal Commission from investigating charges of graft against former forests minister R. E. Sommers.

Mr. Bull said he may start the injunction proceedings in Supreme Court Thursday.

Mr. Bull had told the opening hearing that the commission has no right to investigate what he said would be a Criminal Code charge if proven.

FRANCE CAN COOL OFF

Agreement Reached On Arms to Tunisia

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and France have agreed to supply Tunisia with arms in such a way that French tempers can cool and they can patch up the Atlantic Alliance.

The agreement was reached, diplomats said, between State Secretary Dulles and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau during a three-hour talk at the state department Tuesday.

Dulles and Pineau uncovered other topics, including France's two-year fight against Algerian rebels and President Eisenhower's proposals to breathe new life into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee in 1952 and 1956, sat in on the NATO part of the talks.

Stevenson arranged a morning conference today with Pineau.

Officials said Dulles and Pineau agreed that any Western arms shipments to Tunisia must be made foolproof against their falling into the hands of rebels in neighboring Algeria.

They agreed to do this through close consultation among themselves, Britain and Tunisia.

Attack Needs Okay

LONDON (Reuters)—United States planes cannot launch an attack from bases in Britain without first obtaining British consent, Defence Minister Sandys said today.

The cabinet today authorized Premier Felix Gaillard to conscript personnel needed to maintain public services.

Garbage littered the streets and stacks of mail jammed post offices today in the wake of Tuesday's strike by more than 1,000,000 government employees.

The strike also closed schools and government offices, prevented visits to hospital patients and jails and forced postponement of funerals.

Big Store Plan Revives Joint City Hall Scheme

USAF Knew Sputniks Due But Kept Mum

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A congressional investigator said today the United States Air Force got information of Russian satellite launching plans months ahead of time but "the American people were never forewarned."

Jodoin Asks Fast Action On Jobless

Fulton Blames Liberal Tight Money Policy

OTTAWA (CP)—President Claude Jodoin of the Canadian Labor Congress today urged the government to adopt emergency measures to combat unemployment which, he said, shows signs of being the worst since the Second World War.

The head of the 1,100,000-member labor body said the government labor survey showing 208,000 jobless in October—more than double the figure of last year 98,000—calls for steps to bring immediate relief.

Mr. Jodoin said the figures issued today "confirm our fears that unemployment this winter may be the worst since the war."

In Vancouver Tuesday Justice Minister Fulton blamed Canada's mounting unemployment largely on the tight money policies of the former Liberal government.

He told students at the University of British Columbia the Conservative government is relaxing the tight money restrictions to counter unemployment, but said it would be some months before effects of the move would be noticed.

It would be folly to minimize the employment situation, Mr. Fulton said, but he did not see things as "disastrous."

Killings of 2 Women Admitted by Farmer

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Ed Gein, 51-year-old bachelor farmer, has admitted the killings of two women near his central Wisconsin farm home during the last three years, an official statement from the Wisconsin state crime laboratory said today.

The statement was issued jointly by the district attorneys of five Wisconsin counties with major unsolved disappearances during the last decade.

Read by Charles Wilson, director of the laboratory, the statement said: "Mr. Gein now has admitted he is responsible for the death of Mary Hogan on Dec. 8, 1954, and the death of Bernice Worden, on Nov. 16, 1957. Their heads were found on his farm."

Lie detector tests have been in progress since Tuesday afternoon.

PRINCE PLANS UNPRECEDENTED PALACE PARLEY

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Herald says today Prince Philip will make history by holding a press conference in Buckingham Palace in February.

"Friends of his told me that he is quite determined about it and has overridden solid palace opposition," a columnist reports, adding, "His experiences with the Canadian and American reporters on his recent tour with the Queen have influenced him."

U.K. To Build Atom Plants For Italy

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain will construct a series of nuclear power stations in Italy, it was announced here today.

The Nuclear Power Company—a consortium of eight British firms—announced it has been awarded a contract to design an atomic power plant in northern Italy—the first such agreement between a British and foreign enterprise.

London newspapers hail the agreement with bold headlines declaring Britain has beaten the United States and Russia to the punch in a rich export field.

A spokesman for the firm estimated it would take two years to build the Italian plant. It will have the capacity to supply electricity to a community of 100,000.

Formal contract is to be signed next June.

He said the station will be roughly twice the size of Calder Hall, Britain's first nuclear power station which has been providing commercial electricity for the last year.

Asked about reports that Japan might also order a nuclear power station from Britain, the spokesman said: "Not at the moment, but several countries are interested."

Estimated cost for the first plant in Italy is $80,000,000. Reports from Rome said the power station probably will be situated near one of the lakes north of Milan.

Mayor, Reeve Ash Urge New Study

By PETE LOUDON

Possibility of Victoria and Saanich uniting in construction of a joint city hall was revived today.

Leaders of both municipalities expressed new hope following the proposal Tuesday of Woodward Stores Ltd. to buy Victoria City Hall and adjoining property for a new department store.

Both Mayor Percy Scurrell and Reeve Arthur Ash called today for new talks on the joint hall proposal which was abandoned by Saanich last November.

Mayor Scurrell said there is reason to hope the deal with Woodward's will be completed "within two weeks."

Victoria will have to make an immediate start on a new city hall. Now is the time for Saanich to decide whether to

'Get Down to Cases

"So far the only plan we have had has been theoretical. Now I'd like to really get down to cases and have a study made. A definite plan should be submitted to the electors."

"We should know in a couple of weeks whether we are going to go ahead with the proposal to sell the hall to Woodward's. I'm hoping it will be in time for a referendum at election time (Dec. 12)."

In October last year Saanich and Victoria were investigating sites for a joint hall—two north-Victoria sites being most favored.

$2 Million Cost Envisaged

Planning had proceeded to the point where a five-storey building was envisaged with each municipality having one wing. It was thought the cost would be about $2,000,000.

Saanich council voted to withdraw from the committee. There had been consideration at the time that as well as a joint hall the two municipalities should also pool public works equipment.

The Woodward proposal has also caused concern to Victoria Fire Wardens' Committee which is seeking a site for a new fire hall.

Greater Victoria School Board today advised the committee it is still opposed to use of any part of Central Junior High School grounds for the hall. The proposal by Woodward Stores Ltd. appears to rule out any thought the present site of the fire hall could be maintained.

The new store would envelope the fire hall, market building and about three adjoining blocks.

Use of a site at Pandora and Chambers, an old waterworks yard already owned by the city, now seems likely. Money is already earmarked for that project and the question is expected to be aired at council next week.

Victoria Chamber of Commerce president Hugh Stephen commented today on the impending vast shuffle of civic buildings, private stores and shops and the possible erection of a $5,000,000 department store.

"It would be a magnificent project for the city—one that would keep the downtown area busy and ensure its future stability and prosperity."

"It reflects great credit on Mayor Percy Scurrell. He has shown great foresight and wisdom in this matter."

Fast Action on Disorderly Juvenile Home Promised

Mayor Percy Scurrell today promised immediate action to correct disorderly conditions at the Cold Harbour Road Juvenile Detention Home.

The home was described Tuesday night by superintendent Col. W. S. Dingley as almost inoperative due to the increased number of "hoodlums" in the 16 to 18 years bracket, who are placed there by district police.

Unless the age limit for inmates is dropped to 16, the superintendent said he and his wife will resign.

For over two years, Col. Dingley told a meeting of the juvenile home board, young thugs of the brass knuckle set have made a joke of the institution.

"Why hasn't this been brought to our attention?" asked Mayor Percy Scurrell today. "If there is something wrong they should report it. 'I've never had a report. We'll certainly go after the situation and correct it.'"

A check of city hall records this morning showed no report of conditions at the home has been made to city council for at least four years.

City representative on the board is former alderman, Mrs. Margaret Christie.

The home is operated jointly by Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt municipalities.

Esquimalt representative, Coun. J. E. Carey, said this morning he had reported the conditions to his council. "...at least a dozen times—but they leave it to me."

The board has arranged a meeting with district reeves and Mayor Scurrell Tuesday

NEW FACES ASKED FOR ESQUIMALT

Coun. George Argyle said today he definitely will not run for re-election in Esquimalt Dec. 12.

"Let's just say I think it's time the council had some new faces," he said.

A councillor for six years, he said he hopes to launch a citizen's committee next year "to interest the electors in municipal politics."

Another member whose term expires this year, Coun. Arthur Fields said he is, "pretty certain" he will not contest the election. He has served on council for three years.

Only definite outside candidate for a council seat is ex-councillor G. K. Sammon.

Coun. Walter Holder will run for re-election.

Two Die, Two Saved In Fire

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)—Two small children burned to death Tuesday in a house fire which broke out while their mother was hanging her wash on a neighbor's line.

Killed were Kenneth Klein, 2, and his 16-month-old brother Larry, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Klein. Jimmy Klein, 4, ran to safety, and an unidentified youth rescued a four-month-old girl.

4 Shipwreck Victims Found Safe on Island

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Four men, missing since Tuesday when their tugboat went aground in Lake Superior, were picked up today by the searching tug John C. and were en route to Nipigon, Ont., 65 miles northeast of here.

Search headquarters reported that the men were first sighted on Evelyn Rock, a small island nine miles southwest of Hawk Island, by an RCAF Dakota from Trenton, Ont.

'Anti-Missile' U.S. Army Plan

Project to Cost Millions,
New York Times Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times says today the administration is being urged by the army to make an all-out effort to produce an operational anti-missile by 1961 at a three-year cost of between $6,000,000,000 and $7,000,000,000.

B.C. Labor Protests Ship Transfer

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver District Labor Council has decided to protest to the federal government against the proposed transfer of vessels by Canadian National (West Indies) Steamships to Trinidad registry.

The CNS decision was taken after failure to settle a strike of Seafarers' International Union crew members, who walked out five months ago in Halifax and Montreal.

The Labor Council said in a resolution Tuesday that if the registry is transferred, the Conservative government will be guilty of strike-breaking because the steamship firm is a crown corporation.

Transfer of registry would allow the company to hire foreign crew members.

MONTREAL (CP)—Five ships of Canadian National Steamships, whose registry recently was transferred to Trinidad from Canada, have sailed from Montreal. Their destination was not disclosed.

The ships, strikebound here since last June, slipped down the St. Lawrence River Tuesday night.

Three other CNS ships are tied up at east coast ports.

A Washington dispatch calls it "a dramatic proposal for a defence against the Soviet trans-polar intercontinental ballistic missile."

The Times says the proposal has been made to the joint chiefs of staff and Defence Secretary Neil McElroy by army chief of staff Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

The story also says in part: On the basis of experiments with components of the army missile, Nike Zeus, Taylor is convinced that this weapon can be developed with nuclear and thermonuclear warheads to the point where it can track down and destroy the Soviet ICBM.

Taylor is supporting larger new expenditures for U.S. offensive missiles in all ranges. But he insists that the U.S. must immediately try for a major breakthrough in the anti-missile field. This is to keep pace with the development of Soviet missiles capable of reaching the United States across the north polar regions.

Senate Body Backs Hike

OTTAWA (CP)—The Senate banking committee today approved a government bill that will increase war veterans' allowances and the number eligible for them.

The bill, which will cost the government $9,000,000 a year, now will go to the Senate for final approval.

Opposition Leader Ross Macdonald said it was unfair to set a time limit in extending the allowance to cover veterans who served for one year in the United Kingdom during the First World War. The allowance now goes only to those in a theatre of war and the U.K. was not so designated in 1914-18.

Senator Macdonald said a veteran who had served short of the year could not get any benefit from the allowance although his services in many cases could have been as trying as a veteran in the front. He said a soldier who went to France even for one day would be eligible for the allowance night when Col. Dingley's report will be aired.

Here are the highlights: There have been seven breakouts this year—three within the last week.

Eight youngsters have been transferred to city jail after attempted escapes. On several other occasions teenagers have been locked in the jail because the home was filled to overcrowding.

Parents have aided youngsters in violating security regulations. In one case a visiting mother smuggled beer to her son.

Tough-mannered, foul-talking youths of 17 have had to be packed into the same dormitory with nine, 10 and 11-year-olds, sometimes for weeks on end.

FROM 34 TO 125

In the last 10 years admissions have grown from 34 annually to 125 so far in 1957.

There is no relief for Col. Dingley. The home must operate 24 hours daily. He has had no holiday this year and has no prospects.

Damage to the home and furnishings by inmates in the last year is greater than has been perpetrated in the last nine years.

Col. Dingley has limited visitors to parents only and has asked permission to bar windows. Some parents are bringing boy friends and girl friends of inmates and "passing them off" as relatives.

District police juvenile officers say when they bring in a young tough, they know that before the night is over they will have to re-apprehend the youngster and take him to jail. But they are required to go through the routine first.

Victoria police commission is slated to discuss the home at its next meeting.

CUT AGE LIMIT

The juvenile home committee will tell the officials: "Either the age limit must be reduced or you have to scrap the whole thing and build a new $50,000 juvenile home."

Present at the Tuesday meeting were Mrs. Margaret Christie, representing Victoria; Coun. Fred Robinson, representing Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich were not represented, due to illness.

Also there were police juvenile officers V. W. Pratley of Oak Bay, Harry Adams of Saanich and Lyle D. Somers of Victoria.

Col. Dingley reported when the home was opened 11 years ago there was no idea juvenile delinquency would grow "at such an enormous rate." Its use has increased 400 per cent over 1947 and in the last two years, 45 per cent of the boys and girls placed there are over 16 years of age.

"The damage to chairs, windows and the home is colossal." The attitude of some parents is "disgraceful."

"Some of the older boys... their language is simply awful." Coun. Robinson, acting chairman, said the committee had decided last April to call a meeting of district civic heads.

"And not a thing was done," said Col. Dingley. "If it goes any further, it leaves me no alternative but to resign and let the police take over."

Col. Dingley was outspoken against "a strong feeling in this area to mollycoddle these youngsters. If this is not checked now we'll be building more Brannan Lake Schools to accommodate them."

"We hear them brag, 'They can't do anything to you—you're a juvenile,' he said."

WALL DEFACED

He showed the sleeping quarters. A bedroom with twin beds for girls—where the walls are always freshly painted to hide the obscenities scribbled on the walls.

He showed the one security room—a bare room with a ceiling skylight, bed, chair and linoleum floor.

A 16-year-old girl tore even those sparse furnishings apart.

"Once a boy gets to be 16, he's good or he's bad—and you're not going to change him either," he said.

The home was originally intended as a "sort of foster home" but is used as the only place where juveniles can be kept while awaiting court decision on their cases. Sometimes the boys and girls are kept up to six weeks in the home.

He said there is no longer time for attempts at correction: while youngsters are at the home, although he admitted Tuesday was a rare occasion when there was not a single inmate.

The committee endorsed Col. Dingley's contention that unless there is a change and the over-16s are kept elsewhere, the home can no longer be operated. The colonel said he would await a decision from the committee of mayor and Reeves. And he will await the next session of the B.C. Legislature, where the juvenile age limit is due for reconsideration.

If nothing happens, he will quit.

6-Day Shopping by March 1 Asked by City Merchants

Changes in the Municipal Act to permit six-day shopping in Victoria by March 1 of B.C.'s centennial year were asked of the provincial cabinet Tuesday.

The suggestion contained in a brief presented by the Six-Day Shopping Week Committee of Victoria was one of several that would affect shop regulation sections of the act.

Others would: Allow corner stores to sell all goods on their shelves after 6 p.m. instead of limiting sale to a few items;

Provide province-wide regulation of shops on statutory holidays and remove the Queen's birthday and Easter Sunday from the list of store holidays; Regulate larger retail establishments and barber shop and shoeshine establishments without restricting neighborhood or corner stores or wholesale businesses;

Give shops the right to remain open one night each week if they wish, the night to be designated by municipal council if it wishes to do so.

Cabinet was told that half-day closing on Wednesday is "unsatisfactory."

"It is not liked by shopper, employee or employer," the brief said. "There is a large falling off in the number of shoppers who come to town on Wednesday and the employees dislike the broken days. Under the six-day shopping week our employees worked five straight days. Their rights are fully protected."

Local stores should be open to meet the demands of tourists during centennial celebrations, the brief stressed.

"If you say 'ain't', dangle a participle and split an infinitive now and then—so what!" says authority Dr. Evans. "So did Shakespeare and Kipling!" OUTDOOR REPORT BY Doug Peden

MEMO TO B.C. HUNTERS:

Those of us who enjoy the time we can spend with a rifle or gun in British Columbia's forests, fields or marshes are faced with a continual struggle.

Many of our neighbors believe all hunters are cruel and careless creatures. We realize they usually feel that way because they don't understand. But we know that we cannot relax in our battle to convince them that only a small portion of our fraternity is responsible for the bad reports they hear. And the best way we can do it is by building a better reputation through greater use of consideration and caution.

Some claim it is wrong to shoot anything. We believe hunting is a natural instinct and that only those who are strict vegetarians have any excuse to criticize our form of recreation. But we have no rebuttal for the strongest opposition against hunting because we sometimes kill ourselves.

Considering the number of hours we spend hunting, we think ours is a reasonably safe recreation. Many of us feel safer in the woods during hunting season than driving in Sunday traffic. But more people understand about cars and, although both result from carelessness, a shooting fatality causes more furor than a highway death.

We know we're not as bad as some would paint us.

Licensed to Kill—But Not Each Other

But let's face it: we have a shameful record. Here we are, only a little more than half way through the 1957-58 hunting season and we are already three above our former all-time high in hunting fatalities. At the rate we're going, we could double the shocking total of eight deaths recorded in B.C. last season.

There are more than 90,000 of us in the province holding firearms licences. We are licensed to kill—but not each other. We feel that three of the deaths could have happened to hikers, campers or fishermen and shouldn't be blamed on hunting. One was lost and given up for dead, two died of fumes from a stove while sleeping in a cabin.

That leaves us with eight shooting fatalities and a larger number of wounding. It works out at one shooting death among about 12,000 hunters. We could say that is a small percentage, if we didn't know there should be no such thing as a shooting accident.

And we have to admit the number of fatalities is climbing at a faster rate than our ranks are increasing. Statistics show that we lost six men through hunting accidents of all kinds during the 1954-55 season, when there were 81,709 firearms licences sold. We did better the following year, losing only five of 83,459.

A Little Thinking May Save a Life

We thought we had our blackest season last year, when eight fatalities were chalked up among almost 90,000 licensed hunters. But so far this season, we have had 11. And each one has been a retreat in the battle against public opinion.

All of the deaths could have been avoided. We all know that a gun properly carried can't kill its handler or his companions, even if it discharges accidentally. It should never be aimed at anything that has not been identified as an animal or bird we intend to kill.

Unloaded and placed out of the way when not in use, a gun can't kill a man. We know a gun is not dangerous. It's the man behind it.

We know that loss of life through being lost in the woods can be avoided if we take the trouble to learn how to travel in the woods and to carry adequate equipment. Preparation and knowledge defeat panic, the main cause of death among lost hunters.

Most of us are sure we won't get in a position where we can be overcome by fumes or find ourselves out in deep water in an overloaded or leaky boat.

Accidents can happen to the other fellow, but not to us. Yet they have happened too often and we're losing the struggle to have non-hunters recognize hunting as a safe and healthy recreation.

Perhaps you're not as careful as you believe. It may be time to take stock of your habits. A little thinking now may save a life—and it may be your own.

Okanagan Tilts Tough, But Warriors in Romp

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Kamloops Chiefs defeated Pentlitzon 5-4 and Kelowna Packers beat Vernon Canadians 4-2 in overtime in two hard-fought Okanagan Senior Hockey League contests Tuesday night.

In the Western International League, Rossland Warriors defeated Nelson Maple Leafs 12-1 in the worst shellacking of the season.

More than 1,400 fans saw Pentlitzon score two goals and goalies, George Wood in the dying minute in an effort to close up after Kamloops entered the third period with a 4-2 edge. Chiefs' Bill Hryciuk was awarded a penalty shot after his goal attempt was blocked by defenceman Kevin Conway. Kamloops marksmen were rookie Ron Leopold, who scored twice; Bill and Dick Warwick and Gerry Prince. Pentlitzon scorers were Dave Wall, Bob Harper, Lowell Dykstra and Al Lloyd.

Kelowna and Vernon were even all the way until the overtime frame. Odie Lowe scored on his third shot at Kelowna goalie Dave Gatherum. Packers tied with a shot by Greg Jablonski.

Vernon's Frank King scored on a deceptive play in the second minute of overtime, but Jim Middleton came back two minutes later, letting a shot go over Vernon goalie Hal Gordon's shoulder. Brian Roche pulled Gordon out of the net to sink the winning goal and Al Shaefer added the insurance marker in the final minute.

In WHL play, Rossland were leading 3-0 at the end of the first period and kept piling them on. Nelson scored their lone marker in the second period, but Rossland had added six more by the end of the frame.

Leftwinger Leo Lucchini led the Warriors with three goals and two assists, the remaining markers being scored by Alex Birkow, Norm Lenardon, McIntyre, Gil Desrosiers, Frank Turk, George Ferguson and Yogi Kraiger.

League-leading scorer Lee Hyssop saved the Maple Leafs from a complete washout.

Vic High Juniors Pad Win Streak

In Inter-High School Junior Rugby League action recently, Oak Bay Whites fought to a 0-0 draw at Esquimalt and the Vic High squad scored its third consecutive win, downing Oak Bay Greens, 6-0.

At Esquimalt, action saw Oak Bay Whites and the first tie in league competition this season. David Reese went across for Vic High in the first half, but the Vics, who lack a proficient kicker, missed the convert and had to be content with a 3-0 lead. Keith Gray picked up the other try late in the second half.

The Vics have now downed each team in the league.

Etchevery After Canadian Papers

MONTREAL (CP)—Sam Etchevery, star quarterback for Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four Football League for the last six seasons, has decided to become a Canadian citizen.

Brought up from the United States in 1952, Etchevery has been making business connections in Montreal and, it was learned today, hopes to settle here after his retirement from football.

Etchevery, 27 years old, intends to follow the lead of teammate Tom Hugo in taking out Canadian citizenship.

Hard-Playing Player Downs Aussie Ossie

MELBOURNE, Australia (CP)—South African Gary Player, making a brilliant comeback after trailing one down at the 27th, defeated Ossie Pickworth, four-times Australian champion, 2 and 1 in the semi-final of the Australian professional golf championship today.

In the final Thursday, Player will meet Australian Peter Thomson, who defeated Eric Cremin 2 and 1 in the other semifinal.

Indoor Rinks Not New To Russian Pucksters

TORONTO (CP)—Indoor arenas and artificial ice won't bother the Russian hockey team in its seven-game swing through Ontario and Quebec, team officials said on arrival here early today. These conditions aren't new to them.

Moscow has had a 14,000-seat arena complete with artificial ice since 1956. So the Russians, who toppled Canada from its Olympic perch in Italy last year, aren't looking for any excuses against junior and senior teams.

"It won't be difficult to play under these conditions in this country," said Col. Pavel Korotkov, chairman of the Soviet Ice Hockey Federation, in an interview. The players might find it a little bothersome to adjust themselves to atmospheric conditions, but they are quietly confident they can hold their own on the ice.

Wary after more than two days in the air, the Russians headed for their downtown hotel and sleep shortly after their arrival by plane at 5 a.m.

PRACTICE IN GANDER

They left Moscow Monday morning, arrived at Ganders, Nfld., early Tuesday and took advantage of a stopover to practice. They took a milk-run journey to Montreal, stopping off at Sydney, N.S., and Halifax en route and their plane landed at suburban Malton airport nearly two hours late.

Col. Korotkov, who heads the 26-man party, readily admitted through an interpreter that this wasn't Russia's strongest team, nor is it the team that will play in the world amateur championships at Oslo next Feb. 28-March 9.

"Some of this team will play in Oslo," he said. But personnel of the club for the world championships won't be decided until after the European tournament at Stockholm early in December.

The Russians open their tour Friday night here against Whitby Dunlops, Canada's representatives in the world championships. Then they play in Windsor, Kitchener, Sudbury, Montreal, Kingston, and Ottawa before heading for Stockholm Dec. 8.

The team is a composite all-star club from the Dynamos, Soviet Wings and Central Sports Club of the ministry of defence in Moscow.

A busy schedule has been lined up for the Russians. They will practice at Maple Leaf Gardens this afternoon, attend a press reception and tonight will watch the Chicago-Toronto National Hockey League game.

VICTORIA, B.C., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1957

MONTE ROBERTS

Maclean's Magazine has come out in favor of having Christmas always fall on a Monday.

As a man whose birthday is May 24, and who has seen May 24 fall on May 21, 22, 23, 25 and 26, I am congenitally opposed to any such fooling around with the calendar.

But before proceeding further, it is necessary to admit that Maclean's makes a strong case for Christmas on a Monday—instead of, for instance, a Wednesday, as it is this year. Maclean's suggests that a week fractured by a holiday in the middle is practically a lost week.

To quote: "We all go to our jobs half-heartedly on Monday and Tuesday, with our thoughts on Christmas, and we return to our jobs Thursday and Friday wishing we were home in bed."

Maclean's claims there should be no religious objections. "While the day celebrates the birth of the Saviour, no one knows for sure what day or even what year He was born."

To avoid a theological argument, let us consider the point of view expressed by Maclean's which interests me most:

"... most people, if it were put to a vote, would probably favor a law that would provide that Christmas would always come on a Monday."

This idea of taking a popular vote to change the calendar is intriguing, to say the least, and in a democracy is worthy of earnest consideration.

Why not vote on what day should come on which day? (Or is it which day should come on what day?)

Old Vic's Uncle Zerk, for instance, would no doubt vote for Monday coming on Tuesday, at the earliest, and preferably Wednesday.

And his vote would be supported by many another week-end.

To carry this a bit further, a plebiscite on a law reducing the week before pay day to three days—possibly two—would receive universal support.

And a law making the first two weeks in July at least 14 days long apiece would be strongly supported by all those whose holidays fall during the first two weeks of July.

There is another matter which Maclean's should take into consideration when suggesting laws which affect the calendar.

This is the difference between years.

Our present system of having 365 days for three out of every four years could well be improved.

Some years are good years, some years are bad years. For instance, the year when you are 19 and have your first job, and a dollar in your pocket and a girl on your arm—THAT year should certainly last more than 365 days.

Give the 19-year-olds a vote, and THAT year would last forever.

On the contrary, there are other years—1914 and 1939, to name only two—which should have been voted out of existence entirely.

The more I talk this over with myself, the more I begin to believe Maclean's has something.

Let us run the calendar on the basis of the popular vote. Is this, or is this not, a democracy?

"Make sure it's meat..."

'Faked Up' Fowl Have Phony Fat

B.C. housewives today were warned against buying turkeys that are "faked up" to look fatter than they are.

Vancouver Island Poultry Co. Association complained that a high percentage of turkeys are being sold as Grade A although they lack the necessary amount of fat for this grade.

H. D. Arnold, Duncan poultry farmer, told the B.C. Federation of Agriculture at its 24th annual convention of a process by which turkeys are given a "bleached out" look to deceive poultry graders.

"This is known as the hard scald process," Mr. Arnold said. "Turkeys are first plunged into boiling water and then into freezing cold water."

"This gives them a bleached-out look and creates a layer of air under the skin which makes them look fatter than they are."

"It is high time the housewife was protected against these deceptions."

The B.C. federation gave unanimous support to a resolution aimed at "de-grading" the turkey with the phony fat.

It urged the federal government to instruct inspectors to adhere strictly to the grade standards for turkeys, particularly in their interpretation of the fat factor.

Egg Competition Claimed 'Unfair'

The federal government was today asked to remove 180,000 cases of surplus eggs from the Canadian market.

The B.C. Federation of Agriculture, at its 24th annual convention, complained that the government's storage eggs are competing unfairly with farmers producing fresh eggs.

The federation passed a resolution asking the government to "dispose of this surplus in such a manner that it will be removed from the Canadian market."

"There is at present no way by which the housewife can distinguish these storage eggs from Grade A fresh eggs," said producer Eric Flowerdew of Aldergrove, B.C.

"They are making it difficult for the producer to sell Grade A eggs even at the reduced price of 32 cents a dozen."

"We don't care what the government does with these eggs so long as they get them off the market," Mr. Flowerdew added.

"They can send them to China for all we care."

A spokesman for the B.C. Federation suggested that the storage eggs could either be powdered and sold to bakeries, or they could be sold at slightly reduced prices to charitable institutions.

The federation recommended that all storage eggs should be placed in containers marked "storage eggs."

It further suggested that, during periods of heavy storing, at least a portion of storage eggs should be placed on the export market—if necessary below the floor price.

Another resolution still before the convention asks the provincial government to revise the Eggs Mark Act to make it compulsory for the container as well as the eggs to be stamped as to their country of origin.

Under discussion this afternoon was a resolution to prevent U.S. exporters from downgrading top-grade vegetables in order to undercut Canadian prices.

New Peace River Bridge Assured

Ottawa to Build Span At No Cost to B.C.

The federal government has definite plans to build another Alaska Highway Bridge over the Peace River at Fort St. John.

This was made clear today by Justice Minister Davie Fulton, who said he would meet with B.C. Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi to discuss the matter. Ottawa does not expect B.C. to bear any of the cost of rebuilding the bridge that collapsed last month, Mr. Fulton said.

There has been a proposal that the provincial highways department take over at least the first 50 miles of the Alaska Highway, which would include the span at Taylor.

The federal government has been responsible for maintenance of the highway since it was turned over to Ottawa by the U.S. Army at the end of the war.

NO DETAILS

Mr. Fulton said he would not disclose details of the federal plan for a new bridge until after meeting with Mr. Gagliardi.

The justice minister was also to meet with provincial government officials late this afternoon to discuss ways of averting a shutdown of the Britannia copper mine.

The discussions were to be with Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan and Labor Minister Lyle Wicks.

Mr. Fulton said he was "gratified" that the mine owners had decided at a meeting in New York Tuesday to defer the closure to see if anything can be done. The jobs of 800 miners are at stake.

The justice minister met with company officials in Vancouver Tuesday and after his discussions today will make recommendations to the federal cabinet.

SUBSIDIES

Among the proposals under consideration are federal subsidies to keep the mine going, and stockpiling of the copper by the government as a defence measure.

"A number of possibilities are being considered," Mr. Fulton said.

The minister said the government was aware it may be faced by similar requests from other mining concerns if it moves to help Britannia, but felt this should not prevent it from investigating the problem.

BUSY DAY

Mr. Fulton arrived this morning aboard the CPR overnight boat from Vancouver and leaves by air this evening.

He began his busy day by making a brief "non-political" speech at a breakfast sponsored jointly by local Conservatives and the Victoria Bar Association. About 100 persons attended.

Later in the morning he spoke before the B.C. Federation of Agriculture convention.

Mr. Fulton gave an outline of the Conservative government's agricultural program for the present session of Parliament, and said much remained to be done.

The minister said he was confident the disposal problems faced by Canadian farmers resulting from U.S. dumping policies will be "modified" by discussions between the two countries.

At the same time, he warned B.C. farmers they must face competition of "an extremely intense type" from other countries, particularly the U.S.

Cool Cold Colder

Temperatures in sheltered areas of Greater Victoria will drop to an estimated 25 degrees overnight, or well below freezing point of 32 degrees, weatherman William Mackie predicted today.

"Skies will be clear for the next two days, with plenty of sunshine Thursday and most of Friday," he said. "But clear skies usually mean cold nights, and it will be really chilly in areas where the wind can't keep the air stirred up."

POTATO KING of B.C. is John Bendry, 4160 Blenkinsop, who won trophy at 14th annual B.C. potato conference in Burnaby. A dairy farmer, he grows potatoes as rotation crop to improve pasture, averaged 25.5 tons per acre on his seven-acre planting. His 48-acre farm is on south side of Blenkinsop Lake. (Times photo.)

Stone Plaque, Fence For Old Cherry Tree

A cherry tree planted in 1850 by James Douglas, founder of Victoria and father of British Columbia, will be marked with a stone plaque next spring by Victoria section, B.C. Historical Association.

When Douglas built his house on the edge of the mud flats of James Bay, he planted Victoria's first orchard, and the tree to be marked is the last of that orchard.

It stands today close to Elliott Street, in the government employees' parking lot.

The historical association's local section is giving the plaque with part of a donation from its patron, Lieut.-Gov. Frank M. Ross.

The department of recreation and conservation will build a granite and iron fence around the historic tree.

The Victoria section of the Historical Association also has voted $25 each to the Songhees Reserve recreation hall for Indian youth, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Sam Josephs, and to the restoration of the old stone church at Cowichan, which is the centennial project of the Cowichan Band of Indians and the Native Sons Lodge of Duncan.

Next meeting of the historical association's Victoria section will be Wednesday, Nov. 27, in the Douglas Building cafeteria, when Mrs. T. Harry Johns will speak on early missionary history of Victoria and British Columbia.

Duncan Man Hurt In Three-Car City Accident

Duncan motorist Sodhi Ram Jaswal, 23, was treated for a minor knee injury and discharged from St. Joseph's Hospital Tuesday after he was involved in a three-car collision at 1.20 p.m.

Police said his auto was in collision with another at Caledonia and Blanshard, driver of which was identified as Robert J. Tate, 4211 Cedar Glen.

Jaswal's car swerved over the intersection and was in collision with an auto driven by Alfred B. Carter, 4901 Cordova Bay, which was at a stop sign.

The spare tire and wheel from Jaswal's car broke loose and rolled across a parking lot, striking a fourth auto, but causing no damage. There was heavy damage to Jaswal's car.

Move to Expand Safety Group Due Next Week

A move to expand the recently-formed Greater Victoria and District chapter, B.C. Safety Council, will be made at an open meeting in the B.C. Electric building next Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The chapter hopes to broaden membership in its traffic, industrial and community sections by enlisting the co-operation of all official agencies involved in public safety and other groups interested in accident prevention.

General questions on the Safety Council will be answered at the meeting.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Miss Dorothy Collier, president of the B.C. Pre-School Association and nursery school director at the Greater Vancouver Cerebral Palsy Clinic, will address a general meeting of the Cerebral Palsy Association at the Royal Jubilee Hospital Monday at 8 p.m. Her talk on "The Basic Principles of Pre-School Education" will be illustrated with a short film. Plans for the expansion of the clinic will be discussed. The meeting will be open to the public.

Community Chest collections reached $202,328 to date and officials feel the goal of $251,717 is in sight. Residential canvass has not yet been completed, executive secretary A. G. Gilmore said. Several canvassers were forced to delay calls when they were struck down by flu. Persons missed by the campaign may phone Chest headquarters, 2-5121, and a canvasser will call for donations.

Because he saw a car ahead of him do it, Kenneth Hindson, 2509 Estevan, drove his car over a firehose on Yates. The other car got away but Hindson was stopped by police and today was fined $10 in city police court.

Ten parking meters were broken down overnight Tuesday, bringing to 44 the number tampered with since last Thursday.

The meters were on Pandora between Douglas and Blanshard, where three were opened; five on Blanshard and two on View.

They contained probably no more than 30-40 cents each, but damage per meter costs $5 to repair.

A note from a 15-year-old boy's mother giving him permission to buy fireworks was not enough to keep storekeeper Jackie Chow, 1400 Hillside, from being fined in city police court for selling to a person under 16.

Magistrate H. C. Hall said in court today there is no provision in the by-law prohibiting sale of fireworks to juveniles for written permission from a parent.

Chow pleaded not guilty. He was fined $10. On a second charge, for remaining open after noon Wednesday, Chow pleaded guilty and was fined $15.

Robert Hunter, an employee of Court and Ward contractors, 3207 Browning, is in good condition at Jubilee Hospital with a back injury received when he fell from a scaffold at about 1.40 p.m. Tuesday.

Victoria city parks committee Tuesday turned down a proposal for restricting the freedom of dogs on Beacon Hill Park waterfront. Parks administrator W. H. Warren asked dogs be required to be leashed in all park areas. The park area south of Dallas Road has in the past been reserved for "running" dogs, although they are required to be on a leash in the park proper. The committee said it would not impose further restrictions unless there were complaints.

Canadian Legion, Esquimalt branch 172, will meet at the Esquimalt Legion Hall, Admirals Road, tonight at 8.

A joint recital in aid of St. Mary's Anglican Church building fund, will be given Nov. 29 by John Dunbar, baritone, and Margaret Abbott, soprano.

The two well-known Victoria singers will be accompanied by Richard Proudman at the piano. A fine program of oratorio excerpts, French and German folk songs, is planned.

St. Mary's Parish Hall, Yale Street, will be the setting, and the time, 8 p.m.

City Group to Present Gold Medal to Princess

Victoria Numismatic Society will present a solid gold centennial medal to Princess Margaret when she visits B.C. next year. Announcement was made today by president Al Klenman, who estimated the cost would be about $150.

"The medal will be identical to bronze and silver ones being struck for the society at the Royal Mint in England."

They feature a bust of Sir James Douglas, first governor of B.C., on the front, and a picture of the Legislative Building with the inscription 1858-1958 on the reverse side.

Some bronze medals still are available, Mr. Klenman said.

An official presentation of a bronze and a silver medal will be made to archivist Willard

Local Liberals Name Officers

Forrest L. Shaw was re-elected Tuesday night as president of the Victoria Liberal Association at the annual meeting. Other officers named include: Hugh D. Ramsay, first vice-president; Mrs. J. L. Gates, second vice-president; Arthur H. Cox, secretary, and John A. McLellan, treasurer.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. What's the most thickly populated state in the United States? J.L.

A. As the song says about Rhode Island, it's the smallest of the states and heaviest on people. It's population density is nearly 750 per square mile.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

BLANKET FOR BRUSSELS

Last craftsman with the skill to make Chilkat blankets, originally worn by ruling families of Kwakiutl tribe, is Mrs. Mungo Martin, wife of Victoria's famed totem carver. Mrs. Martin has started work on blanket which will be part of Canadian arts and crafts display at the Universal and International Exhibition at Brussels in 1958. Inset shows blanket hand-woven by Mrs. Martin and presented to Queen Elizabeth at the time of her coronation.

Drinks Stay Piping Hot In Amazing Thermo Glass

By PENNY SAVER

Your drink stays hot! Yes, with this thermos glass, anything such as soup, cocoa, coffee and tea will stay just as warm as the moment you poured it in! The heat stays in for hours on end too because of the two layers of heavy plastic that form the glass itself. These attractive glasses come in a variety of colors in sets of four. Perfect for round the television set. You know how cold your drink can get when you're watching an exciting movie or football game. A practical set for $4.50.

If you've been looking for coasters that won't slip around or disappear just when you need them, stop! I went looking, too, and I've found one that's made of wool. Just slip it over the bottom of the glass and it stays put until you remove it. It has a rough surface, so it can't possibly slip, and comes in bright colors. Nice price of $1.50 a set.

Here's something that is not only amusing, but a good ice breaker for your parties. The amusing napkins that are suitable for cocktails and small evening gatherings. They have priceless little quips written on them. You comic strip readers will be glad to know that Dennis the Menace has made his debut on the outside of a few! A box costs 45 cents.

I mentioned stoneware casseroles several days ago, and what should I find as I inspected the shops today but a whole set of the same ware in teapots, bowls, gravy boats (big, too), and large mugs for coffee. The prices were fantastically low, ranging from 50 cents for the mugs, $2.50 for the gravy boats and teapots from $1.75 to $3.

Giftwise, there were pyrex casseroles with designs so pretty that you'll buy several for your women friends. The more elaborate were perched on wrought-iron stands with candles underneath for keeping the food hot! Casseroles without stand are $4.95, and with $8.95.

It's been drawn to my attention that I flubbed last Wednesday when I told you that an "official" centennial tartan is on sale in one of the stores.

Actually there is no such thing as an official tartan. The B.C. Centennial Committee would not give its approval to any design.

However, a tartan called a centennial design is being sold as I mentioned.

Got a minute to spare? Then phone me and find out where I went shopping today, at 2-3131.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

'Tis Sad But True—Women Are Fatter Than Men!

Lucky men! Doctor Stanley M. Garn, anthropologist of the Fels Research Institute, Antioch College reports that women carry more of their fat outside of their frames than men do. Why couldn't it be the other way around?

Studies have shown that the fat rolls are larger on women than on men even though the weight of body fat in proportion to total body weight is much the same.

It always seemed to me sort of mean of Nature in not allowing us to hide a few extra pounds under our insteps or under our busts; or if they must show, why can't we carry them on our collar bones? But no! There they are for all to see, bunched together, like the members of a convention, on waists and abdomens and hips. Anyway that is how it is and we might as well face up to it. Extra pounds always appear where we least want them.

This differs in women in that some are more prone to the spare tire, some to the protruding abdomen and some to the large hips. A letter before me says, "Is there anything women can do to correct a square figure? Clothes look awful on a figure like this."

I am sure I know what this reader means. She is speaking of the pads of fat on the hips in the back, just under the waistline. These do give a square appearance. The following exercises will help. If this is a question of weight distribution, only, you will not need to diet. If you are overweight generally, count your calories as well as exercise.

Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor, extending out from the armpits. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Keep the knees bent as you roll from side to side, touching the thighs to the floor at the end of each roll.

Your palms should face the floor. In fact, you cling to the floor with your finger tips.

If you would like to have my hip-slimming routines, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Brush this tasty wine and butter sauce over fish before broiling. Combine 2 tablespoons each white table wine and melted butter with 1 teaspoon each instant minced onion, Worcestershire sauce and lemon juice. Let stand 5 minutes before broasting fish.

Keep a supply of raisins on hand for between-meal snacks for both young and grown-ups. Light and dark raisins with their high content of natural sugar provide you with quick energy almost immediately.

For a never-fail sundae sauce combine ½ cup hot milk with ½ pound caramels and heat over hot water until caramels melt. Place a golden canned cling peach half in each dish, top with a scoop of vanilla ice cream and some of the hot caramel sauce.

Upside-down apple-raisin is a yummy dessert. Arrange sliced apples, chopped walnuts and raisins in the usual butter-brown sugar upside-down cake pan coating. Sprinkle with a couple of tablespoons Sherry wine and top with batter. Bake as usual.

Prunes are a rich source of minerals and vitamins. You'll find them packaged in thrifty cartons and bags. If you prefer them ready-cooked, look for them in jars and cans. Use prunes often to perk up meals.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

The hostess makes the plans: My husband's spinster sister who lives in another city has accepted our invitation to spend a few days at Christmas with us as she has done many times in the past. In a letter we received today she said that she is looking forward to the trip but stipulated "... no parties, no visiting around... I just want to be with you both." We have already accepted invitations to a couple of small dinner parties that were to include her. We have also invited a few to dinner and asked friends whom she met here on previous visits. Furthermore, we are planning on about 20 for a family Christmas dinner. What do you think we should do? As far as we know, the sister isn't ill health mentally or physically, and we don't like to be told how we are to entertain.

Louise Davis answers:

The sister is inconsiderate, to say the least. I don't see why your Christmas holidays should be so restricted by such an order. I suggest that you write her immediately and tell her what the plans are. I see no need for making any apologies for she has no right to curtail your social life. If she comes, she takes what you have to offer and she should be pleased that your friends want to include her. Surely she would have plenty of time to be alone with you both. Should you succumb to her request, do you realize that you would be establishing a precedent for the future? She might as well know that you are living your own lives as you see fit. After she receives your (or your husband's) letter, she can beg out if she wishes. A guest, not even a sister, should not tell her host and hostess what she wants and expects. If she isn't well, she should have told you, in which case you could have suggested that she come some other time when you would be planning a quiet weekend.

Stubborn Child More Difficult To Reform Than Aggressive One

OTTAWA (CP)—The naughty child may be less of a problem in the long run than the quiet, stubborn type, say Canadian correction school experts.

Training school directors—32 from all provinces except Saskatchewan—met here recently to exchange professional views on putting wayward children on the road to reform.

Another meeting of the group, sponsored by the Canadian Corrections Association of the Canadian Welfare Council, is to be held next year in Winnipeg.

The consensus was that the child who shows aggression may cause more disturbance, but that it is relatively easier to get to know and direct him than the passive, unresponsive child.

W. T. McGrath, executive secretary of the association, said in an interview that the idea of training schools has changed.

The time is past when such schools merely held children either to discipline them or give them good physical care, he said. School staffs now must be qualified and able to understand child behavior.

Mr. McGrath said 1,938 boys and 926 girls were in correction schools at the end of last year.

and these figures remain fairly constant.

Basically, correction schools are institutions for treatment, not punishment, delegates said. But they found that determining the degree of emotional adjustment a child made in the schools was one of the most difficult tasks.

Rev. Andrew Masse, director of Boscoville Training Schools in Montreal, felt the child's degree of inner self-control, ability to build good relationships with people around him, an indication of his potential productiveness measured in terms of his ability to do sustained work, and his sense of ethical values should be the measures used to chart progress.

B.C. Industry Must Become 'World-Minded'

Integration of Canadian industry with that of Great Britain and the northern European states was forecast Tuesday by Robert Bonner, B.C. attorney-general and minister of industrial development, trade and commerce.

He spoke on "British Columbia and World Trade" at National Office Management Association's top management night at Pacific Club.

Mr. Bonner recently returned from a six-week trade mission to the United Kingdom and Europe.

Industry in B.C., where more than half of what is produced is exported, must "become world-minded," the speaker said.

Up to now, this is not the case.

"Despite the excellence of embassies and consular people abroad, it is fair to say Canadian businessmen have not taken advantage of facilities which are there for the future development of our trade," Mr. Bonner said.

Impressed by Big Recovery

His trip overseas convinced him of Western and Northern Europe's tremendous recovery as an efficient industrial area where existing markets will become less accessible and competition with Canada will be more greater.

He said there is a strong feeling on the continent for a common market where long-standing tariffs may be torn down over a period of 10 or 12 years and a common tariff may be drawn around the entire market area.

As a counter-proposal, Britain, because of her ties with the Commonwealth and colonies, has in mind a free-trade area to ensure the flow of trade for the future.

But it is the inclination toward a "united states of Europe," desirable for both political and economic reasons to the free states of the continent, which offers the challenge to business in this country, the attorney-general said.

Canadian business must "steep itself in this challenge for the next generation if it is to maintain or improve its position."

"... Then we will adjust to the challenge of the new Europe which is certainly arising," Mr. Bonner said.

Commenting on the British industrial scene, the speaker said:

"The British genius for invention and adaptability is by no means diminished... Britain is likely to maintain its position of pre-eminence in the world of industry for many years to come."

Germany, too, was praised by Mr. Bonner.

He was impressed by the reconstruction of Essen, Düsseldorf, Frankfurt and Cologne.

17 YEARS APART

Eagle-Eyed Mom Sights Lost' Son

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Nellie Thomas, 58, glanced from her apartment and noticed a sailor huddle across the street on crutches.

"Hey, Vern, come here," she shouted.

The sailor swung around.

"That you, Mother?" Vern Baker, 43, a son by a previous marriage, hadn't seen his mother in 17 years but he said he would know that voice anywhere, anytime.

They last saw each other in Coos Bay, Ore., where Mrs. Thomas was working as a waitress and her son was a logger.

"I left town and joined the navy—I've been in and out ever since," Baker said.

Nigeria Student Wins $32,000

NEW YORK (AP)—A University of Chicago medical student from Oyo, Nigeria, correctly answered a $32,000 question on the Bible Tuesday night on CBS-TV's The $64,000 Question.

The Nigerian, Adepoju Aderonu, returns to the program next week to tell whether he wishes to try for the $64,000 jackpot question.

A 20 dollar cheque and a nudge from his editor sent a Star reporter in search of the story which shocked the nation. For fourteen days he lived the life of old age pensioners in Toronto's "hot-plate" jungle. Wm. MacEachern tells the pathetic and humiliating facts he uncovered in his Big-gest Story, this week in the Star Weekly—on sale everywhere!

SAANICH POLICE JUVENILE DETAIL became a team Monday with the appointment of Constable George Walton, right, as assistant to juvenile officer Constable Harry Adams. Constable Walton has acted in the capacity unofficially from time to time as the need arose, but a steady increase in youth problems necessitated the permanent appointment. By the end of 1957 it is expected the year's total number of juvenile cases will be three times the 1956 record. (Times Photo.)

TAKE MY BREAD, COAT

'Counter-Attack'

ST. HELIER, Jersey, Channel Islands (AP) — A man walked into the income tax office Tuesday, put a loaf of bread and his coat on the counter, said "there is the bread out of my mouth and the coat off my back" and walked out.

Take Forest Industry Out Of Politics, Says Laing

B.C.'s forest industry should be "out of politics altogether," provincial Liberal leader Arthur Laing said here Tuesday night. Mr. Laing favored establishment of a three-man commission to control the industry, as recommended in Chief Justice Sloan's 1945 report.

"There has been a debasement of the handling of the people's resources in the province," he told a joint meeting of Victoria Liberal Association and the Esquimalt-Saanich Federal Liberal Association.

The task of restoring the industry's confidence in government management of resources will fall on the government replacing Social Credit in B.C., he said.

MORE LOANS
The Liberal leader also stated the government had borrowed $261,000,000 in the past five years while at the same time talking of reducing the debt "at a fantastic rate."

He said in the last 10 days the government attempted to borrow $20,000,000 on the New York market but withdrew "because they were only offered $92 for the bonds of this province."

Mr. Byrne called for higher unemployment insurance benefits. Thomas Barnett (CFC-Comox-Alberni) said Labor Minister Michael Starr is the member who should most complain about the unemployment situation because the government was letting him shoulder the entire burden of the unemployment problem.

The government would be ill-advised, he said, to suggest that the opposition was crying "blue ruin" because it raised the problem in the Commons. Parliament should not delude itself by refusing to face up to the facts of the situation.

Canada-Wide Works Project Urged By MP

OTTAWA (CP) — Frank Christian (SC-Okanagan-Boundary) Tuesday night in the Commons urged initiation of an "all-Canada works project" to alleviate unemployment.

He suggested that plans for this might be laid at the dominion-provincial conference here next week.

Unemployed could be given an opportunity to work on roads, parks and similar jobs at wages higher than unemployment insurance benefits.

James Byrne (L-Kootenay East) said the unemployed in British Columbia are urging action by the federal government instead of "sweeping the problem under the rug."

Death Sentence For Merchants

VIENNA (AP)—A Communist court in Sofia, Bulgaria, has sentenced two former merchants to death for the illegal private production and sale of dye materials. A Sofia newspaper says. Seventeen others received prison terms of from three to 15 years.

MILK CANS YIELD CACHE OF ARMS

BELFAST (Reuters) — Police using mine detectors found a large cache of arms and ammunition today buried in creamery cans in a ditch near Coal Island on the northern Ireland border.

The arms consisted of sub-machine guns, pistols, revolvers, hundreds of rounds of ammunition, detonators and fuses.

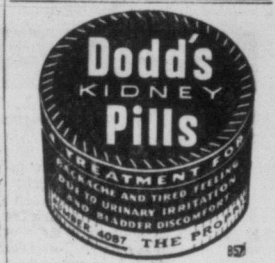

A similar haul, believed to have been hidden by the underground Irish Republican Army organization, was found in a dugout in the same district a few weeks ago.

6 ways Moffat makes your kitchen a happier place to work...

① Ups-a-daisy! Turn this little Hi-Lo-Matic control and the oven rack glides up... or down. Imagine what a help this is in broiling—you simply change the rack height when you want to broil faster or slower.

③ What'll they think of next! This little thermostat (we call it Therm-O-Guard) feels the temperature of the pot and automatically adjusts the heat to maintain exactly the temperature you select. Makes any utensil automatic!

② Oh, that wonderful Moffat oven! Made in one piece for easy oven cleaning. That new element heats the oven so evenly you can bake at any level. Heats to 350° in six minutes flat!

④ Even bake a cake in this handy deep well cooker! Thermostatic control keeps heat as even as your oven. The griddle on the wall is supplied too. Both become automatic appliances when you put them on the Therm-O-Guard element.

⑥ My pride and joy! I'm a new woman since I got my Moffat... and the kitchen looks so much better! Note how the fluorescent lamp lights the cooking surface and acts as a nite-lite.

NEW FACES ASKED FOR ESQUIMALT

Coun. George Argyle said today he definitely will not run for re-election in Esquimalt Dec. 12.

"Let's just say I think it's time the council had some new faces," he said.

A councillor for six years, he said he hopes to launch a citizen's committee next year "to interest the electors in municipal politics."

Another member whose term expires this year, Coun. Arthur Fields said he is "pretty certain" he will not contest the election. He has served on council for three years.

Only definite outside candidate for a council seat is ex-councillor G. K. Sammon.

Coun. Walter Holder will run for re-election.

Two Die, Two Saved In Fire

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)—Two small children burned to death Tuesday in a house fire which broke out while their mother was hanging her wash on a neighbor's line.

Killed were Kenneth Klein, 2, and his 16-month-old brother Larry, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Klein. Jimmy Klein, 4, ran to safety, and an unidentified youth rescued a four-month-old girl.

4 Shipwreck Victims Found Safe on Island

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Four men, missing since Tuesday when their tugboat went aground in Lake Superior, were picked up today by the searching tug John C. and were en route to Nipigon, Ont., 65 miles northeast of here.

Search headquarters reported that the men were first sighted on Evelyn Rock, a small island nine miles southwest of Hawk Island, by an RCAF Dakota from Trenton, Ont.

'Anti-Missile' U.S. Army Plan

Project to Cost Millions,
New York Times Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times says today the administration is being urged by the army to make an all-out effort to produce an operational anti-missile by 1961 at a three-year cost of between $6,000,000,000 and $7,000,000,000.

B.C. Labor Protests Ship Transfer

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver District Labor Council has decided to protest to the federal government against the proposed transfer of vessels by Canadian National (West Indies) Steamships to Trinidad registry.

The CNS decision was taken after failure to settle a strike of Seafarers' International Union crew members, who walked out five months ago in Halifax and Montreal.

The Labor Council said in a resolution Tuesday that if the registry is transferred, the Conservative government will be guilty of strike-breaking because the steamship firm is a crown corporation.

Transfer of registry would allow the company to hire foreign crew members.

MONTREAL (CP)—Five ships of Canadian National Steamships, whose registry recently was transferred to Trinidad from Canada, have sailed from Montreal. Their destination was not disclosed.

The ships, strikebound here since last June, slipped down the St. Lawrence River Tuesday night.

Three other CNS ships are tied up at east coast ports.

A Washington dispatch calls it "a dramatic proposal for a defence against the Soviet trans-polar intercontinental ballistic missile."

The Times says the proposal has been made to the joint chiefs of staff and Defence Secretary Neil McElroy by army chief of staff Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

The story also says in part: On the basis of experiments with components of the army missile, Nike Zeus, Taylor is convinced that this weapon can be developed with nuclear and thermonuclear warheads to the point where it can track down and destroy the Soviet ICBM.

Taylor is supporting larger new expenditures for U.S. offensive missiles in all ranges. But he insists that the U.S. must immediately try for a major breakthrough in the anti-missile field. This is to keep pace with the development of Soviet missiles capable of reaching the United States across the north polar regions.

Senate Body Backs Hike

OTTAWA (CP)—The Senate banking committee today approved a government bill that will increase war veterans' allowances and the number eligible for them.

The bill, which will cost the government $9,000,000 a year, now will go to the Senate for final approval.

Opposition Leader Ross Macdonald said it was unfair to set a time limit in extending the allowance to cover veterans who served for one year in the United Kingdom during the First World War. The allowance now goes only to those in a theatre of war and the U.K. was not so designated in 1914-18.

Senator Macdonald said a veteran who had served short of the year could not get any benefit from the allowance although his services in many cases could have been as trying as a veteran in the front. He said a soldier who went to France even for one day would be eligible for the allowance.

night when Col. Dingley's report will be aired.

Here are the highlights:
There have been seven breakouts this year—three within the last week.

Eight youngsters have been transferred to city jail after attempted escapes. On several other occasions teenagers have been locked in the jail because the home was filled to overcrowding.

Parents have aided youngsters in violating security regulations. In one case a visiting mother smuggled beer to her son.

Tough-mannered, foul-talking youths of 17 have had to be packed into the same dormitory with nine, 10 and 11-year-olds, sometimes for weeks on end.

FROM 34 TO 125

In the last 10 years admissions have grown from 34 annually to 125 so far in 1957.

There is no relief for Col. Dingley. The home must operate 24 hours daily. He has had no holiday this year and has no prospects.

Damage to the home and furnishings by inmates in the last year is greater than has been perpetrated in the last nine years.

Col. Dingley has limited visitors to parents only and has asked permission to bar windows. Some parents are bringing boy friends and girl friends of inmates and "passing them off" as relatives.

District police juvenile officers say when they bring in a young tough, they know that before the night is over they will have to re-apprehend the youngster and take him to jail. But they are required to go through the routine first.

Victoria police commission is slated to discuss the home at its next meeting.

CUT AGE LIMIT

The juvenile home committee will tell the officials: "Either the age limit must be reduced or you have to scrap the whole thing and build a new $50,000 juvenile home."

Present at the Tuesday meeting were Mrs. Margaret Christie, representing Victoria; Coun. Fred Robinson, representing Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich were not represented, due to illness.

Also there were police juvenile officers V. W. Pratley of Oak Bay, Harry Adams of Saanich and Lyle D. Somers of Victoria.

Col. Dingley reported when the home was opened 11 years ago there was no idea juvenile delinquency would grow "at such an enormous rate." Its use has increased 400 per cent over 1947 and in the last two years, 45 per cent of the boys and girls placed there are over 16 years of age.

"The damage to chairs, windows and the home is colossal."

The attitude of some parents is "disgraceful."

"Some of the older boys... their language is simply awful."

Coun. Robinson, acting chairman, said the committee had decided last April to call a meeting of district civic heads.

"And not a thing was done," said Col. Dingley. "If it goes any further, it leaves me no alternative but to resign and let the police take over."

Col. Dingley was outspoken against "a strong feeling in this area to mollycoddle these youngsters. If this is not checked now we'll be building more Brannan Lake Schools to accommodate them."

"We hear them brag. They can't do anything to you—you're a juvenile," he said.

WALL DEFACED

He showed the sleeping quarters. A bedroom with twin beds for girls—where the walls are always freshly painted to hide the obscenities scribbled on the walls.

He showed the one security room—a bare room with a ceiling skylight, bed, chair and linoleum floor covering. A 16-year-old girl tore even those sparse furnishings apart.

"Once a boy gets to be 15, he's good or he's bad—and you're not going to change him either," he said.

The home was originally intended as a "sort of foster home" but is used as the only place where juveniles can be kept while awaiting court decision on their cases. Sometimes the boys and girls are kept up to six weeks in the home.

He said there is no longer time for attempts at correction while youngsters are at the home, although he admitted Tuesday was a rare occasion when there was not a single inmate.

The committee endorsed Col. Dingley's contention that unless there is a change and the over-16s are kept elsewhere, the home can no longer be operated.

The colonel said he would await a decision from the committee of mayor and reeves. And he will await the next session of the B.C. Legislature, where the juvenile age limit is due for reconsideration.

If nothing happens, he will quit.

6-Day Shopping by March 1 Asked by City Merchants

Changes in the Municipal Act to permit six-day shopping in Victoria by March 1 of B.C.'s centennial year were asked of the provincial cabinet Tuesday.

The suggestion contained in a brief presented by the Six-Day Shopping Week Committee of Victoria was one of several that would affect shop regulation sections of the act.

Others would: Allow corner stores to sell all goods on their shelves after 6 p.m. instead of limiting sale to a few items; Provide province-wide regulation of shops on statutory holidays and remove the Queen's birthday and Easter Sunday from the list of store holidays; Regulate larger retail establishments and barber shop and shoeshine establishments without restricting neighborhood or days. Their rights are fully protected."

Local stores should be open to meet the demands of tourists during centennial celebrations, the brief stressed.

Give shops the right to remain open one night each week if they wish, the night to be designated by municipal council if it wishes to do so.

Cabinet was told that half-day closing on Wednesday is "unsatisfactory."

"It is not liked by shopper, employee or employer," the brief said. "There is a large falling off in the number of shoppers who come to town on Wednesdays and the employees dislike the broken days. Under the six-day shopping week our employees worked five straight

U.K. To Build Atom Plants For Italy

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain will construct a series of nuclear power stations in Italy. It was announced here today.

The Nuclear Power Company — a consortium of eight British firms — announced it has been awarded a contract to design an atomic power plant in northern Italy—the first such agreement between a British and foreign enterprise.

London newspapers hail the agreement with bold headlines declaring Britain has beaten the United States and Russia to the punch in a rich export field.

A spokesman for the firm estimated it would take two years to build the Italian plant. It will have the capacity to supply electricity to a community of 100,000.

Formal contract is to be signed next June.

He said the station will be roughly twice the size of Calder Hall, Britain's first nuclear power station which has been providing commercial electricity for the last year.

Asked about reports that Japan might also order a nuclear power station from Britain, the spokesman said: "Not at the moment, but several countries are interested."

Estimated cost for the first plant in Italy is $20,000,000.

STORE

There had been consideration at the time that as well as a joint hall the two municipalities should also pool public works equipment.

The Woodward proposal has also caused concern to Victoria Fire Wardens' Committee which is seeking a site for a new fire hall.

Greater Victoria School Board today advised the committee it is still opposed to use of any part of Central Junior High School grounds for the hall. The proposal by Woodward Stores Ltd. appears to rule out any thought the present site of the fire hall could be maintained. The new store would envelope the fire hall, market building and about three adjoining blocks.

Use of a site at Pandora and Chambers, an old waterworks yard already owned by the city, now seems likely. Money is already earmarked for that project and the question is expected to be aired at council next week.

Victoria Chamber of Commerce president Hugh Stephen commented today on the impending vast shuffle of civic buildings, private stores and shops and the possible erection of a $5,000,000 department store.

"It would be a magnificent project for the city—one that would keep the downtown area busy and ensure its future stability and prosperity."

"It reflects great credit on Mayor Percy Scurrell. He has shown great foresight and wisdom in this matter."

All Indian Schools Under Same Order

CHEMUNUS — The Oblate missionaries have replaced the Montfort Fathers at the federal government residential school for Indian children at Kuper Island near here.

New principal is Rev. Herbert F. Dunlop, O.M.I. who has had 17 years experience in Oblate mission fields throughout Canada.

With the taking over of the Kuper Island school, the Oblates now direct all seven such federal government schools in British Columbia. The others are at Kamloops, Mission, Sechart, Cranbrook, Williams Lake and Lejac.

Kuper Island school was built by the federal government in 1890. The Montfort Fathers took over in 1903 and have operated the school until now.

QUEEN, DUKE GIVE SMALL PARTY

10th Wedding Date Brings Pair Messages From World Over

LONDON (CP) — Telegrams showered on Buckingham Palace today as well-wishers of many lands congratulated Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip on their 10th wedding anniversary.

"They have no public engagements, but there was work as usual, and for some hours both were desk-bound," a palace spokesman said.

Prime Minister Macmillan sent a message saying that he and his colleagues know that in 10 years both "have attained an abiding place in the hearts of the people."

Elizabeth and Prince Philip will give a small private dinner party tonight for some of their friends. Queen Mother Elizabeth will be there.

Mrs. M. Filby Buried Here

Burial at Royal Oak Cemetery followed a funeral service in Vancouver Saturday for Mrs. M. H. Filby, who practised chiropody here for many years under her maiden name of Coupe.

Mrs. Filby died Nov. 12 at the age of 63.

Born in England, she came to Victoria in 1913, then went to Chicago to study chiropody and beauty culture.

She returned here in 1918 as one of B.C.'s first women chiropodists. Mrs. Filby also operated beauty salons and the B.C. School of Hairdressing in Victoria prior to 1933.

Surviving are a son, David Filby, Victoria; three sisters, Mrs. Lucy Malden and Mrs. Edith Jones, both of Victoria, and Mrs. Elsie Peirce, Nanaimo; three brothers, Alfred in Vancouver, Thomas in England, and Frederick Hetherington, Victoria.

23 Students Nabbed in Riot

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (Reuters) — Malayan police, trying to end a wave of student rioting, arrested 23 suspected ringleaders Wednesday in pre-dawn raids on Penang Island. P. H. O'Flynn, Malayan chief police officer, said the arrests were made under anti-Communist emergency regulations and those taken into custody included "agitators known to police."

6 Released in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Six persons arrested outside Little Rock Central High School during integration-inspired disturbances Sept. 24 were cleared in Municipal Court today.

Five men were dismissed by Judge Harry C. Robinson after a warning. The sixth case was dropped by the state. All six defendants had been booked for disturbing the peace.

France Faces Threat Of Strike Repetition

PARIS (Reuters) — The threat of a new, crippling strike hovered over France today as the country struggled to restore public services after a 24-hour walkout of civil servants.

Gas and electricity workers, who brought the country to a near standstill with a 24-hour strike last month, warned they will stage another walkout soon unless their demands for higher pay are met.

Fire Destroys Hay At Woodward Farm

SAANICHTON — An undetermined quantity of hay went up in flames Tuesday night in a fire that destroyed the second story of an old barn on the Woodward Farm, West Saanich Road.

Fire Chief Victor Heal of Central Saanich volunteer fire department said the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion in the hay. The barn, on Mount Newton Cross Road, measures 30 by 100 feet, and was used solely for hay storage.

More than 40 volunteer firemen poured 25,000 gallons of water on the blaze between 5:30 and 10:30 p.m., and were hampered by having to haul water in tank trucks from Brentwood water works, three miles from the fire.

Both Central Saanich and Sidney fire departments responded to the alarm.

PRINCE PLANS UNPRECEDENTED PALACE PARLEY

LONDON (AP) — The Daily Herald says today Prince Philip will make history by holding a press conference in Buckingham Palace in February.

"Friends of his told me that he is quite determined about it and has overridden solid palace opposition," a columnist reports, adding, "His experiences with the Canadian and American reporters on his recent tour with the Queen have influenced him."

Eskies Choice Tonight

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Eskimos and Winnipeg Blue Bombers meet tonight in the second game of the Western Interprovincial Football Union final and if pre-game indications mean anything, the sound of crackling leather will shatter the crisp night air.

Bombers, big in spirit and heart, showed in the first game they are big and tough in body as well. They will hit hard.

Eskimos, keyed to a victory pitch, are determined to hit back just as hard, maybe harder.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. (PST). The game will be aired on CKWX. A crowd of 19,000 or more is expected at Clarke Stadium. The weather will be cool—temperatures between 15 and 20 degrees—with partly cloudy skies and northerly winds of about 10 degrees. The field will be frozen.

BACKS TO WALL

Bombers can enter the Grey Cup final by winning tonight since they took a 1-0 lead in the best-of-three series with an upset 19-7 victory at Winnipeg last Saturday night. Eskimos must win to force a third game, Saturday.

The betting odds favor Eskimos on the game by about 15 points.

Many stories of injury have come from both camps, but neither coach has seriously believed what the other was reported to be saying.

Tuesday night, the word battle ended. Bombers flew to Edmonton, ate and bedded down for a quiet night of rest. They worked out for a final time just before the plane took off from Winnipeg.

"We've got a lot of spirit," said Bomber coach Bud Grant when he stepped off the plane, "but not much else. We're down to nine imports and we can't go much farther if we get any more injuries."

WILL MISS GRAY

He said guard Herb Gray, in Texas for his father's funeral, will be missed tonight. Import fullback Charlie Shepard and end Frank Gilliam, suffering leg and shoulder miseries, respectively, will be dressed, but Grant said they likely won't see much action. Nor will Ron Latour, a Canadian halfback, who suffered a charleyhorse.

Eskimos worked out for a little more than an hour Tuesday evening, then studied films for a while.

"We'll be trying real hard," said Eskies' Frank Ivy, "but that doesn't always mean you'll win. If you're trying real hard and things go right for you, then you'll win. That's the difference."

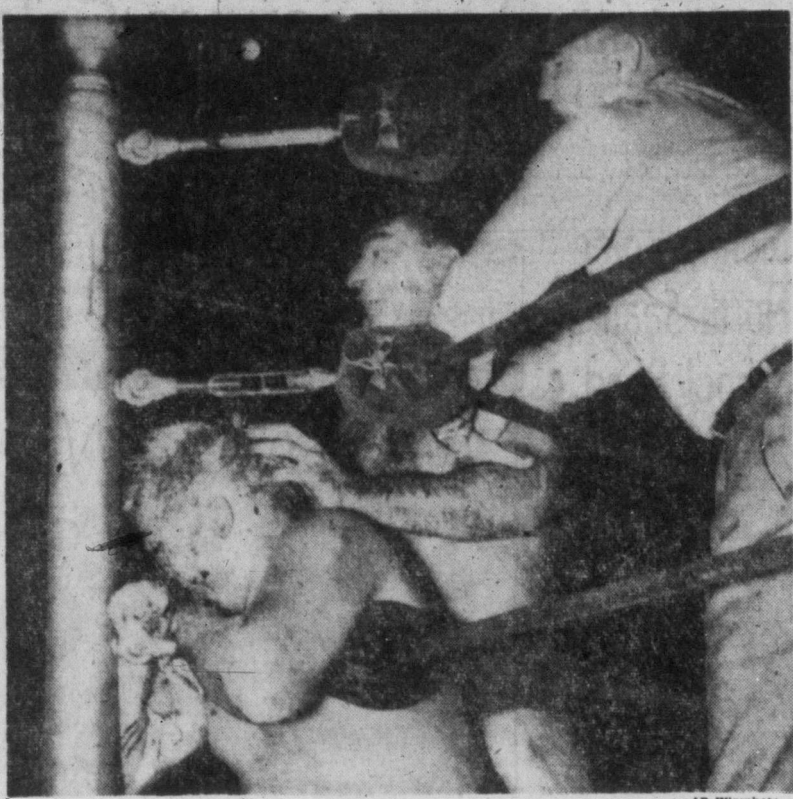

Ivy's injury list was as long as Grant's. Defensive end Frank Anderson and fullback Mike Lashuk both will miss the game with knee and ankle injuries, respectively. Rolfe Miles and Jackie Parker are still having knee problems. Ken Hall has a broken nose, and Reed Henderson a sore leg. There is an assortment of lesser hurts, but Ivy insists each takes its toll.

Outside the training camps, football interest reached its highest point of the season here.

Earl Can't Find Foe for Archie

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fight promoter Earl Kalani of Vancouver has announced he has light-heavyweight boxing champion Archie Moore signed to top a boxing card at Exhibition Gardens Dec. 5. But he says he is having difficulty lining up a suitable opponent.

Kalani has been in touch with Canadian heavyweight champion George Chuvalo of Toronto and Seattle's Eddie Cotton, who held Moore to a 10-round decision earlier this month. He said Chuvalo turned down the match but Cotton is still considering it.

Martin, Tuttle Figure In 13-Man Trade Deal

KANSAS CITY (AP)—

A 13-player trade between the Detroit Tigers and Kansas City Athletics with outfielder Bill Tuttle of the Tigers and infielder Billy Martin of the Athletics as key figures was announced today.

Going from the Athletics in the trade, besides Martin, was pitcher Tom Morgan and Mickey McDermott, outfielders Gus Zernial and Lou Skizas and catcher Tim Thompson.

For these they will receive, besides Tuttle, outfielder Jim Small, pitchers Duane Maas and John Taitouris, catcher Frank House and two players to be selected later.

The announcements were made here and at Detroit. The deal was completed Tuesday night between Arnold Johnson, president of the Kansas City club, and John McHale, general manager of the Detroit club.

The two players to be named later will come out of the Detroit farm system and the Athletics are to get their choice.

It was the biggest deal in Detroit's history. The Tigers' biggest previous player transaction was an eight-player swap with Cleveland Indians in 1953. Martin, who came to the A's from the Yankees last June in a similar package deal, unquestionably is the key man in this trade. Although his batting average slipped to .251 in 118 games this year, he was sought by every club in the league, except the Yankees.

Famed as a hustling, hollering ball player, Martin appeared in five world series for the Yankees before he fell from their good graces last May as a result of a night club brawl that marked the celebration of his birthday.

Martin, one of Casey Stengel's favorites while he was with the Yankees, is still considered one of the better second basemen in the American League although he can play third and shortstop also.

RUGBY PRACTICE

First practice of the season will be held by JBAA senior English rugby players tonight at Macdonald Park at 6:45. All players and any others interested are asked to be on time.

KENNEDY RETURNED

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bill Kennedy, veteran southpaw pitcher, was sold outright to Seattle, of the Pacific Coast League, by Cincinnati Redlegs Tuesday. Kennedy was brought up from Seattle late last season.

COUGARS ALSO KNOW HOW YOU FEEL, KENNY!

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Kenny MacKenzie, manager of Kamloops Chiefs of the Okanagan Senior Hockey League, says he'll swim the Thompson River if someone gives him a defenceman.

"And I'm not a good swimmer," he added. MacKenzie lost Gerry Lernaghan Friday night when the burly defenceman suffered a shoulder separation in a collision with Vernon's Ted Leboldia. Lernaghan is expected to be out of action for at least two weeks.

CANUCK KICKER

Steve Puts Foot Back in Football

HAMILTON (CP)—Hamilton Tiger-Cats, who have been helped through many a tight spot by one talented toe, are discovering a second in their drive towards the Big Four Football Union crown.

The possessor of the second toe is stocky Steve Oneschuk, whose dramatic field goals are making the fans in this football-mad city forget the towering punts of Cam Fraser.

In their last two games—the first gave them first place, the second a seven-point margin over Montreal Alouettes in the opener of the total-point series for the Big Four title—Tcats scored only 30 points; Oneschuk made 15 of them.

Hamilton meets Alouettes Saturday in the second and final game for the title and if the game follows last week's pattern the St. Catharines, Ont., boy will once again be called on to keep the Tiger-Cats out in front.

THREE FIELD GOALS

Last Saturday in Montreal he booted three field goals for nine of his team's 17 points and added another on the conversion of their only touchdown as they won 17-10.

When he arrived in the Tiger-Cat camp in 1955, Tip Logan, a superlative convert man, was handling the placements, but former coach Carl Voyles quickly saw Oneschuk's ability on the long ones and coach Jim Trimble rapidly became an Oneschuk man on his arrival last year.

Trimble was heartened Tuesday by the news that tackle Dave Suminski, who broke his

TURNOUT SINKING

Flyers Step Past Saskatoon Squad

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Flyers beat Saskatoon-St. Paul Regals 6-1 in a Western Hockey League game Tuesday night before 2,600 fans, the smallest crowd of the season.

The score resulted in Flyers and Regals switching places in the Prairie Division. Edmonton now is half a game behind the idle Winnipeg Warriors and Saskatoon-St. Paul is a half game further back in third.

Edmonton's goals were scored by Len Lundie, Chuck Holmes, Metro Prystai, Frank Roggeveen, Billy McNeill and Jerry Melnyk.

BREAKS RIGGIN'S SHUTOUT

Saskatoon-St. Paul's lone counter, fired by defenceman Bob Chrystal, ended 105 minutes and 49 seconds of shutout hockey by goalie Dennis Riggins of the Flyers. Riggins got a shutout in his last game, went 37 minutes and 35 seconds in this game and the previous shot that beat him was two games ago at 11:46 of the third period.

Lundie opened the scoring after five minutes of the first period when his foot-high shot from just inside the blue line beat goalie Lucien Dechene of Regals. Holmes, after carrying down the ice alone, caught an outside corner with a 25-foot shot inches off the ice.

Bob Kabel of Regals was in the penalty box when Flyers scored their third and fourth goals. Kabel was off for elbowing when Prystai backhanded his own rebound from the crease. It was the sixth straight game in which Prystai had scored.

Kabel was again off for elbowing when Roggeveen counted from 10 feet out after taking a pass from Prystai. Chrystal tallied from 20 feet out when he caught Riggins on the far side of the net as Regals sent five men on an attack.

After six minutes of the third period, McNeill, at the crease, flicked the puck under Dechene. Thirteen minutes later Dechene blocked a shot but was turned around facing the crowd when Melnyk scored from close in.

Fort William In Top Shape

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—Fort William Redskins left by train for Montreal today on the first part of a trip that will take them to Halifax to meet Shearwater Flyers next Saturday in the Canadian intermediate football championship. They will fly to Halifax from Montreal.

Redskins, in excellent condition except for a few minor injuries, are undefeated in league and playoff play so far this year and a win at Halifax would give them their first Canadian championship and an undefeated season.

Undefeated and untied, the Redskins this year captured the three-team Lakeshore Rugby Football Union title for the eighth straight season, swept the three-game league playoffs in straight games and convincingly knocked over the Manitoba champion St. Vital Bulldogs and British Columbia champion Oak Bay Drakes.

In that 10-game stretch they piled up 315 points while limiting the opposition to just 65. In the four playoff games the totals were 124 for and only 24 against.

WHEREVER THEY SERVE

It was over or, at least, I couldn't get anything anymore. They stayed out on that lonesome patrol another full week and, Smedberg recalls, "I almost went crazy wondering who won."

Finally, one of our cruisers loomed on the horizon and Smedberg dashed to the blinker light. "Who won the Army game?" he blinked. The answer flickered back: "Army."

"My heart sank," Smedberg grinned, "but they were pulling my leg." For the message, finished, was: "Army 0, Navy 14."

Which makes it clear why, for the fighting men, this one is "the game."

TIME OUT!

JEFF KEATE

"It's our only chance, Bronson... I want you to go in there and break one of the guy's legs!"

Prystai Pressing Royal Pair

Max McNab and Gordie Fashoway, the one-two punch of the New Westminster Royals, are still running one-two in the Western Hockey League race for the individual scoring championship but threatening challengers are closing in.

A good bet for the honors won last season by Guyle Fielder is Metro Prystai, one-time Detroit Red Wing star playing for Edmonton Flyers. Prystai's chances, however, are dimmed by the definite possibility that his good showing will cause him to be recalled by the Wings.

Fred Hucul of Calgary is in a third-place tie with Prystai, only three points behind McNab and two behind Fashoway.

Full Schedule For 'B' Cagers

Thursday should be a banner night for Senior "B" Basketball League fans at Central Junior High School when all four teams in the league play on the same program.

Dairy Queen Eds will be making their first appearance of the season at 9:15 p.m. when they play Morrisons, who dropped their last decision to defending champions, Dickinson and Dunn, by a 52-37 count.

D and D will be going against defending Western Canada junior champions, Victoria College Vikings, in an 8 o'clock session while Meteors take on Victoria Polytechnics in Women's Senior basketball at 7 p.m.

Wiggins' Late Tally Tops Caps

Greater Victoria Minor Hockey Association bantam division action Monday saw Don Wiggins tally the winner with less than three minutes remaining as Royals took a close 6-5 decision from Capitals at Memorial Arena.

Other Royal scorers were Warren Lowe, with three, and Grant Ody, with two, while Larry Johnston and Paul Bion each scored twice for Capitals while Wayne Anderson picked up a single.

In early morning action, Maroons scored the league's first shutout, a 3-0 decision over Senators. Larry Biggs tallied twice and Bob Robinson once for Maroons.

Front-Running Canucks Paste Americans 7-3

Victoria Cougar coach Pat Egan will be playing a hunch tonight when the Cats face second-place New Westminster Royals at Memorial Arena in their Western Hockey League contest.

"I've been thinking about making some changes in the team for the past week," he said Tuesday at practice. "But every time I go to do it, something just doesn't seem right to me."

"We've got good combinations working and I sure don't want to do anything to break them up now."

TIED FOR SECOND

Royals are tied with Seattle Americans, five points behind division-leading Vancouver Canucks.

Seattle lost out in its bid for second spot Monday night when they dropped a 7-3 decision to Canucks in Vancouver.

Don Hamilton turned in his first performance for the Amerks since taking over for Hank Bassen, and acquitted himself well.

Americans lost, but it was through no lack on Donnie's part as he turned aside 33 shots to Marcel Pelletier's 23 during the contest.

Royals will be going without the services of hard-checking Bob Bergeron, who is sidelined a week or so with a broken cheek bone.

Egan will go on one defensive line with Warren Back and Nels Bullock and Carl Kaiser will team up on the other.

ALL DRESS

He won't be benched, though, and Egan will dress his full team, holding Kilburn in reserve as a utility player.

Other than that, all lines will be intact, with Ed Dorohoy centering Colin Kilburn and Doug Macauley, Gordy Wilson between Larry Leach and Freddie Brown, and Gordon Howarth leading Blinky Boyce and Frank Milne.

Royals have lost three fewer games than the Cougars but Victoria has three games in hand.

With this combination, the distance from fourth to third place in the league standing diminishes greatly, and tonight would be as good a night as any for the Cougars to start their move.

Game time tonight is 8:30. Tickets will be on sale right up to game time at the arena ticket office.

Canucks compiled their highest scoring game in a home stand this year in defeating the Americans.

Phil Maloney and Orland Kurtenbach, Canucks' top point-getters, fattened their totals with three points apiece. Maloney got two goals and an assist, while Kurtenbach scored a goal and set up two others.

Other scorers for Canucks were Ron Hutchinson, Elliot Chorley, Red Johansen and Jackie McLeod. Seattle scorers were Ray Kinasevich, who put two in the net, and Guyle Fielder.

Riot Breaks Out At Rasslin' Show

NEW YORK (UP)—Professional wrestlers fought "for blows suffered in the bout as real" and several hundred fans joined in Tuesday night in an after-the-match riot at Madison Square Garden.

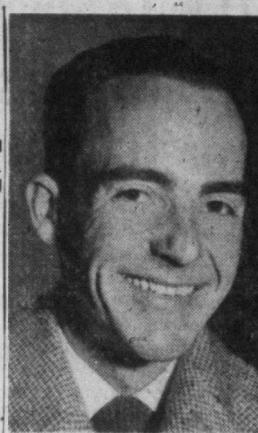

Two wrestlers and two police men were injured and several hundred chairs were broken, along with bottles—one on a policeman's head—and a glass case for a fire hose. The ring side area was full of chaos.

Details of 33 policemen had to be called to aid the regular Garden force of 30 specials in quieting the rioters. Three men were arrested. The police then had difficulty getting the 13,000 spectators to leave the arena.

When wrestlers Antonio Rocca and Eduardo Carpentier won the evening's featured tag team match by default, their opponents, Dr. Jerry Graham and Dick Afflis, showed a desire to continue the match.

Fans near the ring had begun to brawl in efforts to get to the ring in support of their favorites. Chairs were broken, and bottles were thrown at the ring from the balconies. One of the bottin patrolman Stuart Katze and his wound required stitches.

Als' Boss Says He's Stepping Out

MONTREAL (CP)—Leo Dandurand, one of Montreal's most widely known sportsmen, said Tuesday he will retire as president of Montreal Alouettes Football Club next March.

Dandurand, 68, said he thinks younger shoulders should take over the load.

He said he will still retain some connection with the club but at present doesn't know just what it will be.

Dandurand has twice headed the Alouettes. He was president when the present Big Four League club was formed in Montreal in 1946 and he had a hand in giving the club its new name—Alouettes. The club immediately preceding it was known as the Hornets.

Dandurand reorganized the set-up and remained as president until 1951, when Montreal businessmen took over. Dandurand was back again in 1954, when another reorganization came about and Ted Workman, young Montreal businessman, bought controlling interest and became vice-president. Dandurand was named president.

In his earlier days Dandurand was a prominent figure in the National Hockey League as owner of Montreal Canadiens. With Joe Cattarachi, Dandurand bought Canadiens in 1921 for $11,000. They sold out in 1935 to the Canadian Arena Company, present owners, for $165,000.

Dandurand said there is no disagreement between him and his Alouette associates. He recalled that last June in Toronto he told newspaper men he would be stepping out as Alouette president next March, when the club's fiscal year ends.

THAT'S ARMY VS. NAVY

There's Really Only One Big Game

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP)—They sat there together, the picture soldier and the lynx-eyed sea-dog, and as they looked back into the past you knew what the Army-Navy game means to these irrepressible forces around the world and aboard all the fighting ships at sea.

"The one that sticks in my mind," said Lt. Gen. Gar Davidson, superintendent of the U.S. Military Academy, "was a dark one,
